Mobberley,2012-12-06 Amateur astronomy has changed beyond recognition in less than two decades The reason is of course technology Affordable high quality telescopes computer controlled go to mountings autoguiders CCD cameras video and as always computers and the Internet are just a few of the advances that have revolutionized astronomy for the twenty first century Martin Mobberley first looks at the basics before going into an in depth study of what s available commercially He then moves on to the revolutionary possibilities that are open to amateurs from imaging through spectroscopy and photometry to patrolling for near earth objects the search for comets and asteroids that may come close to or even hit the earth The New Amateur Astronomer is a road map of the new astronomy equally suitable for newcomers who want an introduction or old hands who need to keep abreast of innovations From the reviews This is one of several dozen books in Patrick Moore s Practical Astronomy series Amid this large family Mobberley finds his niche the beginning high tech amateur The book s first half discusses equipment computer driven telescopes CCD cameras imaging processing software etc This market is changing every bit as rapidly as the computer world so these details will be current for only a year or two The rest of the book offers an overview of scientific projects that serious amateurs are carrying out these days Throughout basic formulas and technical terms are provided as needed without formal derivations An appendix with useful references and Web sites is also included Readers will need more than this book if they are considering a plunge into high tech amateur astronomy but it certainly will whet their appetites Mobberley s most valuable advice will save the book s owner many times its cover price buy a quality telescope from a reputable dealer and install it in a simple shelter so it can be used with as little set up time as possible A poor purchase choice and the hassle of setting up are why most fancy telescopes gather dust in their owners dens Summing Up Highly recommended General readers lower and upper division undergraduates T D Oswalt CHOICE March 2005

Dreams of Flight Janet Rose Daly Bednarek,Michael H. Bednarek,2003 General aviation encompasses all the ways aircraft are used beyond commercial and military flying private flights barnstormers cropdusters and so on Authors Janet and Michael Bednarek have taken on the formidable task of discussing the hundred year history of this broad and diverse field by focusing on the most important figures and organizations in general aviation and the major producers of general aviation aircraft and engines This history examines the many airplanes used in general aviation from early Wright and Curtiss aircraft to the Piper Cub and the Lear Jet The authors trace the careers of birdmen birdwomen barnstormers and others who shaped general aviation from Clyde Cessna and the Stinson family of San Antonio to Olive Ann Beech and Paul Poberezny of Milwaukee They explain how the development of engines influenced the development of aircraft from the E 107 that powered the 1929 Aeronca C 2 the first affordable personal aircraft to the Continental A 40 that powered the Piper Cub and the Pratt and Whitney PT 6 turboprop used on many aircraft after World War II In addition the authors chart the boom and bust cycle of general aviation manufacturers the rising costs and increased regulations that have accompanied a decline in pilots the creation of an influential general aviation lobby in Washington and the growing popularity of type clubs created to maintain aircraft whose average age is twenty eight years This book provides readers with a sense of the scope and richness of the history of general aviation in the United States An epilogue examining the consequences of the terrorist attacks on September 11 2001 provides a cautionary note Digital Presences of Organizations Nathalie Pinède, Luc Massou, Patrick Mpondo-Dicka, 2024-08-13 Organizations communicate in complex and various ways and the context is mainly characterized by the pervasiveness of the digital ecosystem including the Web social networks and the Internet of data However its information delivery cannot overlook the requirements of multicultural communications at a variety of levels Digital Presences of Organizations highlights the communication roadblocks faced by organizations as they emerge arising not only from issues encountered on their own websites but also as they construct online narratives This multi faceted and multi strategy digital presence of organizations is addressed via three main thematic axes The first focuses on differentiated strategies content services interaction that can be observed depending on the types of organizations and their users The second examines the cultural dimension of websites ranging from the local to the global Finally the third focuses on the role of narration in organizations online communication strategies Creating Our Own Zoila S. Mendoza, 2008-01-15 In Creating Our Own anthropologist Zoila S Mendoza explores the early twentieth century development of the folkloric arts particularly music dance and drama in Cuzco Peru revealing the central role that these expressive practices played in shaping ethnic and regional identities Mendoza argues that the folkloric productions emerging in Cuzco in the early twentieth century were integral to rather than only a reflection of the social and political processes underlying the development of the indigenismo movement By demonstrating how Cuzco s folklore emerged from complex interactions between artists and intellectuals of different social classes she challenges the idea that indigenismo was a project of the elites Mendoza draws on early twentieth century newspapers and other archival documents as well as interviews with key artistic and intellectual figures and their descendants She offers vivid descriptions of the Peruvian Mission of Incaic Art a tour undertaken by a group of artists from Cuzco at their own expense to represent Peru to Bolivia Argentina and Uruguay in 1923 24 as well as of the origins in the 1920s of the Qosqo Center of Native Art the first cultural institution dedicated to regional and national folkloric art She highlights other landmarks including both The Charango Hour a radio show that contributed to the broad acceptance of rural Andean music from its debut in 1937 and the rise in that same year of another major cultural institution the American Art Institute of Cuzco Throughout she emphasizes the intricate local regional national and international pressures that combined to produce folkloric art especially the growing importance of national and international tourism in Cuzco Please visit the Web site <http://nas.ucdavis.edu/creatingbook> for samples of the images and music discussed in this book Reporting the First World War A.
