Value Realization from Efficient Software Deployment Alex Louwe Kooijmans,Anshu Kak,Shaun A. Crain,Andrej Crepinsek,Venkata Gadepalli,Ian Hall,IBM Redbooks,2011-10-25 Many companies have a complex process for purchasing software that is required by IT projects or better by the business Usually software is purchased by a centralized procurement function and is either purchased on a project by project basis or as a large periodic software contract Unfortunately purchasing software products does not automatically mean that these products are exploited throughout the organization providing the maximum possible value to the business units Several issues call for a structured approach that gets the most business value out of software already purchased The objectives of this approach are to Create maximum awareness throughout the organization of the software purchased Track software use in IT projects and act if products are not used at all used improperly or insufficiently used Facilitate use of software products in projects especially when software products are complex and require a lot of integration We can summarize the overall objective of this approach as ensuring that the business units in an organization obtain the maximum possible value of software products purchased which is also the scope of this IBM Redbooks publication Automated Application Delivery with OpenStack Heat Patterns Claudio Tagliabue,Esteban Arias,Ashok Iyengar,John L Hatfield,IBM Redbooks,2016-11-21 This IBM Redpaper™ publication focuses on demonstrating how to build deploy and manage OpenStack Heat Patterns on IBM PureApplication Systems This paper addresses the topic of automated application deployment and delivery through patterns In particular it focuses on patterns based on open source technologies primarily OpenStack Encyclopedia of Portal Technologies and Applications Tatnall, Arthur,2007-04-30 Informatique The Publishers Weekly ,2004 A Manager's Primer on e-Networking Dragan Nikolic,2012-09-10 The implementation of Enterprise Networks or e Networking is of paramount importance for organisations Enterprise wide networking would warrant that the components of information architecture are organised to harness more out of the organisation s computing power on the desktop This would also involve establishment of networks that link the various but important subsystems of the enterprise Our firm belief is that in order to gain a competitive edge the organisations need knowledge and sound strategy This conviction is particularly true today considering the pressures from international competition environmental concerns and complicated ethical issues This book entitled A Manager s Primer on e Networking negotiates the hyper dimensions of the Internet through stories from myriad of Web sites with its fluent presentation and simple but chronological organisation of topics highlighting numerous opportunities and providing a solid starting point not only for inexperienced entrepreneurs and managers but anyone interested in applying information technology in the business I sincerely hope the book will help as well many small and medium size companies and organisations to launch corporate networking successfully in order to attain their strategic objectives Rajiv Jayashankar Ph D
