Design and Distribution of Late Medieval Manuscripts in England Margaret Connolly, Linne R. Mooney, 2008 New essays on late medieval manuscripts highlight the complicated network of their production and dissemination One of the most important developments in medieval English literary studies since the 1980s has been the growth of manuscript studies Long regarded as mere textual repositories and treated superficially by editors manuscripts are now acknowledged as centrally important in the study of later medieval texts The essays collected here discuss aspects of the design and distribution of manuscripts in late medieval England with a particular focus on vernacular manuscripts of the late fourteenth fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries Those in the first half consider material evidence for scribal decisions about design these range from analysis of individual codices to broader discussions of particular types of manuscripts both religious and secular Later essays look at the evidence for the production and distribution of manuscripts of specific English texts or types of text These include the major Middle English poems The Canterbury Tales and Piers Plowman as well as key religious works such as Love's Mirror Hilton's Scale of Perfection the Speculum Vitae and The Pricke of Conscience all of which survive in significant numbers of manuscripts The comparison of secular and devotional texts illuminates shared networks of production and dissemination and increases our knowledge of regional and metropolitan book production in the period before printing Contributors DANIEL W MOSSER JACOB THAISEN TAKAKO KATO SHERRY L REAMES AMELIA GROUNDS ALEXANDRA BARRATT JULIAN M LUXFORD LINNE R MOONEY MICHAEL G SARGENT JOHN J THOMPSON MARGARET CONNOLLY RALPH HANNA GEORGE R KEISER Studies in Late Medieval Wall Paintings, Manuscript Illuminations, and Texts Clifford Davidson, 2016-12-19 This volume is an interdisciplinary consideration of late medieval art and texts falling into two parts first the iconography and context of the great Doom wall painting over the tower arch at Holy Trinity Church Coventry and second Carthusian studies treating fragmentary wall paintings in the Carthusian monastery near Coventry the devotional images in the Carthusian Miscellany and meditation for simple souls in the Carthusian Nicholas Love's Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ Emphasis is on such aspects as memory participative theology devotional images meditative practice and techniques of constructing patterns of sacred imagery The Gilded Page Mary Wellesley, 2021-10-12 A breathtaking journey into the hidden history of medieval manuscripts from the Lindisfarne Gospels to the ornate Psalter of Henry VIII A delight immersive conversational and intensely visual full of gorgeous illustrations and shimmering description Helen Castor author of She Wolves Medieval manuscripts can tell us much about power and art knowledge and beauty Many have survived because of an author's status part of the reason we have so much of Chaucer's writing for example is because he was a London based government official first and a poet second Other works by the less influential have narrowly avoided ruin like the book of illiterate Margery Kempe found in a country house closet the cover nibbled on by mice Scholar Mary Wellesley recounts the amazing origins of these remarkable manuscripts surfacing the important roles played by women and ordinary people the grinders binders and scribes in their creation and survival The Gilded Page is the story of the written word in the manuscript age Rich and surprising it shows how the most exquisite objects ever made by human hands came from unexpected places Mary Wellesley is a born storyteller and The Gilded Page is as good as historical writing gets This is a sensational debut by a wonderfully gifted historian Dan Jones bestselling author of The Plantagenets and The Templars

Images, Idolatry, and Iconoclasm in Late Medieval England Jeremy Dimmick, James Simpson, Nicolette Zeeman, 2002-02-14 This book capitalizes on brilliant recent work on sixteenth century iconoclasm to extend the study of images both their making and their breaking into an earlier period and wider discursive territories Pressures towards iconoclasm are powerfully registered in fourteenth and fifteenth century writings both heterodox and orthodox just as the use of images is central to the practice of both politics and religion The governance of images turns out indeed to be central to governance itself It is also of critical concern in any moment of historical change when new cultural forms must incorporate or destroy the images of the old order The iconoclast redescribes images as pure matter objects of idolatry worthy only of the hammer Issues of historical memory no less than of social ethics are then inherent to the making love and destruction of images These issues are the consistent concern of the essays of this volume essays commissioned from a range of outstanding late medievalists in a variety of disciplines literature art history Biblical studies and intellectual history Later

Gothic manuscripts, 1390 - 1490 Kathleen L. Scott, 1996 Prestige, Authority, and Power in Late Medieval Manuscripts and Texts Felicity Riddy, 2000 A range of manuscripts and texts from various social contexts studied for what they reveal of that social background Medieval Illuminators and Their Methods of Work Jonathan James Graham

Alexander, 1992-01-01 Who were the medieval illuminators How were their hand produced books illustrated and decorated In this beautiful book Jonathan Alexander presents a survey of manuscript illumination throughout Europe from the fourth to the sixteenth century He discusses the social and historical context of the illuminators lives considers their methods of work and presents a series of case studies to show the range and nature of the visual sources and the ways in which they were adapted copied or created anew Alexander explains that in the early period Christian monasteries and churches were the main centers for the copying of manuscripts and so the majority of illuminators were monks working in and for their own monasteries From the eleventh century lay scribes and illuminators became increasingly numerous and by the thirteenth century professional illuminators dominated the field During this later period illuminators were able to travel in search of work and to acquire new ideas they joined guilds with scribes or with artists in the cities and their ranks included nuns and secular women Work was regularly collaborative and the craft was learned through an apprenticeship system Alexander carefully analyzes surviving manuscripts and medieval treatises in order to explain the complex and time consuming technical processes of illumination its materials methods tools choice of illustration and execution From rare surviving contracts he deduces the preoccupation of patrons with materials and schedules Illustrating his discussion with examples chosen from religious and secular manuscripts made all over Europe Alexander recreates the astonishing variety and creativity of medieval illumination His book will be a standard reference for years to come Communicating Early

English Manuscripts Päivi Pahta, Andreas H. Jucker, 2011-01-27 The first volume to focus on the communicative aspects of English manuscripts from the fourteenth to the nineteenth century It demonstrates how these handwritten texts can be used to analyse the history of language as communication between individuals and groups and discusses the challenges these documents present to present day scholars Later Gothic Manuscripts Kathleen L. The Palaeography of Gothic Manuscript Books Albert Derolez, 2003-08-28 A detailed and highly illustrated survey of medieval book hands essential for graduate students and scholars of the period Later Gothic Manuscripts Kathleen L. Scott, 1996 Migrations Alexandra Barratt, Stephanie Hollis, 2009-05-27 Over two hundred items are catalogued in Medieval and Renaissance Manuscripts in New Zealand Collections 1989 Most are in institutional collections and were donated by late nineteenth and early twentieth century book collectors notably Sir George Grey 1812-98 Governor and later Premier of New Zealand Having been transported across the globe the manuscripts have remained for the most part beyond the purview of northern hemisphere scholars The contributors to this interdisciplinary collection of essays include international experts such as Christopher de Hamel Richard Gameson Margaret Manion and Michael Orr curators of New Zealand manuscript collections New Zealand academics and a PhD student Migrations has two main aims to lodge the Early European manuscripts in New Zealand within the international discourse of postcolonial heritage and to place them within the mainstream of manuscript studies by drawing attention to their intrinsic significance and their relationship with manuscripts held in overseas collections Part One focuses on the motives and historical circumstances underlying the formation of the principal collections and the subsequent changes in the ways that this heritage has been regarded Three of the essays centre upon the bibliophiles who donated their manuscripts to public libraries Others consider specific manuscripts as indices of changing attitudes to European particularity British cultural heritage National identity pedagogy and curatorial practices are among the issues canvassed Part Two consists of new scholarly studies of particular manuscripts which examine them in relation to the cultural and documentary context in which they were produced or transmitted Manuscripts studied include a twelfth century copy of music treatises by Boethius and Guido of Arezzo probably from Christ Church Canterbury a Perugian breviary owned by an Augustinian friar Antonio da Macerata a book of hours adapted for Scottish use the Rossdhu Hours and a fragment of an early fifteenth century book of hours produced by a London workshop and added to the Hours of Margery Fitzherbert Migrations is an imaginative and ambitious contribution to twenty first century manuscript studies Most notably the editors have invited manuscript scholars to address the issues raised by the manuscripts location New Zealand itself and its colonial history become tools for thinking with about dispersal about cultural memory about access about the meanings ascribed to artefacts The editors have assembled a distinguished group of scholars in order to produce a collection of essays that is a coherent whole and at the same time individually driven by the intellectual curiosity that is the true sign of distinction The book is a triumph Professor Felicity Riddy Deputy Vice Chancellor and Professor of English University of York This excellent book makes a major contribution to the study of medieval manuscript collections in New Zealand and will open up a little known area of extremely important material to an international audience The quality of the scholarship throughout the book is very high and the essays on the individual manuscripts present the material in the context of recent new approaches in the study of medieval and Early Modern manuscripts Nigel Morgan Hon Professor of Art History University of Cambridge Head of Research Parker Library MSS Project Corpus Christi College

Domestic Devotions in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Salvador Ryan, 2020-05-28 Domestic devotion has become an increasingly important area of research in recent years with the publication of a number of significant studies on the early modern period in particular This Special Issue aims to build on these works and to expand their range both geographically and chronologically This collection focuses on lived religion and the devotional practices found in the domestic settings of late medieval and early modern Europe More particularly it investigates the degree to which the experience of personal or familial religious practice in the domestic realm intersected with the more public expression of faith in liturgical or communal settings Its broad geographical range spanning northern southern central and eastern Europe includes practices related to Christianity Judaism and Islam This Special Issue will be of interest to historians art historians medievalists early modernists historians of religion anthropologists and theologians as well as those interested in the history of material religious culture It also offers important insights into research areas such as gender studies histories of the emotions and histories of the senses The Art of Allusion Sonja Drimmer, 2018-11-13 At the end of the fourteenth and into the first half of the fifteenth century Geoffrey Chaucer John Gower and John Lydgate translated and revised stories with long pedigrees in Latin Italian and French Royals and gentry alike commissioned lavish manuscript copies of these works copies whose images were integral to the rising prestige of English as a literary language Yet despite the significance of these images manuscript illuminators are seldom discussed in the major narratives of the development of English literary culture The newly enlarged scale of English manuscript production generated a problem namely a need for new images Not only did these images need to accompany narratives that often had no tradition of illustration they also had to express novel concepts including ones as foundational as the identity and suitable representation of an English poet In devising this new corpus manuscript artists harnessed visual allusion as a method to articulate central questions and provide at times conflicting answers regarding both literary and cultural authority Sonja Drimmer traces how just as the poets embraced intertextuality as a means of invention so did illuminators devise new images through referential techniques assembling adapting and combining images from a range of sources in order to answer the need for a new body of pictorial matter Featuring more than one hundred illustrations twenty seven of them in color The Art of Allusion is the first book devoted to the emergence of England's literary canon as a visual as well as a linguistic event
