Fridays With Red:

Fridays with Red Bob Edwards, 2000-05 0 7881 9072 57818 0 Radio host Bob Edwards tells of his 12 years with sportscaster Red Barber on National Public Radio's NPR 3 Morning Edition 2 Barber's commentaries on Fridays at 7 35 A M wove together tales from sports events past his views of the current athletic scene biblical allegories historical references and the latest goings on among the flora and fauna of his garden Those commentaries became one of NPR's best loved features and Barber became a grandfather figure for his listeners dispensing wisdom and advice along with the anecdotes and reminisces Through the years their friendship grew and bloomed in full aural view of an appreciative audience Photos

Red Barber Judith R. Hiltner, James R. Walker, 2022-04 2023 SABR Baseball Research Award A Booklist Top 10 Sports Recreation Book Finalist for the 2023 Seymour Medal Finalist for the 2022 CASEY Award Born and raised in rural Mississippi and the even balmy climes of central Florida Red Barber at the age of thirty two became one of New York City's most influential citizens as the play by play announcer for the Brooklyn Dodgers When he arrived in 1939 Barber brought the down home drawl and idioms of his southern roots to the borough where residents said they could walk down any street and never miss a pitch because his voice wafted out of every window and every passing car From his colorful expressions like rhubarb and sitting in the catbird seat to his vivid use of similes a close game was tighter than a new pair of shoes on a rainy day Barber's influence on his contemporaries and the many generations of broadcasters who followed him cannot be overstated But behind all the base hits balls and strikes lies a compelling story that dramatizes the shifting expectations and roles of a public figure the sports broadcaster as he adapted to complex cultural changes throughout the course of twentieth century American life Red Barber follows the trajectory of Barber's long career from radio and television play by play man for the Cincinnati Reds Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees to his work calling college and professional football games his nine year tenure as director of sports for CBS Radio and his second acts as an Episcopal lay reader sportswriter and weekly guest with Bob Edwards on NPR's Morning Edition This talented public figure was also a private man committed to rigorous self examination and willing to evolve and grow under the influence of changing times When the Dodgers first signed Jackie Robinson and smashed the color barrier in Major League Baseball Barber struggled to overcome the racism he had absorbed from his culture as a child But after observing the vicious abuse Robinson endured from opposing fans Barber became an ardent supporter of him and the many Black players who followed Barber was also bothered deeply by the strains that his single minded careerism imposed on his family He was challenged to navigate longtime family tensions after his only child Sarah came out as a lesbian And his primary role during the later years of his life was caretaking for his wife Lylah during her decline from Alzheimer's disease at a time when the ailment was something many families concealed Ultimately Red Barber traces the career of a true radio and television pioneer who was committed to the civic responsibility of mass media Barber firmly believed the most important role of a broadcaster was telling the truth and promoting public well being chimpanzee with them for a week or why they absolutely positively can't tell anyone about it. What could possibly be top secret about an adorable chimp like Friday? Rachel hasn't a clue, but when Friday turns out to be really inexplicably intelligent, Rubik's Cube's a snap, and Bucky Greene turns up really inexplicably dead, he slipped on his own banana peel, she suspects serious monkey business afoot. And when chimp nappers step into the picture, getting to the bottom of Friday's top secret before it's too late becomes a delightfully madcap mystery with Rachel in a riotous nonstop race for survival of the fittest. Written by four-time Emmy-nominated writer and acclaimed humorist Hester Mundis, who raised a chimp of her own in her Manhattan apartment, this is a wonderfully funny and heartfelt novel about endangered species, corporate espionage, and going bananas in more ways than one.

The American Shorthorn Herd Book, 1883 When Poetry Ruled the Streets
 Andrew Feenberg, Jim Freedman, 2010-03-29 More than a history, this book is a passionate reliving of the French May Events of 1968. The authors, ardent participants in the movement in Paris, documented the unfolding events as they pelted the police and ran from the tear gas grenades. Their account is imbued with the impassioned efforts of the students to ignite political awareness throughout society. Feenberg and Freedman select documents, graffiti, brochures, and posters from the movement and use them as testaments to a very different and exciting time. Their commentary, informed by the subsequent development of French culture and politics, offers useful background information and historical context for what may be the last great revolutionary challenge to the capitalist system.

Manual of the Legislature of New Jersey, 1925 Red Cloud and the Sioux Problem
 James C. Olson, 1965-01-01 From the mid-1860s until the end of organized resistance on the Great Plains, Red Cloud, the noted Oglala Sioux, epitomized for many the Indian problem. Centered on Red Cloud's career, this is an admirably impartial, circumstantial, and rigorously documented study of the relations between the Sioux and the United States government during the years after the Civil War.
