

YOU DEN ADDRESS

BY JOHN A. CORNELL, UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

W.J. YOU DEN – THE MAN AND HIS METHODOLOGY

Jack Youden

"Competitiveness Through Continuous Improvement" was the theme of this year's 36th Annual Fall Technical conference and that is why I selected the topic "Jack Youden – The Man and His Methodology" for this address. Jack Youden believed in continuous improvement; he spent his life improving the ways measurements are taken.

Once I had decided to talk about Jack Youden, I began to wonder, "Who was this person for whom

- an award on the topic of Interlaboratory Testing is given each year by the American Statistical Association;
- an address is presented at the Fall Technical Conference each year (and has been since 1973);
- an award (prize) is given by the Chemical and Process Industries Division of ASQC each year for the best expository paper on statistical methods or philosophy that appeared in Technometrics during the previous year; and,
- who was this man for whom the January 1972 issue of the Journal of Quality Technology was memorialized."

In what follows, I shall try to familiarize you with a brief biographical sketch of Jack Youden's life; present some examples of Jack Youden's methodology; give some measures of the impact of Jack Youden and his methodology on the scientific community; and finally, share some statements about Jack Youden made by those who worked and/or interacted with Jack Youden. Regrettably, I never had the good fortune of meeting Jack Youden in person.

A BRIEF BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH (1900-1971) OF JACK YOU DEN'S LIFE

As with so many others who have contributed much to our profession, Jack Youden began his career, not as a statistician, but rather in a related discipline, as a physical chemist. Born in Townsville, Australia, in 1900, Jack's family came to America in 1907 and resided in Niagara Falls, NY, where Jack attended the local public schools. During Jack's senior year of high school, the family moved to Rochester, NY, and the following year Jack enrolled at the University of Rochester. In 1921, Jack graduated with a B.S. in Chemical Engineering having been elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Following graduation Jack served a year as an instructor in chemistry at the University of Rochester and then enrolled at Columbia University as a graduate fellow in chemistry earning an M.A. in 1923 and a Ph.D. in 1924. Upon graduation, Jack joined the staff of the Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research, located in Yonkers, NY, as a physical chemist. Thus, during the first third of his life, Jack showed an interest in and was formally trained in the field of chemistry.

The next seven years were a transition period in which Jack, a physical chemist, was slowly becoming more of a statistician. In 1931-32, Jack commuted from Yonkers to Morning Heights, NY to attend Professor H. Hotelling's lectures on Statistical Inference at Columbia University. And, while Jack was now assuming the role of a statistician more in his work, his laboratory experience was always to remain a treasured asset enabling him to communicate with scientists on their own grounds.

Francois Genet The Man And His Methodology:

François Genet James R. Pollock (SI.),1984 François Genet James R. Pollock (s.j.),1984 François Genet James R. Pollock,1984 A History of Catholic Moral Theology in the Twentieth Century James F. Keenan,2010-01-17 This is an historical survey of 20th Century Roman Catholic Theological Ethics also known as moral theology The thesis is that only through historical investigation can we really understand how the most conservative and negative field in Catholic theology at the beginning of the 20th could become by the end of the 20th century the most innovative one The 20th century begins with moral manuals being translated into the vernacular After examining the manuals of Thomas Slater and Henry Davis Keenan then turns to three works and a crowning synthesis of innovation all developed before during and soon after the Second World War The first by Odon Lottin asks whether moral theology is adequately historical Fritz Tillmann asks whether it s adequately biblical and Gerard Gilleman whether it s adequately spiritual Bernard Haering integrates these contributions into his Law of Christ Of course people like Gerald Kelly and John Ford in the US are like a few moralists elsewhere classical gate keepers censoring innovation But with Humanae vitae and successive encyclicals bishops and popes reject the direction of moral theologians At the same time moral theologians like Josef Fuchs ask whether the locus of moral truth is in continuous universal teachings of the magisterium or in the moral judgment of the informed conscience In their move toward a deeper appreciation of their field as forming consciences they turn more deeply to local experience where they continue their work of innovation Each continent subsequently gives rise to their own respondents In Europe they speak of autonomy and personalism in Latin America liberation theology in North America Feminism and Black Catholic theology and in Asia and Africa a deep post colonial interculturatism At the end I assert that in its nature theological ethics is historical and innovative seeking moral truth for the conscience by looking to speak crossculturally The Origins of Moral Theology in the United States Charles E. Curran,1997-02-01 Charles E Curran presents the first in depth analysis of the origins of Catholic moral theology in the United States focusing on three significant figures in the late nineteenth century and demonstrating that methodological pluralism and theological diversity existed in the Church even then Curran begins by tracing the historical development of moral theology especially as presented in nineteenth century manuals of moral theology which offered a legal model of morality including a heavy emphasis on canon law He then probes the different approaches and ideas of three important writers Aloysius Sabetti a Jesuit who was a typical as well as the most influential American manualist Thomas J Bouquillon first chair of moral theology at Catholic University of America a neoscholastic who criticized the manuals approach as narrow and incomplete for failing to address principles virtues and the connection to systematic theology and clerical educator John B Hogan a casuist who developed a more inductive and historically conscious methodology Curran describes how all three men dealt in different ways with the increasing role of authoritative teachings in moral theology from the Vatican He also shows how they reflected their American context and the views of their own time on women and sexuality So little attention has been paid to the development of moral theology in this country that these authors are unknown to many scholars Curran s book corrects this oversight and proposes that the ferment revealed in their writings offers important lessons for contemporary Catholic moral theology The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern Theology, 1600-1800 Ulrich L. Lehner, Richard A. Muller, A.G. Roeber, 2016-10-04 The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern Theology 1600-1800 will offer a comprehensive and reliable introduction to Christian theological literature originating in Western Europe from roughly the end of the French Wars of Religion 1598 to the Congress of Vienna 1815 Using a variety of approaches the contributors examine theology spanning from Bossuet to Jonathan Edwards They review the major forms of early modern theology such as Cartesian scholasticism Enlightenment and early Romanticism sketch the teachings of major theological concepts along with important historical developments introduce the principal practitioners of each kind of theology and delineate their particular theological contributions and stresses and depict the engagement by early modern theologians with other religions or churches such as Judaism Islam and the eastern Church Combining contributions from top scholars in the field this will be an invaluable resource for understanding a complex and varied body of research François Genet James R. Pollock (S.I.), 1984 Jesuit Father François Annat and his Role as Minister for Religious Affairs in 17th Century France Brian W. Van Hove, 2023-12-19 This book explores the tremendous impact of Jesuit Father François Annat 1590-1670 a French government appointee at Court His religious superiors approved of his taking on this work for the Crown He served as Minister for Religious Affairs or Royal Confessor or keeper of the king s conscience for Louis XIV During Annat s confessorate of sixteen years no internal conflict in the Gallican Church was so strong as the Jansenist controversy Today everything seems different as revisionist history has viewed Jansenism as an orthodox Augustinian alternative to explain the Catholic Faith in contrast to the prevailing Spanish Molinism and Suarezianism whose roots were in Thomism and Aristotle There was intense internal struggle within the French Church to devise a legal formulary that might decrease the strength of Jansenism The present work examines the life of Annat in all of its complexities a life which may have been forgotten by history if not for the celebrated literary figure Blaise Pascal who was a committed Jansenist and foe of François Annat

The Oxford Handbook of the Reception of Aquinas Matthew Levering, Marcus Plested, 2021 This Handbook provides a comprehensive survey of Catholic Orthodox and Protestant philosophical and theological reception of Thomas Aquinas over the past 750 years The Oxford Handbook of Theological Ethics Gilbert Meilaender, William Werpehowski, 2007-08-09 Annotation What are the practical and theoretical issues that concern and shape theological ethics This handbook offers a guide to the discipline Written by an international group of 30 scholars the book is aimed at all students and academics who want to explore more fully essential topics in Christian ethics Innovation in Early Modern Catholicism Ulrich L. Lehner, 2021-11-29 This volume demonstrates that the Catholic rhetoric of tradition disguised both novelties and creative innovations between 1550 and 1700 Innovation in Early Modern Catholicism reveals that the period between 1550 and 1700 emerged as an intellectually vibrant atmosphere shaped by the tensions between personal creativity and magisterial authority. The essays explore ideas about grace, physical predetermination, freedom, and probabilism in order to show how the rhetoric of innovation and tradition can be better understood. More importantly, contributors illustrate how disintegrated historiographies which often excluded Catholicism as a source of innovation can be overcome. Not only were new systems of metaphysics crafted in the early modern period but so too was a new conceptual language to deal with the pressing problems of human freedom and grace, natural law, and Marian piety. Overall, the volume shines significant light on hitherto neglected or misunderstood traits in the understanding of early modern Catholic culture. Representing early modern Catholicism more crucially than any other currently available study, Innovation in Early Modern Catholicism is a useful tool for advanced undergraduates, postgraduates, and scholars in the fields of philosophy, early modern studies, and the history of theology.

Analecta Gregoriana, 1991 Elenchus of Biblica, 1990 The Christian Sacrament William A. Van Roo, 1992. This work presents a brief treatment of baptism in the New Testament and the author's personal conception of the sacrament as a divine-human symbol. The most significant element of New Testament teaching on baptism is the emphasis on the principal agents: God, Father, Son, Christ, and Spirit. Any satisfactory conception of the Christian sacrament must take into account the roles of the Three. William A. Van Roo is a Jesuit of the Wisconsin Province in the U.S.A. He was a professor of theology in Gregorian University from 1951 to 1985, then professor emeritus.

Historical Abstracts, 1985 International Books in Print, 1997 Fastes et cérémonies Marc Agostino, François Cadilhon, Philippe Loupès, 2003. Du concile de Trente 1545-1563. Vatican II: ces contributions étudient le sens des cérémonies, des rites et du faste dans la pratique religieuse. Trois parties: la mise en scène de la sainteté, dissidences et contre-modèles, jansénistes, monde orthodoxe, assemblés du désert, mormons, aspects pédagogiques des rites catholiques.

Alphonse de Liguori François Bourdeau, 1987. L'œuvre gigantesque de saint Alphonse, l'homme qui a changé le cours de la théologie morale: méritait bien qu'on célèbre par un livre le deux-centenaire de la mort d'un personnage d'aussi grande stature. Les contributions rassemblées ici se développent selon trois grandes lignes directrices. L'une de celles-ci s'attache au Mezzogiorno du XVIIIe siècle et évoque les pesanteurs sociales, économiques, mentales et religieuses. Elles révèlent des populations que la confession de style rigoriste marginalisait religieusement. Un second éclairage met en lumière le missionnaire lévèque et l'ecrivain qui devint docteur parce qu'il était avant tout pasteur. Il tira alors de son expérience sur le terrain, comme prêtre et comme confesseur, une anthropologie chrétienne, équilibrée, à distance du pessimisme augustinien et de la naïveté optimiste de Rousseau. Enfin, une troisième série d'études suit les alas du liguorisme. Certaines affirmations matressées de sa théologie morale impressionnent encore aujourd'hui. Il lui fallut, en effet, une véritable audace dans le contexte de l'époque pour déclarer que la liberté est antérieure à la loi et pour souligner le nécessaire primat de la conscience. Deux siècles de distance, nous savons maintenant que le combat pour l'autonomie de celle-ci ne sera jamais terminé.
