Population Geography Helen D. Hazen,Heike C. Alberts,Kazimierz J. Zaniewski,2023-07-06 Population Geography Social Justice for a Sustainable World surveys the ways in which geographic approaches may be applied to population issues exploring how human populations are embedded in natural and social environments It encourages students to evaluate population issues critically given that population topics are at the heart of many of today s most contentious subjects Through introducing students to different lenses of analysis ecological economic and social equity the authors ask students to consider how different perspectives can lead to different conclusions on the same issue Identifying and tackling today s population problems therefore requires an understanding of these diverging and sometimes conflicting perspectives The text covers all the key background information critical to any book on population geography population size distribution and composition fertility mortality and migration population and resources but also pushes students to think critically about the materials they have covered using the perspectives of sustainability and social justice In this way students move beyond simple fact learning toward higher level skills such as analysis synthesis and evaluation of materials This textbook will be a valuable resource for students of human geography population geography demography and diaspora studies

Commentary on the Global Burden of Disease Study Gonghuan Yang,2025-05-30 This book intends to promote and assist professionals to better understand the global burden of disease methodology It introduces the GBD research thinking and work framework for most public health professionals and to systematically review the development history and characteristics of the GBD method. It focuses on what questions to be answered and how to answer in GBD study. For each topic, the representative literatures and works of GBD are introduced in the book. These representative literatures were selected by the authors on the basis of reading a large amount of the literature. Based on these representative literature, this book describes how GBD study uses a wide range of source of data sources to achieve its research goals. This way not only makes sure the accuracy of the introduced perspectives and methodology but also provides a shortcut to the key GBD literature relevant to the topic for people who are unfamiliar with GBD study. As an introduction to the methodology of GBD study, this book interprets the basic methods of GBD study and helps readers to further read the corresponding literature, understand the methodology and main findings of GBD study and uses these methods in their own work. Taking China as a case, this book sets a special chapter to introduce the estimated results of the disease burden of the Chinese population and discuss the experience and lessons of GBD study in promoting national policy action.

Programme for the Census of Agriculture 2020 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-02-04
FAO has supported member countries to carry out their national agricultural censuses since 1945 through the development and dissemination of international standards, concepts, definitions and methodologies as well as technical assistance. In 2015, FAO published Volume 1 of the World Programme for the Census of Agriculture 2020 (WCA 2020) Programme concepts and definitions, the tenth decennial programme that provides guidelines for implementation of national agricultural censuses in the 2016-2025 decade. Volume 1 deals with the methodological and conceptual aspects of the census of agriculture. In addition to the use of international standards, the proper conduct of an agricultural census also depends on adequate planning, implementation, use of resources and quality assurance throughout all stages of the census. In light of this, Volume 2 of WCA 2020 Operational guidelines has been designed to guide national census practitioners responsible for conducting the agricultural census. It deals with the practical steps involved in actually conducting an agricultural census in the field. Volume 2 is a revised and updated edition of Conducting Agricultural Censuses and Surveys published by FAO in 1996. The revision is opportune not only in view of the recent publication of the new census programme and methodology but also in view of the substantial changes witnessed in the census technological environment over the last two decades. The availability of digital, mobile and more affordable tools for data capture, geo-positioning, remote sensing, imaging, digital archiving and online dissemination have provided new, cost-effective alternatives to traditional ways of conducting the agricultural census.
