Goldsmith, John Komlos, Penny Schine Gold, 2010-04-15 Is a career as a professor the right choice for you If you are a graduate student how can you clear the hurdles successfully and position yourself for academic employment What s the best way to prepare for a job interview and how can you maximize your chances of landing a job that suits you What happens if you don t receive an offer How does the tenure process work and how do faculty members cope with the multiple and conflicting day to day demands With a perpetually tight job market in the traditional academic fields the road to an academic career for many aspiring scholars will often be a rocky and frustrating one Where can they turn for good frank answers to their questions Here three distinguished scholars with more than 75 years of combined experience talk openly about what s good and what s not so good about academia as a place to work and a way of life Written as an informal conversation among colleagues the book is packed with inside information about finding a mentor avoiding pitfalls when writing a dissertation negotiating the job listings and much more The three authors distinctive opinions and strategies offer the reader multiple perspectives on typical problems With rare candor and insight they talk about such tough issues as departmental politics dual career marriages and sexual harassment Rounding out the discussion are short essays that offer the inside track on financing graduate education publishing the first book and leaving academia for the corporate world This helpful guide is for anyone who has ever wondered what the fascinating and challenging world of academia might hold in store Part I Becoming a Scholar Deciding on an Academic Career Entering Graduate School The Mentor Writing a Dissertation Landing an Academic Job Part II The Academic Profession The Life of the Assistant Professor Teaching and Research Tenure Competition in the University System and Outside Offers The Personal Side of Academic Life      The Academic's Guide to Publishing Rob Kitchin, Duncan Fuller, 2005-05-20 the definitive guide to successfully publishing social science research securing a job gaining tenure surviving research assessment exercises and obtaining promotion      Academic Publishing David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2022-10-02 This book focuses on the topic of academic publishing It discusses the mounting serious problems that researchers particularly new researchers encounter when trying to publish their research The book addresses the issues of publishing as well as the salient factors militating against academic publication and the mitigating factors encouraging academic publication It provides potential solutions suggestions and strategies for overcoming some of these problems Growing research output from Southeast Asia including Singapore Malaysia Taiwan and China reveals the struggles that many authors have to confront when attempting to publish their work in reputable journals In both South Africa and other parts of Africa academic researchers are beginning to show strong evidence of credible academic output. These researchers all need valid outlets for their work and the security that authentic peer review brings to the reviewing process. In the fields of education, social sciences and professional practices e.g. architecture and law, recent years have seen the emergence of new outlets for practitioners' research outputs in areas such as one's own practice, self-reflection and narrative inquiry. These outlets are discussed in this book. The book also discusses the malign influence of predatory publications in detail. This book will be beneficial to university academics, postgraduate students, Ph.D. supervisors and new researchers.

Writing For Academic Journals Murray, Rowena, 2013-09-01. This book unravels the process of writing academic papers. It tells readers what good papers look like and how they can be written.

The Handbook of Academic Writing Rowena Murray, Sarah Moore, 2006. Writing is one of the most demanding tasks that academics and researchers face. In some disciplines we learn some of what we need to know to be productive, successful writers, but in other disciplines there is no training, support or mentoring of any kind.

Writing for Academic Journals 4e Rowena Murray, 2019-11-16. This comprehensive guide to writing journal articles addresses all the stages and recurring challenges from targeting a journal to dealing with reviewer feedback. Drawing on many years of running Writing for Publication workshops, Murray explores not only style and structure but also behaviours and emotions. As a key component of both research courses and careers, this timely text also addresses the struggle to make time for high quality academic writing and how to ensure a writing life balance. Examining a variety of approaches relevant to many different academic disciplines, this core text demystifies and defines writing practices and makes this form of high stakes academic writing seem manageable. Writing for journals has never been more competitive and writers, researchers, practitioners and students need expert guidance on productive practices and ways of maintaining focus and motivation which Murray provides. This latest edition is completely updated and more relevant than ever for clinicians, practitioners and students. This book was already a classic but the update makes it even more useful. From finding time to write, doing a short literature review and identifying scam journals, Rowena Murray provides an excellent, concise and accessible companion for writing academic journal papers which is appropriate for both students and working academics. Associate Professor Inger Mewburn, Director of Research Training, The Australian National University, Australia. Rowena Murray has approached publishing in a journal with scientific rigour. Following this book's recommendations will make it impossible to find a convincing excuse for failure to publish. She herself writes with a high level of artisanal skill; this book is fast-paced, stylish and highly readable. Her own extensive experience in supporting journal article writers tempers this book with the credibility of a seasoned veteran. Best of all, there is a wealth of wisdom here in advising on how to publish. Murray is also advising on how to live a satisfying life as a writer. Associate Professor Susan Carter, University of Auckland, New Zealand. In Writing for Academic Journals 4th edition, Rowena Murray's voice is direct.

down to earth and wise Drawing on a depth of practical experience as both published author and writing teacher she conveys the message that yes publishing in academic journals is demanding but it s also very possible And that once you are successful there is still much to be learned from reading books like this one and hanging out with others in writing groups and workshops To that end the book is a trove of tips and techniques helpful to all who pursue the challenging craft of good academic writing Barbara Grant Associate Professor in the School of Critical Studies in Education at the University of Auckland New Zealand and author of Academic writing retreats A facilitator s uide Self-publishing Textbooks and Instructional Materials Franklin H.
