Inmates' Narratives and Discursive Discipline in Prison Jennifer Schlosser, 2015-05-15 The question of what works in offender treatment has dominated the field of prisoner re entry and recidivism research for the last thirty years One of the primary ways the criminal justice system tries to reduce the rates of recidivism among offenders is through the use of cognitive behavioural programs CBP as in prison intervention strategies The emphasis for these programs is on the idea that inmates are in prison because they made poor choices and bad decisions Inmates thinking is characterized as flawed and the purpose of the program is to teach them to think and act in socially appropriate ways so they will be less inclined to return to prison after their release This book delves into the heart of one such cognitive behavioural programme examines its inner workings its effects on inmates narrated experience and considers what happens when a CBP of substandard quality and integrity is used as a gateway for inmates release Based on original empirical research this book provides realistic suggestions for improving policy for reforming current in prison programs engaging in problematic practices and for instituting alternatives that take the needs of the inmates into greater account This book is essential reading for students and academics engaged in the study of sociology criminal justice prisons social policy sentencing and punishment      Cultural Gerontology Lars Andersson,2002-11-30 The concept of culture has gained considerable attention within the humanities and social sciences in general and this is certainly true in the field of gerontology The new perspectives thus gained widen the scope of gerontology In this study chapter authors examine the growth of gerontology as a discipline the phenomenon of ageism as a socio cultural concept identity politics in which older persons are perceived as belonging to a subculture and images of the older body in cultural perspective The manner in which gerontology emerged as a discipline was embedded in culturally defined views of aging that had consequences for how it was seen to vary between cultures One consequence was a perception of ageism as a cultural construction Since the 1980s much of the politics of older people is a form of identity politics in which groups are mobilized to further their interests Questions of cultural meanings ascribed to the gendered aging body is a central question for ageism social identity and self image These questions become especially relevant in confrontations with bodily decline and negotiations of intimacy in institutions for older people      Narrative Criminology Lois Presser,Sveinung Sandberg,2015-07-10 Foreword Narrative criminology as the new mainstream Shadd Maruna Introduction What is the story Lois Presser and Sveinung Sandberg The rapist and the proper criminal the exclusion of immoral others as narrative work on the self Thomas Ugelvik In search of respectability narrative practice in a women s prison in Quito Ecuador Jennifer Fleetwood Gendered narratives of self addiction and recovery among women methamphetamine users Jody Miller Kristin Carbone Lopez and Mikh V Gunderman Moral habilitation and the new normal sexual offender narratives of posttreatment community integration Janice Victor and James B Waldram The race of pale men should increase and multiply religious narratives and Indian removal Robert M Keeton Meeting the Djinn stories of drug use bad trips and addiction Sveinung Sandberg and S bastien Tutenges Telling moments narrative hot spots in accounts of criminal acts Patricia E O Connor The shifting narratives of violent offenders Fiona Brookman Narrative criminology and cultural criminology shared biographies different lives Kester Aspden and Keith J Hayward Narratives of tax evasion the cultural legitimacy of harmful behavior Carlo Tognato Conclusion Where to now Lois Presser and Sveinung Sandberg      Qualitative Research in Social Work Anne E. Fortune, William J. Reid, Robert L. Miller, Jr., 2013-05-21 In this volume progressive experts survey recent trends in qualitative study which relies on small sample groups and interview data to better represent the context and complexity of social work practice Chapters address different approaches to qualitative inquiry applications to essential areas of research and practice integration of qualitative and quantitative methods and epistemological issues This second edition brings even greater depth and relevance to social work qualitative research including new material that tackles traditional research concerns such as data quality ethics and epistemological stances and updated techniques in data collection and analysis To increase the usefulness for students and researchers the editors have reorganized the text to present basic principles first and then their applications and they have increased their focus on ethics values and theory New and revised illustrative studies highlight more than ever the connection between effective research and improved social functioning among individuals and groups The collection continues to feature scholars and practitioners who have shaped the social work research practice canon for more than twenty years while also adding the innovative work of up and coming talent      Duoethnography Joe Norris, Richard D Sawyer, Darren Lund, 2016-09-16 Duoethnography is a collaborative research methodology in which two or more researchers juxtapose their life histories in order to provide multiple understandings of a social phenomenon Using their own biographies as sites of research and creating dialogic narratives they provide multiple perspectives of this phenomenon for the reader inviting the viewer to enter the conversation The dialectic process of creating duoethnography is also designed to be transformative to the writers In this volume two dozen scholars present the first wave of duoethnographic writings on topics as diverse as gender identity and curriculum with the editors framing key tenets of the methodology around the studies presented This participatory emancipatory methodology is of interest to those doing qualitative research and narrative writing in many disciplines      A Narrative Community Chaim Noy, 2006-11-07 An intertextual examination of the storytelling of Israeli backpackers that analyzes their unique patterns of communication to create a thorough picture of this narrative community Backpacking or Tarmila ut has been a time honored rite of passage for young Israelis for decades Shortly after completing their mandatory military service young people set off on extensive backpacking trips to exotic and authentic destinations in so called Third World regions in India Nepal and Thailand in Asia and also Colombia Ecuador Peru Brazil Chile and Argentina in Central and South America Chaim Noy collects the words and stories of Israeli backpackers to explore the lively interplay of quotations constructed dialogues and social voices in the backpackers stories and examine the crucial role they play in creating a vibrant voiced community A Narrative Community illustrates how against the peaks of Mt Everest avalanches and Incan cities the travelers storytelling becomes an inherently social drama of shared knowledge values hierarchy and aesthetics Based on forty five in depth narrative interviews the research in this book examines how

Narrative Productions of Meanings Donileen R. Loseke, 2019-04-08 In Narrative Productions of Meanings Exploring the Work of Stories in Social Life Donileen R Loseke examines the importance of stories in an anti science anti fact era where a multitude of personal social and political problems surround meaning This book s basic argument is that within such a world narrative productions of meaning are particularly important because stories can appeal simultaneously to thinking feeling and moral evaluation and because they can do this in ways that have cultural interactional and personal dimensions This book develops a framework for social science examinations of narrative it outlines relationships between stories storytelling and culture and it explores the characteristics of several types of stories including self stories stories that persuade mass audiences that public resources are required to resolve intolerable conditions and stories that justify the contents of public policy It concludes with relationships between stories and democratic politics In multiple ways this analysis crosses common divides It draws from literature spanning multiple disciplines it treats thinking feeling and moral evaluation as inseparable it bridges cultural and social psychological perspectives and it demonstrates relationships between story structure and the work people do with stories Handbook of Interview Research Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, 2002 The Handbook of Interview Research is the most ambitious attempt yet at examining the place of the interview in contemporary society Interviewing is the predominant mode of research in the social sciences It s also the stock in trade of information seekers in organizations and institutions of all kinds as well as in the mass media Across the board interviews provide today s leading window on the world of experience The Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the interview at the cutting edge of information technology Drawing upon leading experts from a wide range of professional disciplines this book addresses conceptual and technical challenges that confront both academic researchers and interviewers with more applied goals From interview theory to the nuts and bolts of the interview process the coverage is impressively broad and authoritative The Handbook of Interview Research is both encyclopedic and thematic As an encyclopedia it provides extensive discussions of the methodological issues now surrounding interview practice offering a multi faceted assessment of what has become the method of choice for obtaining personal information in today s society But the Handbook also is a story which spins a particular tale of interviewing one that moves from the commonly recognized individual interview to what is called the interview society The gist of the presentation is that we can no longer regard the interview as simply an instrument for gathering data but must now also view it an integral part of society
