Annual Report New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences,1920 Universal Service: The high-cost fund United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Telecommunications and the Internet,2006 Historical Cost Growth of Completed Weapon System Programs Mark V. Arena,2006 This report is one of a series from a RAND Project AIR FORCE project The Cost of Future Military Aircraft Historical Cost Estimating Relationships and Cost Reduction Initiatives The purpose of the project is to improve the tools used to estimate the costs of future weapon systems It focuses on how recent technical management and government policy changes affect cost This report focuses on the accuracy of cost estimates For our analysis we used a very specific sample of Selected Acquisition Report SAR data namely only programs that are complete or are nearly so The analysis indicates a systematic bias toward underestimating the costs and substantial uncertainty in estimating the final cost of a weapon system In contrast to the previous literature the cost growth was higher than previously observed We also found few correlations with cost growth but observed that programs with longer duration had greater cost growth and electronics programs tended to have lower cost growth Although there were some differences in the mean cost growth factors among the military departments the differences were not statistically significant While newer programs appear to have lower cost growth this trend appears to be due to factors other than acquisition policies Plant Ecology in a Changing World James R. Ehleringer,Russell K. Monson,2025-06-30 Today global changes and human activities affect plants within each of the world s ecosystems Plant Ecology in a Changing World provides a foundation for understanding how the changes underway impact structure and function in the world s major biomes while also describing how evolution has resulted in the biochemical physiological structural and life history features that shaped plants and their capacities to persist across widely contrasting environments This textbook is designed for undergraduate students and graduate students as well to serve as a resource for climate change and ecosystem scientists seeking a foundation on the principles of plant ecology and the basis of plant adaptations While many textbooks focus primarily on natural ecosystems Plant Ecology in a Changing World also recognizes the ecological importance of invasive managed and urban ecosystems and of the ways in which ecosystems are already being impacted by both human activities and a warming planet Key features Replete with 450 figures that help to elucidate concepts and charts to clearly present key data Boxes within chapters allow those who wish to delve into more advanced aspects of topics and of those key methodological approaches used to quantify processes Highlights of key plant ecologists and of their contributions Each chapter concludes with a bulleted summary enabling students to recap the key points of the chapter Each chapter comes with both a list of references as well as with suggested readings allowing the student to expand their knowledge on a particular topic Associated with the book is an array of supplementary materials These are available and constantly updated at <http://plantecology.org> site FCC Record United States.
