The Exploitation of Plant Resources in Ancient Africa Marijke van der Veen,2013-06-29 This volume presents a completely new and very substantial body of information about the origin of agriculture and plant use in Africa All the evidence is very recent and for the first time all this archaeobotanical evidence is brought together in one volume at present the information is unpublished or published in many disparate journals conference reports monographs site reports etc Early publications concerned with the origins of African plant domestication relied almost exclusively on inferences made from the modern distribution of the wild progenitors of African cultivars there existed virtually no archaeobotanical data at that time Even as recently as the early 1990s direct evidence for the transition to farming and the relative roles of indigenous versus Near Eastern crops was lacking for most of Africa This volume changes that and presents a wide range of exciting new evidence including case studies from Nigeria Burkina Faso Ethiopia Uganda Egypt and Sudan which range in date from 8000 BP to the present day The volume addresses topics such as the role of wild plant resources in

Eldredge, 2014-10-30 This scholarly account traces the emergence of the Zulu Kingdom in South Africa in the early nineteenth century under the rule of the ambitious and iconic King Shaka In contrast to recent literary analyses of myths of Shaka this book uses the richness of Zulu oral traditions and a comprehensive body of written sources to provide a compelling narrative and analysis of the events and people of the era of Shaka's rule The oral traditions portray Shaka as rewarding courage and loyalty and punishing failure as ordering the targeted killing of his own subjects both warriors and civilians to ensure compliance to his rule and as arrogant and shrewd but kind to the poor and mentally disabled The rich and diverse oral traditions transmitted from generation to generation reveal the important roles and fates of men and women royal and subject from the perspectives of those who experienced Shaka's rule and the dramatic emergence of the Zulu Kingdom An Exposition of the Old Testament, 1819 Africa: A History Alvin M. Josephy, 2016-09-06 Most of us still know less about Africa's past and peoples than we do about the continent's wild animals And what we do know is colored by romance safaris and treks and camel caravans Solomon's mine and Tutankhamun's curse the shores of Tripoli and the snows of Kilimanjaro Yet the ancestor of all humankind may have lived in Africa The world's longest lived literate civilization was African Through the ages great civilizations rose and fell in what was once called darkest Africa leaving behind mysterious fortresses and splendid art Christianity and Islam battled age old beliefs and each other Traders on camels were followed by explorers in caravels and by a plague of invaders hungry for ivory and diamonds and the black gold of slavery In just the last half century independence has swept away the old maps and colonial ways to jar the balance of the world Here is Africa's story The Chamber of Commerce Journal, 1929 The Kingdom of Waalo Boubacar Barry, 2017-10-26 Situated along the Senegal River the Kingdom of Waalo was the smallest of the Wolof states of Senegal but it illustrates the broader consequences of a shift from trans-Saharan to trans-Atlantic commerce during a time of competing European Muslim and indigenous African forces From the establishment of a French trading post in 1659 to the early nineteenth century the history of Waalo was closely tied to French interests in St Louis popular revolutionary Islamic movements and internal rivalries between competing royal families and provincial leaders Stimulating Waalo's socio-political changes were the devastations and fluctuations of the Atlantic slave trade as well as the Muslim attack on its aristocracy Torn by internal divisions devastated by French and Berber incursions Waalo's institutions and its economy declined Residents of Waalo sought their own solutions only for external agents to ruin their efforts By the nineteenth century the French attempted to establish a plantation economy in Waalo culminating in their military control of the state and the Senegal valley This newly translated study is a vital tool in our understanding of Senegal's history its place in the era of trans
