Educational Governance And Administration:

Educational Governance and Administration Thomas J. Sergiovanni, 1980 Educational Governance and Administration Thomas J. Sergiovanni, 1992 Demands constraints and choices have always shaped the decision making character of educational administration Only the content of demands constraints and choices change with the times Enduring public values such as equity efficiency choice and excellence are examined historically and currently as prime influences on school policy This book introduces readers to both school governance and administration in education It provides a balanced overview of the development of thought in educational administration providing readers with a realistic view of the promises and pitfalls of professionalism in administration It also includes a realistic treatment of the nature of administrative work and takes a problem solving approach There is an exhaustive discussion of financial and legal problems that serves as a background for a discussion of issues An important theme that runs throughout the book is how conflicting values influence educational governance and administration School administrators principals and school committee members

Educational Governance and Administration ,1980 Educational Governance and Administration in Japan Shōgo Ichikawa, 1989 Challenging the One Best System Katrina E. Bulkley, Julie A. Marsh, Katharine O. Strunk, Douglas N. Harris, Ayesha K. Hashim, 2021-02-04 In Challenging the One Best System a team of leading education scholars offers a rich comparative analysis of the set of urban education governance reforms collectively known as the portfolio management model They investigate the degree to which this model a system of schools operating under different types of governance and with different degrees of autonomy challenges the standard structure of district governance famously characterized by David Tyack as the one best system The authors examine the design and enactment of the portfolio management model in three major cities New Orleans Los Angeles and Denver They identify the five interlocking mechanisms at the core of the model planning and oversight choice autonomy human capital and school supports and show how these are implemented differently in each city Using rich qualitative data from extensive interviews the authors trace the internal tensions and tradeoffs that characterize these systems and highlight the influence of historical and contextual factors as well Most importantly they question whether the portfolio management model represents a fundamental restructuring of education governance or more incremental change and whether it points in the direction of meaningful improvement in school practices Drawing on a rigorous multimethod study Challenging the One Best System represents a significant contribution to our understanding of system level change in education Asia Pacific Education Venesser Fernandes, Philip Wing Keung Chan, 2018-12-01 The Asia Pacific region has rich and unique traditions cultural diversity and common as well as unique challenges including obstacles of language and geographical separation As home to over 60 per cent of the world s population this region has a diverse range of educational issues which have not as yet been fully explored This ground breaking volume considers current perspectives on educational diversity challenges and changes occurring across a number of countries in the region and
