Global Environment Outlook:

Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Summary for Policymakers UN Environment,2019-08-01 Published to coincide with the Fourth United Nations Environmental Assembly the Summary for Policymakers of the sixth Global Environment Outlook provides an evidence based source of environmental information to help policymakers in government local authorities and businesses achieve the UN s Sustainable Development Goals Since the first edition in 1997 there have been many examples of environmental improvement especially where problems have been well identified manageable and where regulatory and technological solutions have been readily available Nevertheless the overall condition of the global environment has deteriorated and urgent action involving ambitious and effective policies is necessary to arrest and reverse this situation This Summary for Policymakers answers key policy questions by assessing the drivers of environmental change the scale and effectiveness of policy responses potential pathways for achieving sustainability goals in an increasingly complex world and the data and information that can support the decision making process Also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Technical Summary UN Environment,2021-03-31 The sixth Global Environment Outlook was launched in 2019 at the fourth UN Environment Assembly It highlighted the ongoing damage to life and health from pollution and land degradation and warned that zoonosis was already accounting for more than 60% of human infectious diseases Since then the spread of COVID 19 has demonstrated the enormous challenges a global pandemic can cause for health care systems and the economy as well as revealing potential environmental benefits of an altered lifestyle This Technical Summary synthesizes the science and data in the GEO 6 report to make it accessible to a broad audience of policymakers students and scientists It demonstrates that more urgent and sustained action is required to address the degradation caused by our energy food and waste systems and identifies a variety of transformational pathways for those seeking far reaching policies for environmental and economic recovery Also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Global Environment Outlook - GEO-6: Healthy Planet, Healthy People UN Environment,2019-06-06 Published to coincide with the Fourth United Nations Environmental Assembly UN Environment s sixth Global Environment Outlook calls on decision makers to take bold and urgent action to address pressing environmental issues in order to protect the planet and human health By bringing together hundreds of scientists peer reviewers and collaborating institutions and partners the GEO reports build on sound scientific knowledge to provide governments local authorities businesses and individual citizens with the information needed to guide societies to a truly sustainable world by 2050 GEO 6 outlines the current state of the environment illustrates possible future environmental trends and analyses the effectiveness of policies This flagship report shows how governments can put us on the path to a truly sustainable future emphasising that urgent and inclusive action is needed to achieve a healthy planet with healthy people This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

scientific excellence government departments UN bodies and individual experts to present the most accurate and authoritative information available

Global Environment Outlook 4 United Nations Environment Programme, 2007 The fourth report in the Global Environment Outlook series provides a comprehensive scientifically credible policy relevant and up to date assessment of and outlook for the state of the global environment Environment for development is the GEO 4 underlying theme and the report pays special attention to the role and impact of the environment on human well being as well as to the use of environmental valuation as a tool for decision making GEO 4's 2007 publication date marks the half way point for the Millennium Development Goals The environment as well as being the subject of MDG 7 is also a thread that runs through all the goals Includes Errata

Global Environment Outlook United Nations Publications, 2017-04-03 The sixth Global Environment Outlook GEO 6 Regional Assessment for North America paints a comprehensive picture of the environmental factors contributing to human health and well being at the regional level

Global environment outlook, 2007 The fourth report in the Global Environment Outlook GEO series from the United Nations Environment Program UNEP provides a comprehensive scientifically credible policy relevant and up to date assessment of and outlook for the state of the global environment GEO 4 is published 20 years after the World Commission on Sustainable Developments Brundtland Report of 1987 Environment for Development is the GEO 4 underlying theme and the report pays special attention to the role and impact of the environment on human well being as well as to the use of environmental valuation as a tool for decision making GEO 4's specialized report the Summary for Decision Makers is an essential guide for policy makers Both publications are excellent tools for teaching and research and relevant in the field of international environmental governance as they highlight policy opportunities for a more sustainable approach to economic growth and development Publisher's description

Global Environment Outlook, 2004 GEO is both a series of periodic reports and an international participatory assessment process GEO projects two major objectives are to provide an overview of major environmental concerns and to set in motion a global participatory assessment process This document reports on a study commissioned in response to the Governing council's request for a Global Environment Outlook user profile and qualitative analysis of the actual use of the first and second Global Environment Outlook reports

Global Environment Outlook GEO 5 United Nations Environment Programme, 2012 This global assessment warns that the world continues to speed down an unsustainable path despite over 500 internationally agreed goals and objectives to support the sustainable management of the environment and improve human wellbeing The fifth edition of the Global Environmental Outlook GEO 5 launched on the eve of the Rio 20 Summit assessed 90 of the most important environmental goals and objectives and found that significant progress had only been made in four These are eliminating the production and use of substances that deplete the ozone layer removal of lead from fuel increasing access to improved water supplies and boosting research to reduce pollution of the marine environment Some progress was shown in 40 goals including the expansion of protected areas such as National Parks and efforts to reduce deforestation Little or no progress was detected for 24 including climate change fish stocks and desertification and drought Further deterioration was posted for eight goals including the state of the world s coral reefs while no assessment was made of 14 other goals due to a lack of data The report cautions that if humanity does not urgently change its ways several critical thresholds may be exceeded beyond which abrupt and generally irreversible changes to the life support functions of the planet could occur Yet meeting an ambitious set of sustainability targets by the middle of the century is possible if current policies and strategies are changed and strengthened Rio 20 provides an opportunity to assess achievements and shortcomings and stimulate transformative global responses Global environment outlook : environment for development ,1997 Global Environment Outlook 2000 United Nations Environment Programme,1999 This volume provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the conditions of the global environment highlighting key global concerns and making recommendations for policy action Global Environment Outlook Scenario Framework United Nations Environment Programme. Division of Early Warning and Assessment,Stockholm Environment Institute,2004 The UNEP s third Global Environment Outlook GEO 3 presents a 30 year retrospective analysis of environmental conditions and trends and associated policy responses UNEP s multi disciplinary methodologies for predicting future world environment scenarios are described including scenarios for CO2 emissions The publication concludes with tabulated data economic social energy food and agriculture and environmental from seven world regions Related UNEP publications include Global environment outlook 3 past present and future perspectives ISBN 9280720872 2002 Global Environment Outlook GEO 4, Environment for Development United Nations Environment Programme,2007 Global Environment Outlook 6 (GEO-6) United Nations Publications,2017-04-03 The GEO 6 regional assessment recognizes Africa s rich natural capital the diversity of soil geology biodiversity water landscapes and habitats which if wisely managed hold the promise to lead the region to a future where ecosystem integrity as well as human health and well being are continuously enhanced Global Environment Outlook UNEP. Executive Director,2000 Global Environment Outlook 2000 ,2009 Global Environment Outlook ,2002 Global Environment Outlook-1 , Provides access to the online report Global Environment Outlook 1 prepared by the United Nations Environment Programme UNEP Includes information on ordering the book and offers access to an executive summary as well as regional status and trend information Contains the full text of the report including acknowledgements a foreword the table of contents and information on environmental policy responses and directions Links to tables collaborating centers and information on other reports Keeping the World's Environment under Review Jan Bakkes,Marion Cheatle,Nora Mžavanadze,László Pintér,Ron Witt,Ronald G. Witt,2022-07-15 How do we take stock of the state and direction of the world s environment and what can we learn from the experience Among the myriad detailed narratives about the condition of the planet the Global Environment Outlook GEO reports issued by the United Nations Environment Programme stand out as the most ambitious For nearly three decades the GEO project has not only delivered iconic global assessment reports but through its multitude of contributors has inspired hundreds of similar processes worldwide from the regional to the local level This book provides an inside account of the evolution of the GEO project from its earliest days Building on meticulous research including interviews with former heads of the United Nations Environment Programme diplomats leading contributing scientists and senior leaders of collaborating organizations the story is told from the perspective of five GEO veterans who all played a pivotal role in shaping the periodic assessments The GEO s history provides striking insights and will save valuable time to those who commission design and conduct as well as critique and improve assessments of environmental development in the next decade      Global Environment Outlook 5 United Nations Environment Programme,2012
