of Transition: Literature and Economy in Portuguese-Speaking Southern Africa Thomas Waller,2024-07-22 This book argues that literary production in Portuguese speaking southern Africa has developed distinctive aesthetic idioms that critically respond to crises of global capitalism and related failures of post colonial governance Drawing from recent research at the intersection of world systems analysis and materialist theories of world literature it identifies and evaluates two generic trends in the post independence literatures of Mozambique and Angola From the mid 1980s to the early 1990s there is a marked tendency in Mozambican literary production towards fictional representations of ghosts spectral effects and gothic narrative techniques In Angola there is an analogous outburst of literary expression from the mid 1990s onwards in which writers increasingly turn towards dystopian images of apocalypse ecological crisis and the disintegration of existing modes of social reproduction Away from a restricted focus on the decline of the post independence Marxist Leninist state the book contends that the upswing in these two genres of writing functions to critically register a world systemic horizon that both surpasses and includes locally determined national realities The patterned repetition of spectral and dystopian forms in Portuguese speaking southern Africa occurred at a time of heightened capitalisation in which the region was subjected to newly expropriative forms of accumulation and ecological enclosure via integration into a reconstellated world system headed by neoliberal finance capital Through close readings of texts by authors such as Mia Couto Suleiman Cassamo Ungulani Ba Ka Khosa Pepetela and Ondjaki this book asks What factors drove literary production towards the figure of the spectre in Mozambique and towards dystopia in Angola What emerging energies and social contradictions found shape in these generic idioms in ways that existing vocabularies were unable to express What does the geo temporal passage from spectrality to dystopia tell us about the history of capitalist development in southern Africa and about the restructuring of political economic parameters across the globe

Climate and Literature Janet Pérez,Wendell M. Aycock,1995 With the rise of a succession of sophisticated approaches that largely disregard literature's traditional role as a mirror of life climate and other environmental factors have been generally disregarded in the interpretation of literary texts during recent decades For that reason it is only fitting that the climatological dimension be re explored after a forty year hiatus Climate and Literature embraces a significant revision of the original telluric notions about the determinist relationship between climate and the attitudes and behavior of literary characters set in particular surroundings In place of such vague notions we find within these pages interesting and stimulating examples of true applied science and contemporary literary theory that more often than not treat literary depiction of climate not so much as a reflection of influence of particular geographic environments but as a powerful symbol for psychological or textual processes undergone by the novels characters narrators or readers Dr Thomas Franz Ohio State University

The Rigor of Angels William Egginton,2025-03-04 A NEW YORK TIMES AND NEW YORKER BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR A poet a physicist and a philosopher explored the greatest enigmas in the universe the nature of free will the strange fabric of the cosmos the true limits of the mind and each in their own way uncovered a revelatory truth about our place in the world A mind expanding book Elegantly written The New York Times A remarkable synthesis of the thoughts ideas and discoveries of three of the greatest minds that our species has produced John Banville The Wall Street Journal Argentine poet Jorge Luis Borges was madly in love when his life was shattered by painful heartbreak But the breakdown that followed illuminated an incontrovertible truth that love is necessarily imbued with loss that the one doesn't exist without the other German physicist Werner Heisenberg was fighting with the scientific establishment on the meaning of the quantum realm's absurdity when he had his own epiphany that there is no such thing as a complete perfect description of reality Prussian philosopher Immanuel Kant pushed the assumptions of human reason to their mind bending conclusions but emerged with an idea that crowned a towering philosophical system that the human mind has fundamental limits and those limits undergird both our greatest achievements as well as our missteps Through fiction science and philosophy the work of these three thinkers coalesced around the powerful haunting fact that there is an irreconcilable difference between reality out there and reality as we experience it Out of this profound truth comes a multitude of galvanizing ideas the notion of selfhood free will and purpose in human life the roots of morality aesthetics and reason and the origins and nature of the cosmos itself As each of these thinkers shows every one of us has a fundamentally incomplete picture of the world But this is to be expected Only as mortal finite beings are we able to experience the world in all its richness and breathtaking majesty We are stranded in a gulf of vast extremes between the astronomical and the quantum an abyss of freedom and absolute determinism and it is in that center where we must make our home A soaring and lucid reflection on the lives and work of Borges Heisenberg and Kant The Rigor of Angels movingly demonstrates that the mysteries of our place in the world may always loom over us not as a threat but as a reminder of our humble humanity

The African Heritage of Latinx and Caribbean Literature Sarah M. Quesada,2022-08-04 The African Heritage of Latinx and Caribbean Literature unearths a buried African archive within widely read Latinx writers of the last fifty years It challenges dominant narratives in World Literature and transatlantic studies that ignore Africa's impact in broader Latin American culture Sarah Quesada argues that these canonical works evoke textual memorials of African memory She shows how the African Atlantic haunts modern Latinx and Caribbean writing and examines the disavowal or distortion of the African subject in the constructions of national racial sexual and spiritual Latinx identity Quesada shows how themes such as the 19th century scramble for Africa the decolonizing wars Black internationalism and the neoliberal turn are embedded in key narratives Drawing from multilingual archives about West and Central Africa she examines how the legacies of colonial French Iberian British and U.S. Imperialisms have impacted on the relationships between African and Latinx identities This is the first book length project to address the African colonial and imperial inheritance of Latinx literature
