The Political Economy of Latin America Peter Kingstone, 2018-03-09 This brief text offers an unbiased reflection on debates about neoliberalism and its alternatives in Latin America with an emphasis on the institutional puzzle that underlies the region's difficulties with democratization and development. In addition to providing an overview of this key element of the Latin American political economy, Peter Kingstone also advances the argument that both state-led and market-led solutions depend on effective institutions but little is known about how and why they emerge. Kingstone offers a unique contribution by mapping out the problem of how to understand institutions, why they are created, and why Latin American ones limit democratic development. This timely and thorough update includes a fresh discussion of the commodity boom in the region and the resulting Golden Era in Latin America. The recent explosion of social policy innovation and concerns about the durability of social reform after the boom. A discussion of the knowledge economy and the limits to economic growth with case studies of successful examples of fostering innovation.

The Politics of Telecommunications In Mexico J. Clifton, 2015-12-22 This text argues that instead of leading toward greater democratization, Mexico's policies of privatization in the 1980s were used for personal benefit and to lubricate the existing state-labour relationship. It builds its case around the privatization of Mexico's telecommunications.

The Routledge Handbook to the Political Economy and Governance of the Americas Olaf Kaltmeier, Anne Tittor, Daniel Hawkins, Eleonora Rohland, 2020-01-09 This handbook explores the political economy and governance of the Americas, placing particular emphasis on collective and intertwined experiences. Forty-six chapters cover a range of Inter-American key concepts and dynamics. The flow of people's goods, resources, knowledge, and finances have, on the one hand, promoted interdependence and integration that cut across borders and link the countries of North and South America, including the Caribbean together. On the other hand, they have contributed to profound asymmetries between different places. The nature of this transversally related and multiply interconnected hemispheric region can only be captured through a transnational multidisciplinary and comprehensive approach. This handbook examines the direct and indirect political interventions, geopolitical imaginaries, inequalities, interlinked economic developments, and the forms of appropriation of the vast natural resources in the Americas. Expert contributors give a comprehensive overview of the theories, practices, and geographies that have shaped the economic dynamics of the region and their impact on both the political and natural landscape. This multidisciplinary approach will be of interest to a broad array of academic scholars and students in history, sociology, geography, economics, and political science, as well as cultural, postcolonial, environmental, and globalization studies.

Political Conflict and Development in East Asia and Latin America Richard Boyd, Galjart Benno, Tak-Wing Ngo, 2007-01-24 Long-run processes of socio-economic change generate prodigious problems of social conflict and social control and governments responsible for these processes must therefore manage the resultant conflict. Consequently the success or failure of a government's management of such conflicts is a crucial factor in development outcomes. This volume investigates the political struggle for development specifically in two vital regions: East Asia and Latin America. This analysis calls into question the dominant emphasis on institutional and cultural bases for stable growth. A careful historical account of the two regions is presented which permits the rigorous testing of conventional wisdoms regarding development. Of importance to a broad range of academics in the spheres of development studies, politics, political economy and sociology, this book will also make an interesting read for those with a general interest in these areas.

The South America Handbook Patrick Heenan, Monique Lamontagne, 2014-01-27. First Published in 2002. The Regional Handbooks of Economic Development series provides accessible overviews of countries within their larger domestic and international contexts, focusing on the relations among regions as they meet the challenges of the twenty-first century. The series allows the non-specialist student to explore a wide range of complex factors: social and political as well as economic, that affect the growth of developing regions in Asia, Europe and South America. Each Handbook provides an overview chapter discussing the region's economic conditions within an historical and political context, as well as 20 or more chapter-length essays written by recognized experts which analyze the key issues affecting a region's economy, its population, natural resources, foreign trade, labor problems and economic inequalities and other vital factors. In addition, the volumes offer useful support materials including a series of appendices that include a detailed chronology of events in the region, a glossary of terms, biographical entries on key personalities, an annotated bibliography of further reading and a comprehensive analytical index.

U.S. National Interests and the Western Hemisphere Frances Scott, 1998. Close Encounters of Empire Gilbert Michael Joseph, Catherine LeGrand, Ricardo Donato Salvatore, 1998. Essays that suggest new ways of understanding the role that US actors and agencies have played in Latin America. publisher Special Bibliography Series, 1957. Critical Intersections M.D. Litonjua, 2006-06-19. Life is all about intersections. Living is where sorrow meets joy, where pain encounters ecstasy, where the weakness of the flesh is buoyed by the strength of faith, where love conquers all doubts and betrayals. Marriage is for better and worse, for richer and poorer, in sickness and health, it is for life and death. Spirituality is the arduous integration of life's dispositions and tendencies of one's urges and habits for the whole to reach out in transcendence to one's fellow human beings and to God. Growth to Christian maturity is actualizing the intersecting because cruciform demands of love of God and love of neighbor, which follows the path that leads from Good Friday to Easter Sunday. Academic life is also becoming one of intersections. After the increasing structural differentiation and functional specialization characteristic of modernity, academic disciplines are critically intersecting and cross-fertilizing with each other.
