A Question of Honor. A Novel Christian Reid, 2024-03-08 Reprint of the original first published in 1875 The Victorian Verse-novel Stefanie Markovits, 2017 The Victorian Verse Novel Aspiring to Life considers the rise of a hybrid generic form the verse novel in the second half of the nineteenth century Such poems combined epic length with novelistic plots in the attempt to capture not a heroic past but the quotidian present Victorian verse novels also tended to be rough mixed their narrative sections interspersed with shorter lyrical verses in varied measures In flouting the rules of contemporary genre theory which saw poetry as the purview of the eternal and ideal and relegated the everyday to the domain of novelistic prose verse novels proved well suited to upsetting other hierarchies as well including those of gender and class The genre's radical energies often emerge from the competition between lyric and narrative drives between the desire for transcendence and the quest to find meaning in what happens next the unusual marriage plots that structure such poems prove crucibles of these rival forces Generic tensions also yield complex attitudes towards time and space the book's first half considers the temporality of love while its second looks at generic geography through the engagement of novels in verse with Europe and the form's transatlantic travels Both well known verse novels Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh Arthur Hugh Clough's Amours de Voyage Coventry Patmore's The Angel in the House and lesser known examples are read closely alongside a few nearly related works Tennyson's Idylls of the King Robert Browning's The Ring and the Book An Afterword traces the verse novel's substantial influence on the modernist novel Cassette Books Library of Congress. The Awkward Age in Women's Popular Fiction, 1850-1900 Sarah Bilston, 2004-07-22 This book demonstrates that the awkward age formed a fault line in Victorian female experience an unusual phase in which restlessness self interest and rebellion were possible Tracing evolving treatments of female adolescence though a host of long forgotten women s fictions the book reveals that representations of the girl in popular women s literature importantly anticipated depictions of the feminist in the fin de si cle New Woman writing conservative portrayals of girls hopes dreams and subsequent frustrations helped clear a literary and cultural space for the New Woman s awakening to disaffected consciousness The book thus both historicises the evolution and mythic appeal of the female adolescent and works to receive suggestive exchanges between apparently diverse female literary traditions

The Cinematic Novel and Postmodern Pop Fiction Décio Torres Cruz, 2019-12-05 D cio Torres Cruz approaches connections between literature and cinema partly through issues of gender and identity and partly through issues of reality and representation In doing so he looks at the various ways in which people have thought of the so called cinematic novel tracing the development of that genre concept not only in the French cin roman and film scenarios but also in novels from the United States England France and Latin America The main tendency he identifies is the blending of the cinematic novel with pop literature through allusions to Pop Art and other postmodern cultural trends His prime exhibits are a number of novels by the Argentinian writer Manuel Puig Betrayed by Rita Hayworth Heartbreak Tango The Buenos Aires Affair Kiss of the Spider Woman and Pubis angelical Bringing in suggestive sociocultural and psychoanalytical considerations Cruz shows how in Puig s hands the cinematic novel resulted in a pop collage of different texts films discourses and narrative devices which fused reality and imagination into dream and desire
