Institutions And Systems In The Geography Of Innovation:

Institutions and Systems in the Geography of Innovation M.P. Feldman, Nadine Massard, 2012-12-06 This volume provides a collection of theoretical articles and empirical studies on innovation and location by focusing on the institutions and systems that mediate knowledge spillovers The objective is to provide an international comparison using a variety of approaches The volume is organized around the three themes The first focuses on theoretical work that attempts to advance our understanding of knowledge externalities and systems on innovation The second section provides empirical studies that attempt to measure these impacts The final section considers future challenges to regional economic development policy in the face of economic integration and globalization Technopolis Deog-Seong Oh, Fred Phillips, 2013-12-13 Six years of

UNESCO World Technopolis Association workshops held at various world cities and attended by government officials and scholars from nearly all the world's countries have resulted in a uniquely complete collection of reports on science park and science city projects in most of those countries These reports of which a selected few form chapters in this book allow readers to compare knowledge based development strategies practices and successes across countries The chapters illustrate varying levels of cooperation across government industry and academic sectors in the respective projects and the reasons and philosophies underlying this variation and resulting differences in practices and results The Handbook of Globalisation, Third Edition Jonathan Michie, 2019 The past 30 years are often depicted as an era of globalisation and even more so with the recent rise of global giants such as Google and Amazon This updated and revised edition of The Handbook of Globalisation offers novel insights into the rapid changes our world is facing and how best we can handle them

Strategies for Shaping Territorial Competitiveness Jesús M. Valdaliso, James R. Wilson, 2015-04-10 This book focuses on the main challenges that cities regions and other territories at sub national level face when it comes to designing and implementing a territorial strategy for economic development and competitiveness There is a widespread recognition that territories need to construct strategies that focus on shaping sustainable competitive advantages To do this they draw upon their own unique resources and capabilities alongside intelligence on existing technological and market trends However there is still a notorious lack of both theoretical and empirical research on this issue The first part of this book develops a theoretical framework for understanding and analysing territorial strategy This framework asks three questions of territorial strategy what for what and how looking closely at the key relationship between strategy and policy The second part is dedicated to exploring this framework in practice through application to a series of unique cases from around the world at different territorial levels from regions such as the Basque Country Navarre and Murcia in Spain Okanagan British Columbia in Canada Wales in the United Kingdom and the cross border region of the resund in Denmark Sweden as well as the city of Rafaela in Argentina Each case offers something different and enables the framework to be thoroughly tested generating concluding reflections that add real value for scholars and policy makers interested in and working in the field of territorial strategy This volume is intended for the academic community the policy community government leaders policy makers policy researchers and consultants and university students and teachers at different levels interested in the areas of territorial competitiveness regional development competitiveness policies and processes of territorial strategy Regional Competitiveness Ron Martin, Michael Kitson, Peter Tyler, 2012-11-12 There is now a wide spread interest in regions as a key focus in the organization and governance of economic growth and wealth creation This important book considers the factors that influence and shape the competitive performance of regions This is not just an issue of academic interest and debate but also of increasing policy deliberation and action However as the readings in this book make clear the very idea of regional competitiveness is itself complex and contentious Many academics and policy makers have used the concept without fully considering what is meant by the term and how it can be measured Policy formulation has tended to rush ahead of understanding and analysis and the purpose of this book is to close this important gap in understanding This book was previously published as a special issue of Regional Studies Handbook on the Geographies of Innovation Richard Shearmur, Christophe Carrincazeaux, David Doloreux, 2016-11-25 The geography of innovation is changing Firstly it is increasingly understood that innovative firms and organizations exhibit a wide variety of strategies each differently attuned to diverse geographic contexts Secondly and concomitantly the idea that cities clusters and physical proximity are essential for innovation is evolving under the weight of new theorizing and empirical evidence The aim of this handbook is to break with the many ideas and concepts that emerged during the course of the 1980s and 1990s and to fully take into account the new reality of the internet mobile communication technologies personal mobility and globalization The handbook gathers a new generation of ideas and authors to contribute to the debate providing an empirically grounded critical appraisal of the prevailing knowledge on the geography of innovation The 28 original chapters written by a diverse range of scholars with widely differing views present fresh empirical evidence and new perspectives relating to how innovation plays out across space in an age where mobility has increased information is ubiquitous and globalisation has been realised Overall the dialogue between existing theory and new possibilities provides a unique and challenging appraisal of the connection between innovation agglomeration and space Offering cutting edge ideas in an accessible format this will be an ideal resource for students and scholars of economic geography and innovation studies The empirical evidence and analysis will also be of great value for policymakers and government officials Contributors include B T Asheim H W Aslesen A Bain P A Balland N Bradford A Bramwell C Brennan Horley S Breschi C Carraincazeaux C Chaminade R Comunian C De Fuentes D Doloreux D Eckert A Faggian M Ferru R D Fitjar K Flanagan C Gibson M Grillitsch M Grossetti G Harirchi F Huber A Isaksen S Jewel J Karlsen N Komninos J L Klein N Lee F Lissoni M Maisonobe J Mattes P McCann C T Noumedem R Ortega Argil s M Plechero A Rallet A Rodriguez Pose R Shearmur H L Smith B Spigel J Tallec E Tranos D G Tremblay F T dtling M Trippl E Uyarrá C Yang C Wilkie D A Wolfe The Business of Innovation Jay Mitra, 2017-04-17 Moving beyond the narrow confines of a how to of Innovation management The Business of Innovation sets out to track trace and provide testimonies of innovation practice in small to large scale organisations from countries around world Through a combination of contemporary economic and social theory and an array of practical examples from a wide range of sectors and industries Jay Mitra offers critical insight into how global innovation works where it works and most importantly who makes it work with an emphasis on innovative women Suitable for postgraduate doctoral and MBA students on business management and innovation courses and practitioners looking for a critical insight into the business of innovation

M. Gertler, D. Wolfe, 2002-05-22 How well suited are the institutions of a region nation or international regime to the task of coping with the dramatic changes currently underway in the global economy This volume examines this issue Knowledge and Institutions Johannes Glückler, Roy Suddaby, Regina Lenz, 2018-06-07 This open access book bridges the disciplinary boundaries within the social sciences to explore the role of social institutions in shaping geographical contexts and in creating new knowledge It includes theorizations as well as original empirical case studies on the emergence maintenance and change of institutions as well as on their constraining and enabling effects on innovation entrepreneurship art and cultural heritage often at regional scales across Europe and North America Rooted in the disciplines of management and organization studies sociology geography political science and economics the contributors all take comprehensive approaches to carve out the specific contextuality of institutions as well as their impact on societal outcomes Not only does this book offer detailed insights into current debates in institutional theory it also provides background for scholars students and professionals at the intersection between regional development policy making and regulation

The Indonesian

Economy Lili Yan Ing, Gordon H. Hanson, Sri Mulyani Indrawati, 2017-09-01 Against the backdrop of growing anti globalisation sentiments and increasing fragmentation of the production process across countries this book addresses how the Indonesian economy should respond and how Indonesia should shape its trade and industrial policies in this new world trade environment The book introduces evaluation not on tariffs but on new trade instruments such as non tariff measures SPS TBT export measures and beyond border measures and looks at industrial policies from a broader perspective such as investment accessing inputs labour services research and innovation policies The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John Goddard, 2016-11-25 Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context The different technologies skills profiles business activities institutions and sectors which reflect a region s economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region s linkages with broader global value chains Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local city regional or national levels The New Economy in Transatlantic Perspective Kurt Huebner, 2005-02-03 Pt 1 Macroeconomics of innovation pt 2 Institutional matrixes pt 3 Spaces of innovation National Systems of Innovation Bengt-Åke Lundvall, 2010 National Systems of Innovation presents a new perspective on the dynamics of the national and the global economy Its starting point is that the international competitiveness of nations is founded on innovation Which role do different parts of the national system play in determining the long term dynamics of the economy What is happening to the coherence of national systems of innovation in an era characterised by far reaching internationalisation and globalisation These and other issues are addressed in this volume Available for the first time in paperback the book is an invaluable resource for scholars and policy makers The Platform Economy and the Smart City Austin Zwick, Zachary Spicer, 2021-09-22 Over the past decade cities have come into closer contact and conflict with new technologies From reactive policymaking in response to platform economy firms to proactive policymaking in an effort to develop into smart cities urban governance is transforming at an unprecedented speed and scale Innovative technologies promise a brave new world of convenience and cost effectiveness powered by cameras that monitor our movements sensors that line our streets and algorithms that determine our resource allocation but at what cost Exploring the relationship between technology and cities this book brings together an outstanding group of authors in the field to provide a critical and necessary examination of the disruption that is under way They look at how cities should understand and regulate novel technologies what can be learned from proposed and failed smart city projects and how innovative economies change the structure of cities themselves Contributors dig deeply into these and similar subjects contributing their voices to an important dialogue on the future of urban policy and governance The first collection of its kind this groundbreaking volume brings together social economic and cultural insights to enhance our understanding of the ongoing technological upheaval in cities around the world

Understanding and Managing Tourism Impacts C. Michael Hall, Alan A. Lew, 2009-09-10 This book discusses the complexity of understanding how tourism impacts the world and how the world impacts tourism from the global scale to the local and individual scale

Growth and Innovation of Competitive Regions Ugo Fratesi, Lanfranco Senn, 2008-12-29 Time Time b a Space Space Time Time c d Space Space Fig 1 Different possible scales for growth and innovation analyses spatial dimension the sectoral dimension and the time dimension are represented In Fig 1a regional development analyses are revealed where the economy is sliced vertically into regions and their dynamics are investigated The study of the evolution of industries typical of evolutionary industrial economics is represented in Fig 1b where the economy is divided horizontally into sectoral slices This approach has progressed considerably in recent years see Malerba 2006 for a recent survey Modifications of industries have important spatial implications which however are not normally at the core of these analyses even though spatial patterns of innovation differ greatly from sector to sector Breschi 2000 Our approach operates in the manner of Fig 1a and we will focus on regions extending the analysis to industries only where this is regionally and structurally relevant Hence the approach in the book belongs to the tradition of regional development theories but in contrast to the more traditional analyses we will not consider the region as an economic unit per se Rather interactions between and within regions are very relevant to the performance of individual regions in an integrated world and will be at the core of the analyses of the following chapters

The Capacity to Innovate Sarah Giest, 2021-04-07 In The Capacity to Innovate Sarah Giest provides insight into the collaborative and absorptive capacities needed to provide public support to local innovation through cluster organizations The book offers a detailed view of the vertical multi level and horizontal dynamics in clusters and cluster policy and addresses how they are managed and supported Using the biotechnology field as an example Giest highlights challenges in the collaborative efforts of public bodies private companies and research institutes to establish a successful ecosystem of innovation in this sector The book argues that cluster policy in collaboration with cluster organizations should focus on absorptive and collaborative capacity elements missing in the cluster context in order to improve performance Currently governments operate at different levels from the local to the supranational in order to support clusters and cluster policies are often pursued alongside other programs leading to uncoordinated efforts and ineffective cluster strategies The Capacity to Innovate advocates for a coordinated effort by government and cluster organizations to support capacity elements lacking within the specific cluster context

The Elgar Companion to Innovation and Knowledge Creation Harald Bathelt, Patrick Cohendet, Sebastian Henn, Laurent Simon, 2017-11-24 This unique Companion provides a comprehensive overview and critical evaluation of existing conceptualizations and new developments in innovation research. The Companion brings together leading scholars to reflect upon innovation as a concept. Part I: innovation and institutions; Part II: innovation and creativity; Part III: innovation, networking, and communities; Part IV: innovation in permanent spatial settings; Part V: innovation in temporary, virtual, and open settings; Part VI: innovation, entrepreneurship, and market making; Part VII: the governance and management of innovation; Part VIII: Innovation in Forestry. Gerhard Weiss, Davide Pettenella, Pekka Ollonqvist, Bill Slee, 2011. Innovation in Forestry: Territorial and Value Chain Relationships. Edited by Gerhard Weiss, Davide Pettenella, Pekka Ollonqvist, and Bill Slee. Innovation is increasingly recognized as a key factor in environmental protection and sustainable development in forestry and forest-based industries. This volume provides a comprehensive theoretical foundation for the analysis of innovation processes and policies in a traditional rural sector, as well as presenting empirical analyses of innovation processes from major innovation areas. Innovative solutions are analysed in wood-related value chains, including timber, frame construction, furniture, bio-energy, and forest transportation. Territorial services of the forest sector are examined, including various types of forest ecosystem services such as carbon sequestration, non-wood products, and recreation. Innovation in Forestry is essential reading for researchers and policy makers in forestry and environmental sciences.
