Vogler, 2016-03-10 Industrialized housing has been a common phenomenon in the building industry since the industrial revolution the casting of iron components enabled Victorian iron casters to prefabricate entire buildings and to export them to all British colonies It got a second boost from Modernist architects like Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Walter Gropius and Konrad Wachsmann and a third boost in the US when the soldiers came back from the Second World War in 1945 and wanted to buy a ready made house In the later decades of the 20th century composite prototypes were built Timber frame houses are extremely popular in low density areas worldwide For densely populated areas housing is now firmly attached to reinforced concrete The contracting industries have developed efficient building methods for the concrete structures on which separate systems of claddings are fixed to form a house However in the coming decades designers builders and scientists also have to keep the environment in mind working with a minimal amount of materials and for minimizing embodied energy and energy use In the coming age minimal embodied energy and low ecological footprints are renewed values that will be added to energy positive housing and that will have an influence on the building technology of the future This will lead to a reformation of the building vocabulary Other materials will have to be chosen and developed to function in building elements and components Old-House Journal ,2003-07 Old House Journal is the original magazine devoted to restoring and preserving old houses For more than 35 years our mission has been to help old house owners repair restore update and decorate buildings of every age and architectural style Each issue explores hands on restoration techniques practical architectural guidelines historical overviews and homeowner stories all in a trusted authoritative voice

Prefabricated Systems Ulrich Knaack, Sharon Chung-Klatte, Reinhard Hasselbach, 2012-12-13 For a number of years modular construction the use of prefabricated elements in architecture has once again become a subject of lively discussion and debate Long written off as monotonous today s building components are actually highly differentiated and capable of supporting and enhancing the architect s creativity Numerous structures work with prefabricated components for single family homes the figure is ninety eight percent and modular systems are available that meet high aesthetic standards This book provides an overview of the various different systems and their possible uses particularly in the areas of housing office and industrial buildings It explains the processes and components of modular construction and the behavior of the various materials when this construction approach is used The authors offer strategies for planning and designing with prefabricated systems so that the architect can use them productively Numerous drawings explain the principles of modular construction while built examples forge a link between those principles and the practical activity of building Hampton's Olde Wythe The Olde Wythe Neighborhood Association, 2014-09-09 While the Olde Wythe neighborhood in Hampton looks like many of the picturesque communities in America its past is one all its own The area s namesake George Wythe was a signer of the Declaration of Independence a delegate to the Constitutional Convention and a man opposed to slavery who freed his own slaves and suffered arsenic poisoning for his position Olde Wythe battled a British invasion during the War of 1812 and witnessed intense ironclad battles fought near its shores during the Civil War Join the Olde Wythe Neighborhood Association as it presents the colorful and harrowing history of Hampton s Olde Wythe House Beautiful ,1983 Washington on Foot, Fifth Edition John J.
