Andrew Lambirth,2013 This is the first major study of the life and art of London born painter and collagist Francis Davison 1919 1984 After reading English and Anthropology at Cambridge he wrote poetry and took up drawing in 1946 On marriage to artist Margaret Mellis in 1948 the couple settled in Suffolk where they ran a smallholding at Syleham before moving to Southwold 00By the early 1950s Davison s paintings had become simplified shapes and it was not long before he ceased painting in favour of working in collage Over the next 20 years reference to landscape disappeared and the colour range was extended Davison relied entirely on found used and unpainted papers which were cut and fitted with great exactitude By the end of his life he had developed a method of tearing paper that gave him complete mastery over his material 00A very private man Davison shunned publicity and insisted that only the most basic information should accompany the showing of his work Reflecting this he never received the recognition his work deserved and there was only one substantial exhibition during his lifetime at the Hayward Gallery in 1983 but critical attention has grown since his death in the mid 1980s Davison s work was greatly admired by many of his contemporaries most notably Patrick Heron and Roger Hilton He is now seen as a major abstract collagist with exhibitions at many public and commercial galleries His work is held in the Arts Council collection      Francis Davison Francis Davison,2008      Arts Council Collection Acquisitions, 1979-83 Arts Council of Great Britain,1984      Artscribe ,1983      Francis Davison ,1917      Francis Davison ,2003      International repertory of the literature of art ,1984      The Spectator ,1983 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art      Museum Bulletin ,1983      The Illustrated London News ,1983      The Tate Gallery 1986-88 Tate Gallery,1986      Designer ,1986      Artists in Britain since 1945 David Buckman,2006      Alive to it All Arts Council of Great Britain,1982      Francis Davison, 1919-1984 Francis Davison,Redfern Gallery,1991      Facts about the Arts 2 ,1986      Report Arts Council of Great Britain,
