Laugh Your Fat Off:

Laugh Your Fat Off Toni Terman, 2003-04-25 The House of Torchy Sewell Ford, 2019-12-19 In The House of Torchy Sewell Ford crafts a vibrant narrative set against the backdrop of early 20th century America. The novel unfolds through the lens of its charismatic protagonist Torchy Blane, an unconventional reporter whose quick wit and resourcefulness lead her into the heart of various adventures. Employing a blend of humor and pathos, Ford's prose reflects the socio-cultural transformations of the time, encapsulating the spirit of the Roaring Twenties while exploring deeper themes of gender, ambition, and the pursuit of truth. The lively dialogue and sequential episodes offer an engaging reading experience, positioning the book as a notable entry in the genre of early American detective fiction. Sewell Ford, an American author and humorist, drew inspiration from his extensive experiences in the literary and entertainment industries. His background as a newspaper columnist deeply influenced his writing style and thematic choices, raising the authenticity of his depiction of meticulous investigative work blended with humor. Ford's keen observations of societal norms likely fueled his portrayal of a strong female lead in a period where women's roles were evolving. The House of Torchy is a delightful read that combines sharp wit with an engaging plot, appealing to fans of historical fiction and mystery alike. Ford's mastery of character development and dialogue invites readers to invest emotionally in Torchy's escapades. Readers seeking an entertaining exploration of gender dynamics and societal challenges of the early 1900s will find themselves enchanted by Ford's beloved creation.

My Father's Fighter Ronald K. Fried, 2015-12-08 In My Father's Fighter, Vincent Rosen, a 35-year-old Manhattan English teacher, inherits the management of a prizefighter from his father. The fighter is Mickey Davis, a white light heavyweight contender with a doomed air, a reputation for dirty fighting, and plenty of neuroses and sexual obsessions. With his Ivy League education and bookish nature, Vincent does not share his father's passion for boxing yet is slowly seduced by the fighting world. This is a comic tale that moves from the privileged Upper East Side to the down and out bars of Las Vegas.

Bruiser Ian Chora, 2004-03-23 BRUISER is the story and the nickname of a nine-year-old boy living in a highly dysfunctional family in the 1970s, a bit like The Ice Storm on the Upper West Side, whose search for meaning and answers leads him to the open road and eventually the seeds of wisdom. Through the limitations of a young boy's awareness, we see the deteriorating marriage of his distant father and struggling mother and the effects of their conflicts on Bruiser and his two older brothers.

The disjunction between his literal misinterpretations which often contain an emotional truth and our adult understanding of the circumstances creates the tension that runs throughout the novel Bruiser has a kindred spirit in Darla the precocious daughter in an already broken home who lives across the alleyway As the tension mounts in each household Darla conceives of a plan for the two of them that takes Bruiser on the most frightening and illuminating journey of his life and one that will have tragic consequences The House of Torchy Sewell Ford,1918 George Cruikshank's Omnibus George Cruikshank,1842 Laughing Matters Sharon May,2008-11 I think my mom must have skipped her prenatal vitamins the day my fetal chromosomes for domesticity were forming The only thing domestic about me is that I m housebroken usually
