Late Medieval Mysticism:

Late Medieval Mysticism Ray C. Petry, 1957-01-01 Included in this collection of Medieval writings are Ray Petry's careful essays on the province and character of mysticism and the history of mysticism from Plato to Bernard of Clairvaux. Long recognized for the quality of its translations, introductions, explanatory notes, and indexes, the Library of Christian Classics provides scholars and students with modern English translations of some of the most significant Christian theological texts in history. Through these works, each written prior to the end of the sixteenth century, contemporary readers are able to engage the ideas that have shaped Christian theology and the church through the centuries. Late Medieval Mysticism Ray C. Petry, 2011-05 Additional Editor is Henry P. Van Dusen. The Library of Christian Classics V13 Late medieval mysticism C. Ray Petry, 1955 Late Medieval Mysticism of the Low Countries Rik Van Nieuwenhove, Rob Faesen, H. Rolfson, 2008 When one looks at an icon, one has the sense that God is looking back. Our whole person is involved. What the prayers and music of the Feast convey through the ears, the icon conveys visually. This book showcases a collection of extraordinarily beautiful icons that introduces readers and art appreciators to the spiritual riches of the Byzantine liturgical tradition. The author, Father Michael Evdokimov, presents an icon for each of the twelve great feasts of the Orthodox Christian liturgical year. Preceding each icon is a brief commentary of what the reader can hope to find in the icon, including nuances that a casual observer might miss. Facing each icon are prayers appropriate for meditating on the icon. Quotations from spiritual writers of all ages of Christianity are interspersed in the book. In a simple, straightforward manner, Evdokimov shows how the prayers and the icons used to worship God can nourish the spiritual life. Although he sets before his readers beliefs and practices common to Orthodox people everywhere in the world, anyone who appreciates beautiful art will find much to savor here. Late Medieval Mysticism of the Low Countries Rik Van Nieuwenhove, Rob Faesen, Helen Rolfson, 2008 This book contains translations and introductions to some of the major representatives of the spiritual tradition of the Low Countries from ca. 1350 onwards. Late Medieval Mysticism Saint Francis (of Assisi), 1957 On Becoming God: Late Medieval Mysticism and the Modern Western Self Ben Morgan, 2013 Do we have to conceive of ourselves as isolated individuals, inevitably distanced from other people and from whatever we might mean when we use the word God? On Becoming God offers an innovative approach to the history of the modern Western self by looking at human identity as something people do together rather than on their own. Ben Morgan argues that the shared practices of human identity can be understood as ways of managing and keeping at bay the impulses and experiences associated with the word God. The self is a way of doing things or of not doing things with God. The book draws on phenomenology, Heidegger, gender studies, Beauvoir, Butler, and contemporary neuroscience to present a new approach to the history of modern identity. It surveys existing approaches to modern selfhood, Foucault, Charles Taylor, and proposes an alternative account by investigating late medieval mysticism in particular texts written in Germany by Meister Eckhart and others in the same milieu. Reactions to the condemnation of Meister Eckhart's teaching for heresy in 1329 offer a microcosm of the circumstances in which something like the modern self arises as people change their behavior toward others toward themselves and toward what they call God. The book makes Meister Eckhart and his contemporaries appear as our contemporaries by changing the assumptions with which we approach our own identity. To make this change requires a revision of current vocabularies for approaching ourselves and in particular the vocabulary and habits inherited from psychoanalysis. The book finishes by exploring the parallel between late medieval confessors and their spiritual charges and late nineteenth century psychoanalysts and their patients. The result is a renewed vision of the Freud's project of finding a vocabulary for acknowledging and nurturing our everyday commitments to others and to our spiritual longings.

Introduction to the Medieval Mystics of Europe Paul E. Szarmach, 1984-01-01. The European Middle Ages bequeathed to the world a legacy of spiritual and intellectual brilliance that has shaped many of the ideals, preconceptions, and institutions we now take for granted. An Introduction to the Medieval Mystics of Europe examines this phenomenon in vivid and scholarly accounts of the lives and achievements of those men and women whose genius most inspired their own and subsequent ages. These great mystics explored and consciously realized the relationship between human life and unconditioned transcendence. Representing both the contemplative and scholastic traditions, the mystics in these studies often found their solutions to ultimate questions in radically different ways. Some of them, such as Eckhart, Aquinas, and Cusa, may already be familiar, and here the reader will benefit from a new approach and summary of extensive research. Others, such as Smaragdus, and several of the women mystics, are little known even to specialists. Finally, and unusually for a study of European mysticism, the influence of Spanish Kabbalists is discussed in relation to the Zohar, and two figures from the mystical school of Safed, Cordovero and Luria. Though the essays focus on individuals, the cultural and social implications of their lives and work are never ignored for the mystic way did not exist separately from the rest of medieval life; it functioned as an integral part of the whole, influencing the development of Christian and Jewish religions in both their internal and external forms.

Late Medieval Mysticism. Edited by R. C. Petry. Ray C. PETRY, 1957. Schools of Late Medieval Mysticism Alois Maria Haas (Germanist), 1987. The Library of Christian Classics: Late medieval mysticism, 1953. LATE MEDIEVAL MYSTICISM Ray C. Petry, 1958. Julian of Norwich Elisabeth M. Dutton, 2008. A new reading of the Revelations in the context of late medieval manuscript traditions. Compilation and miscellany manuscripts were widely owned in the late middle ages by both the laity and the clergy. Here their possible influence on Julian of Norwich's Revelations is explored. The book argues that formal features of compilation are evident in the text deployed by Julian to give authority and didactic force to the theological debate in which she is engaged. Combining study of compilation manuscripts and manuscripts of the Revelations with structural analysis, it suggests important new ways of reading the Revelations and makes a strong case for compilation as a literary form with creative potential. Dr ELISABETH DUTTON is Senior Research Fellow Worcester College, University of Oxford.
