Fire Of Tarunan:

Fire of Tarunan Shirley Ouw, 2001 Nineteen years have passed since the birth of Yurin's younger son rovir. In the prevailing atmosphere of political rapport between the Domain of Mars and the Federacy of Earth after years of the Undeclared War, a probe is received from Orae with a message: a desperate cry for help. Eager to do his father's bidding, accompanied by a team of experts and diplomats, rovir undertakes a mission back to Orae. He embarks on a journey of rediscovery of his ancestors' planet: a changed world of savage Rebel justice, ruined lands, and tense co-existence among human Colonists, Grarken, and Rl n. Where unknown to all, a sinister force of the past abides. Here, rovir must confront the demons of his untold past, or else internecine war will consume Orae in this fiery conclusion of the Tarunan saga. The Curse of the Enchanted Elements Gwendolyn Van Den Eynde, 2019-02-18 Abida has always felt alienated in the human world. When the eldest makes a capital mistake, the pieces of the puzzle finally fit. Donovan is a mere survivor down to earth, no sentimental bullocks needed as far as he is concerned. Then he meets Abida. Their pacifistic mission is reinforced and unfolds in mysterious ways. Who would have thought that the search for something small would result in something so grand. This is a sensational fantasy story. Vegetation Fires and Pollution in Asia Krishna Prasad Vadrevu, Toshimasa Ohara, Chris Justice, 2023-05-30 Vegetation fires are prevalent in several regions of the world, including South Southeast Asia. S SEA fire occurrence and spread are influenced by fuel type, topography, climate, weather, and lightning, among others. In S SEA, human-initiated fires are responsible for most of the incidents, in addition to natural factors. Through biomass burning, vegetation fires can emit large quantities of greenhouse gases and air pollutants such as CO₂, CO, NO_x, CH₄, non-methane hydrocarbons, and other chemical species, including aerosols, that can affect air quality and health at both local and regional scales. Moreover, biomass burning pollutants can travel long distances and impact regional climate. Therefore, quantifying vegetation fires and their impacts is critical at different spatial scales. This book includes contributions from renowned researchers from the USA and South Southeast Asia on various fire-related topics. The contributions resulted from several international meetings and workshops organized in Asia as part of the South Southeast Asia Research Initiative (SARI) under the NASA Land Cover Land Use Change Program. The book is divided into three sections, each containing multiple contributions: a) Mapping, Monitoring, and Modeling of Vegetation Fires; b) Greenhouse Gas Emissions and Air Pollution; and c) Air Pollution Modeling and Decision Support Systems. These sections are preceded by an introductory chapter by the editors that highlights the latest satellite-derived fire statistics and the current fire situation in S SEA. This book will be a valuable resource for remote sensing scientists, geographers, ecologists, atmospheric climate environmental scientists, including policymakers, and all who wish to advance their knowledge on vegetation fires and emissions in South Southeast Asia.
