Insights and Outrights Roy Holland,1989 The Nowhere Man Roy Holland,2008 A young man in Birmingham in the sixties escapes the humdrum mundanity of life through fantasies tries to find himself and finally escapes his dead end lifestyle by gaining a place at a university Journey Towards Himself Roy Holland,2008-07 A hilarious evocation of life as a student at Cambridge University in the sixties shortly after the time of such notable figures as F R Leavis C S Lewis and E M Forster Now Lead Me Home Roy Holland,2008-07 In this third book of the Jonathan Three the experiences conveyed by the protagonist s stream of consciousness place the reader in the mind of the young man who eventually finds real love and meaning in a fulfilling relationship Philosophical Incursions into English Literature John Laird,2014-10-23 Originally published in 1946 this book examines the works of eleven different English authors through a philosophical lens Laird who spent the war re reading English literature reveals the underlying philosophy of several English classics including several Shakespearian plays Robinson Crusoe and Thomas Hardy s The Dynasts This book will be of value to anyone with an interest in the philosophical analysis of literature The Junior Bookshelf ,1981 News from Parched Mountain Roy Holland,2000-10-23 In these stories which make an important contribution to the literary heritage of South Africa we have a kind of marriage between P G du Plessis and Herman Charles Bosman The style is eloquent the picaresque characters unique and typical at the same time The writer manages within the limited space of a short story to print a picture of his characters physical attributes as well as their personality traits There are a number of stories that tell why certain people are the way they are The content and the style of writing give the stories a delightful South African flavour in the evocative use of appropriate figurative language and symbolism There is a good balance between narration and dialogue Settings where necessary are vividly described especially the arid landscape the farms and the vegetation The stories are all the more interesting and topical for their pithy comment on the ills of modern society and the allusions to problems in the New South Africa They make compelling reading for the outcome of each is invariably unexpected The author has written a quartette of stories the other three titles of the quartette being Pivot of Violence Tales of the New South Africa Flakes of Dark and Light Tales From Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Just a Bit Touched Tales of Perspective All make a very vivid and lasting impression Flakes of Dark and Light Roy Holland,2001-02-28 The title Flakes of Dark and Light is evocative of the sharp flakes of insight and colour which characterise these tales The tales in the first part mostly depict an African setting and in fact are more recent often suggesting the climate of change and violence that has gripped southern Africa in the last two decades The stories in the second part were inspired by a more English tradition and in fact capture the climate of change that brooded over life during the Thirties and the war years A contemporary of Ted Hughes and with many of his stories set in the depressed sometimes seedy England of the Thirties and Forties which Graham Greene depicted in his early novels its not surprising that Roy Hollands images and sentences are like flakes that cut like broken glass A true artist he does not take sides but holds up a mirror to show life as it is or was whether in a pre war England or an Africa ravaged by drought and violence His tales are snapshots truthful sometimes startling of two quite distinct cultures However disparate they may seem one is invariably aware of an underlying tenderness and sympathetic vision in the portrayal of character regardless of race or background that binds them together Just a Bit Touched Roy

Holland, 2000-12 The title for this volume was suggested by a remark of the narrator in the opening paragraph of the first story The Arcadian They're just a bit touched bonkers like While the characters might appear a bit touched each tale is touched by its own perspective since each reflects the point of view of its unique narrator So often the England of the Thirties or Forties is seen through the eyes of a child so that Dickens like the foibles and characteristics of the adult world appear larger than life These early stories are interesting too for the historical perspective they give us of an Andy Capp industrial society long since gone There are other stories written from the perspective of the Fifties the two stories dealing with motor cars The Elephant and Egging on add a more amusing perspective of a time when petrol was dear and neighbours more than a bit touched by curiosity The stories written in Africa with its latent social change Victims for instance add a more violent perspective though hilarity is introduced by the expatriot in It Was A Very Sad Case who seems more than a bit touched by his paranoia The author has written a quartette of stories the other three titles of the quartette being News from Parched Mountain Tales from the Karoo in the new South Africa Flakes of Dark and Light Tales From Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Pivot of Violence Tales from the new South Africa All make a very vivid and lasting impression Pivot of Violence Roy Holland, 2000 In these stories which make an important contribution to the literary heritage of South Africa the author brings together the atmosphere of violence and change that broods over the harsh world of the old Apartheid South Africa and which still threatens the stability of the New South Africa Perspectives of both white and black are explored perspectives of the victims rather than the oppressors where the victims are from both sides of the cultural divide But the harsh realities are ameliorated by a vein of sympathetic insight sometimes by a gentle comedy such as that which portrays a pipe smoking priest or by a tongue in cheek satire as is found in the tale of a well to do white woman who is methodically and meticulously covered by her lover's semen The author has written a quartette of stories the other three titles of the quartette being News from Parched Mountain Tales from the Karoo in the new South Africa Flakes of Dark and Light Tales From Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Just a Bit Touched Tales of Perspective All make a very vivid and lasting impression

New Coin Poetry, 1990 The Waking & Making of Paul Gauguin Roy Holland, 2008 It was during his illness in 1887 when Gauguin was 39 years old that the battle dramatised in this play a battle imagined in his body and in his mind and in his moral nature could have taken place Alan Paton Speaking Roy Holland, 2008-08 This interview with Alan Paton by Roy Holland has never until now been published The interview took place on June 19 and June 20 1973 when Holland was a guest in Paton's home Lintrose at Bothas Hill Kloof Natal It provides many insights into Paton's life his political involvement as the founder of the Liberal party in South Africa and his writings International Books in Print ,1987 The Publishers Weekly ,1970 Unity ,1908 The African Book Publishing Record ,1991 Indo-English Literature Kaushal Kishore Sharma,1977 Perspectives on Mulk Raj Anand Kaushal Kishore Sharma,1978 Articles assessing the works of an Indian novelist Creative Aspects of Indian English S.
