Other Americans, Other Americas Magdalena J. Zaborowska,1998 This volume brings together international scholars of American Studies whose work explores the issues of ethnicity race gender national and cross cultural identity in American literature and culture The ramifications of this discussion go far beyond the borders of North America in our era of European consolidation and global communications even the seemingly most homogeneous of national literatures find themselves at last responding to and acknowledging external cultural influences With articles ranging from an examination of early colonial texts through postcolonial theory to a theoretical discussion of Michael Wigglesworth s Diaries and the latest work of Maya Angelou Other Americans Other Americas will appeal to a wide academic audience as a significant contribution to the latest scholarship in the field of multicultural studies

Figures in Black : Words, Signs, and the "Racial" Self Henry Louis Gates Jr. Chairman of the Department of Afro-American Studies and W.E.B. DuBois Professor of the Humanities Harvard University,1987-07-16 The originality brilliance and scope of the work is remarkable Gates will instruct delight and stimulate a broad range of readers both those who are already well versed in Afro American literature and those who after reading this book will eagerly begin to be Barbara E Johnson Harvard University A critical enterprise of the first importance Gates promises to lead and to show the way in boldness of conception in vigor of execution and in vitality and pertinence of expression James Olney Louisiana State University Recently awarded Honorable Mention from the John Hope Franklin Publication Prize Committee of the American Studies Association Figures in Black takes a provocative new look at how we analyze and define black literature Henry Louis Gates Jr attacks the notion that the dominant mode of Afro American literature is or should be a kind of social realism evaluated primarily as a reflection of the Black Experience Instead Gates insists that critics turn to the language of the text and bring to their work the close methodical analysis of language made possible by modern literary theory But his goal in this volume is not merely to apply contemporary theory to black texts Indeed as he ranges from 18th century poet Phillis Wheatley to modern writers Ishmael Reed and Alice Walker he attempts to redefine literary criticism itself moving it away from a Eurocentric notion of a hierarchical canon mostly white Western and male to foster a truly comparative and pluralistic notion of literature. In doing so he provides critics with a powerful tool for the analysis of black art and more important reveals for all readers the brilliance and depth of the Afro American tradition.

Review of Contemporary Fiction, 1984 Ishmael Reed, a Primary and Secondary Bibliography Elizabeth A. Settle, Thomas A. Settle, 1982 The Lever of Riches Joel Mokyr, 1992-04-09 In a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success. But why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient China or Britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation? Beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome. What emerges from this survey is often surprising: the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology; the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution. What were the causes of technological creativity? Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas. He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation's creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution. He examines such aspects as the role of the state; the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels; the impact of science as well as religion, politics and even nutrition. He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war, the abundance of natural resources, life expectancy and labor costs. Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity. The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential. Books in Print Supplement, 1988 Exquisite Corpse, 1983 NeoHooDoo Franklin Sirmans, 2008 This title examines the work of 35 artists including Jimmie Durham, David Hammons, Jos Bedia, Rebecca Belmore and James Lee Byars who began using ritualistic practices during the 1970s and 1980s as a way of reinterpreting aspects of their cultural heritage.
