then shifts to the early years of Tabei's life and reflects on her countryside childhood as a frail girl with no talent for sport and cultural expectations that ignored her passion for mountains. With reminiscences of the early days of female climbers on Everest, the deaths of fellow mountaineers, Tabei's pursuit of Mount Tomur, a cancer diagnosis, and efforts to restore a love for nature in the surviving youth of the Fukushima earthquake and tsunami that hit Japan in 2011, this beautifully curated collection of essays captures the essence of a notable time and the strength of character of one of the 20th and 21st centuries' female mountaineering pioneers. Friends in High Places Douglas Frantz, David McKean, 1995. For more than forty years, Clark Clifford was Washington's consummate Democratic power broker, attorney, and adviser to the nation's most influential leaders. His 1991 memoir Counsel to the President looked back on a remarkable career of public service. But the very year his autobiography was published, the Clifford legend began to crumble. Caught up in the scandal that destroyed the Bank of Credit and Commerce International, the eighty-five-year-old Clifford was arrested on charges relating to his law firm's involvement with the outlaw bank. Though his case never went to trial and his protégé Robert Altman was found not guilty, Clifford's reputation was in ruins. How could such a man come to such an end? What happened? And why? In Friends in High Places, a noted investigative reporter and a chief investigator in the Senate inquiry on BCCI provide the answers. Drawing on original documents, more than a hundred interviews with Clifford's friends and adversaries, and fifty hours of interviews with Clifford himself, the authors reveal the drive and shrewdness that led Clifford to the pinnacle of power and demonstrate convincingly that his involvement with BCCI was no aberration but the bitter fruit of seeds planted at the beginning. Dr. William Smith's Dictionary of the Bible William Smith, 1888
