Educational Interpreting For Deaf Studen:

Best Practices in Educational Interpreting Brenda Chafin Seal,1998 Over 22 000 deaf and hard of hearing students are currently enrolled in local school programs where their access to the language of learning is dependent on an interpreter As a discipline educational interpreting has developed quickly without precedent The need for a practical guide to the many issues and practices required to provide optimum access is finally met with this book This book is a comprehensive overview of the process of interpreting in educational settings Readers will understand the changing needs of the hearing impaired person as s he moves from primary school through college It is applicable to interpreters who use sign language cued speech and oral interpreting An excellent resource for anyone working with deaf and hearing impaired students including interpreters regular teachers parents speech language pathologists and deaf educators A Longwood Professional Book

Educational Interpreting Elizabeth A. Winston,2004 This incisive book explores the current state of educational interpreting and how it is failing deaf students The contributors all renowned experts in their field include former educational interpreters teachers of deaf students interpreter trainers and deaf recipients of interpreted educations Educational Interpreting presents the salient issues in three distinct sections Part 1 focuses on deaf students their perspectives on having interpreters in the classroom the language myths that surround them the accessibility of language to them and their cognition Part 2 raises questions about the support and training that interpreters receive from the school systems the qualifications that many interpreters bring to an interpreted education and the accessibility of everyday classrooms for deaf students placed in such environments Part 3 presents a few of the possible suggestions for addressing the concerns of interpreted educations and focuses primarily on the interpreter The contributors discuss the need to 1 define the core knowledge and skills interpreters must have and 2 develop standards of practice and assessment They also stress that interpreters cannot effect the necessary changes alone unless and until administrators parents teachers and students recognize the inherent issues of access to education through mediation little will change for deaf students Educational

Through interviews and observations of three deaf of deaf high school students who experience both direct and mediated instruction the perceptions of school engagement were examined Deaf student participants in this study exhibit a resigned fatalistic it is what it is perspective on the educational interpreting services they receive in their mainstream classes however choose to remain in the setting in order to be exposed to the hearing world Findings indicate that the policy and practice of educational interpreters does not support the full educational engagement of signing deaf students in mediated classrooms

Abstract      Educational Interpreters for Deaf Students ,2005      Sign Language Interpreting and Interpreter Education

Marc Marschark,Rico Peterson,Elizabeth A. Winston,Patricia Sapere,Carol M. Convertino,Rosemarie Seewagen,Christine Monikowski,2005-04-14 More the 1 46 million people in the United States have hearing losses in sufficient severity to be considered deaf another 21 million people have other hearing impairments For many deaf and hard of hearing individuals sign language and voice interpreting is essential to their participation in educational programs and their access to public and private services However there is less than half the number of interpreters needed to meet the demand interpreting quality is often variable and there is a considerable lack of knowledge of factors that contribute to successful interpreting Perhaps it is not surprising then that a study by the National Association of the Deaf NAD found that 70% of the deaf individuals are dissatisfied with interpreting quality Because recent legislation in the United States and elsewhere has mandated access to educational employment and other contexts for deaf individuals and others with hearing disabilities there is an increasing need for quality sign language interpreting It is in education however that the need is most pressing particularly because more than 75% of deaf students now attend regular schools rather than schools for the deaf where teachers and classmates are unable to sign for themselves In the more than 100 interpreter training programs in the U S alone there are a variety of educational models but little empirical information on how to evaluate them or determine their appropriateness in different interpreting and interpreter education covering what we know what we do not know and what we should know Several volumes have covered interpreting and interpreter education there are even some published dissertations that have included a single research study and a few books have attempted to offer methods for professional interpreters or interpreter educators with nods to existing research This is the first volume that synthesizes existing work and provides a coherent picture of the field as a whole including evaluation of the extent to which current practices are supported by validating research It will be the first comprehensive source suitable as both a reference book and a textbook for interpreter training programs and a variety of courses on bilingual education psycholinguistics and translation and cross linguistic studies
