MALABAR MANUAL by William Logan , Commentary William Logan's Malabar is popularly known as Malabar Manual It is a huge book of more than 500 000 words It might not be possible for a casual reader to imbibe all the minute bits of information from this book However in this commentary of mine I have tried to insert a lot of such bits and pieces of information by directly quoting the lines from Malabar On these quoted lines I have built up a lot of arguments and also added a lot of explanations and interpretations I do think that it is much easier to go through my Commentary than to read the whole of William Logan's book Malabar However the book Malabar contains much more items than what this Commentary can aspire to contain This book Malabar will give very detailed information on how a small group of native Englishmen built up a great nation by joining up extremely minute bits of barbarian and semi barbarian geopolitical areas in the South Asian Subcontinent Umboo, the Elephant Howard Roger Garis,2004-12 Purchase one of 1st World Library's Classic Books and help support our free internet library of downloadable eBooks Visit us online at www.1stWorldLibrary.ORG Oh my But it's hot It is just too hot for anything cried Chako one of the monkeys in the circus cage It is hotter under this tent than ever it was in the jungle Whew and he hung by his tail and swung to and fro from a wooden bar In the jungle we could find a pool of water where we could keep cool said another monkey who was poking around the floor of the cage hoping he could find a peanut But there were only shells I wish I could go back to the jungle he chattered What did you come away from the jungle for if you don't like it in this circus asked Woo Uff the big yellow lion who lay on his back in his cage his legs stuck up in the air for he was cooler that way Why did you come from the jungle Chako Letters of George Birkbeck Hill, D.C.L., LL.D George Birkbeck Norman Hill,1906 Letters of George Birkbeck Hill George Birkbeck Norman Hill,Lucy Crump,1906
