Global Futures Migration Environment And Globalization:

Global Futures A. Brah, M. Hickman, M. Mac an Ghaill, 1999-04-30 Providing critical assessment of the globalization thesis through sustained analysis of the nexus of processes underlying social and cultural relations this book examines explores and teases out the many contradictions embedded within different discourses of globalization Together the various chapters in the collection offer a wide ranging critique of those accounts which represent globalization primarily if not exclusively as the classic story of European modernity with its attendant narratives of ostensibly unfettered movement of people unmitigated economic growth and social progress

Cultures of Globalization Kevin Archer, M. Martin Bosman, M. Mark Amen, Ella Schmidt, 2013-09-13 Much has been written about the economic and political implications of the contemporary process of globalization Much less has been written about the specific cultural implications Previously published as a special issue of Globalizations this book seeks to add to our knowledge of the latter by bringing together researchers from different disciplines with the common goal of exploring the emerging cultural relations among groups and individuals in terms of coherence and hybridity identity and allegiance and cooperation and conflict As the world's peoples increasingly travel work trade recreate and otherwise communicate with each other relative cultural isolation and isolationism is becoming less and less possible What does this mean for cultural coherence stability and identity across the planet What have been the cultural implications of and reactions to this increasing global interdependence among peoples From more global and theoretical perspectives to more empirical and case specific approaches the various authors attempt to come to terms with the ever evolving and complex cultural content of contemporary globalization

Global Technography Grant Kien, 2009 This series publishes critical scholarship that seeks to engage and transcend the disciplinary isolationism and genre confinement that now characterize so much of contemporary research in communication studies and related fields It focuses on studies that address the broad intersections and hybrid trajectories that define the encounters between human groups in modern institutions and societies and the way these intersections are represented in contemporary popular cultural forms of knowledge

A Globalizing World? David Held, 2004-08-02 This book examines contemporary debates in an accessible fashion offering a clear guide to one of the big issues of our time This important and innovative textbook will be welcomed across the social sciences

Dictionary of Globalization Andrew Jones, 2006-09-07 Publisher description

Global Nature, Global Culture Sarah Franklin, Celia Lury, Jackie Stacey, 2000-09-26 An excellent book The authors have the rare capacity to handle popular culture and case studies in a theoretically informed manner Original and well researched Mike Featherstone Nottingham Trent University Understandings of globalization have been little explored in relation to gender or related concerns such as identity subjectivity and the body This book contrasts the natural and the global as interpretive strategies using approaches from feminist cultural theory The book begins by introducing the central themes ideas of the natural questions of scale and context posed by globalization and their relation to forms of cultural production the transformation of genealogy and the emergence of interest in definitions of life and life forms The authors explores these questions through a number of case studies including Benneton advertising Jurassic Park The Body Shop British Airways Monsanto and Dolly the Sheep In order to respecify the nature culture and gender concerns of two decades of feminist theory this highly original book reflects hypothesizes and develops new interpretive possibilities within established feminist analytical frames

Mobile Urbanism Eugene McCann, Kevin Ward, 2011 How knowledge and power flow between places and impact cities worldwide

Race and Social Analysis Caroline Knowles, 2003 Caroline Knowles combines biographical and spatial analysis to provide an up to date account of the ways race and ethnicity operate in a global context She argues that race and ethnicity is intricately woven into the social landscapes in which we live

The Global Repositioning of Japanese Religions Ugo Dessi, 2016-07-01 The Global Repositioning of Japanese Religions An Integrated Approach explores how Japanese religions respond to the relativizing effects of globalization thereby repositioning themselves as global players Organized around concrete case studies focusing on the engagement of Japanese Buddhism Shinto and several new religious movements in areas such as ecology inter religious dialogue and politics this book shows that the globalization of Japanese religions cannot be explained simply in terms of worldwide institutional expansion Rather it is a complex phenomenon conditioned by a set of pervasive factors changes in consciousness the perception of affinities and resonances at the systemic and cultural levels processes of decontextualization and a wide range of power issues including the re enactment of cultural chauvinism The author investigates these dynamics systematically with attention to broader theoretical questions cross cultural similarities the definition of religion and the perils of ethnocentrism in order to develop his Global Repositioning model which constitutes an integrated approach to the study of Japanese religions under globalization An empirically grounded and theoretically informed study of the effects of global trends on local religions this book will appeal to scholars and students with interests in globalization religious studies Japanese studies Hawaii sociology anthropology and ecology

Digital Entrepreneurship in Africa Nicolas Friederici, Michel Wahome, Mark Graham, 2020-07-28 The hope and hype about African digital entrepreneurship contrasted with the reality on the ground in local ecosystems In recent years Africa has seen a digital entrepreneurship boom with hundreds of millions of dollars poured into tech cities entrepreneurship trainings coworking spaces innovation prizes and investment funds Politicians and technologists have offered Silicon Valley influenced narratives of boundless opportunity and exponential growth in which internet enabled entrepreneurship allows Africa to leapfrog developmental stages to take a leading role in the digital revolution This book contrasts these aspirations with empirical research about what is actually happening on the ground The authors find that although the digital revolution has empowered local entrepreneurs it does not untether local economies from the continent s structural legacies

Green Grabbing: A New Appropriation of Nature James Fairhead, Melissa Leach, Ian Scoones, 2014-10-29 Across the world ecosystems are for sale Green grabbing the appropriation of land and resources for environmental ends is an emerging process of deep and growing significance A vigorous debate on land grabbing already highlights instances where green credentials are called upon to justify appropriations of land for food or fuel Yet in other cases environmental green agendas are the core drivers and goals of grabs Green grabs may be driven by biodiversity conservation biocarbon sequestration biofuels ecosystem services or ecotourism for example In some cases these agendas involve the wholesale alienation of land and in others the restructuring of rules and authority in the access use and management of resources that may have profoundly alienating effects Green grabbing builds on well known histories of colonial and neo colonial resource alienation in the name of the environment Yet it involves novel forms of valuation commodification and markets for pieces and aspects of nature and an extraordinary new range of actors and alliances This book draws together seventeen original cases from African Asian and Latin American settings to ask To what extent and in what ways do green grabs constitute new forms of appropriation of nature What political and discursive dynamics underpin green grabs How and when do appropriations on the ground emerge out of circulations of green capital What are the implications for ecologies landscapes and livelihoods Who is gaining and who is losing How are agrarian social relations rights and authority being restructured and in whose interests This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies

Universities and Globalization

Ravinder Kaur Sidhu, 2006-08-15 Universities and Globalization To Market To Market examines the operations of power and knowledge in international education under conditions of globalization with a focus on the three biggest exporters of higher education the United States Australia and the United Kingdom An interdisciplinary approach based on the core social sciences is used to explore the power relations that shape global education networks The role of nation states in creating the conditions for education markets and the desire for a Westernized template of international education in the postcolonial world is discussed The volume offers a sophisticated attempt to recast international education as a series of geopolitical and geoeconomic engagements that transcend simple supply and demand dynamics Engaging with the theoretical debates about education and globalization this book examines global cultural flows and boundary crossings the cultural economy of education networks and the possibilities for supra territorial subjectivities International education markets are examined from the perspectives of both first world producers and postcolonial consumers By investigating how first world universities imagine and enact the global in their marketing practices the expressions of cultural diversity valued by education markets and the types of individual and institutional subjectivities merging from markets Universities and Globalization To Market To Market offers students faculty administrators marketing consultants and others who work in the area a highly nuanced account of the global relations fostered by education markets This original critical examination of the forms and cultural politics of international education is a significant contribution to the field

Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2019-12-26 Women are the exclusive focus of the 38th volume of Geographers For the first time in the series history the entire volume is devoted to important work of distinguished female geographers amply demonstrating how these scholars professional lives enrich the discipline's history. It also illustrates how reading and writing their biographies not only expands our understanding of geography's past but points to its more diverse future. The collection includes biographies of Doreen Massey, winner of geography's Nobel prize, the prix Vautrin Lud for her remarkable contribution to geography and neighbouring disciplines which discovered the importance of space through her work; Helen Wallis, geographer and historian of cartography who for many years had charge of the UK's foremost collection of maps; Alice Saunier Set who applied her geographical training and formidable energy to teaching and educational reform in France; Isabel Margarida Andr who lived through a turbulent political period in her native Portugal and meticulously investigated its effect on women and political geography; and the many women who helped to create the UK's first Geography department, the University of Oxford's School of Geography, including Fanny Herbertson, Nora MacMunn, Marjorie Sweeting, Mary Marshall, Barbara Kennedy and other women geographers who are memorialised in a group article. The Legacy of Leo Strauss Tony Burns, James Connelly, 2016-12-22. Leo Strauss was a political philosopher who died in 1973 but came to prominent attention in the United States and also Britain around the beginning of the War in Iraq. Charges began emerging that architects of the war such as Paul Wolfowitz and large numbers of staff in the US State and Defense Departments had studied with or been influenced by the academic work of Strauss and his followers. A vague but powerful idea was generated in the popular press that a group known as the Straussians had been instrumental in the long range strategic planning of American foreign policy both to advance American interests and to encourage democratic revolutions outside the West. This volume of essays opens up the topic of Leo Strauss and the Straussians to those outside the relatively narrow circles who have been concerned with him and his followers up to now. Geographies of Power Andrew Herod, Melissa W. Wright, 2008-04-15. At a time when references to things global have gained more currency than ever, this book explores the nexus of power and space behind the politics of geographical scale. Explores the nexus of power and space behind the rescaling of contemporary social, economic and political life. Organized into three sections on theorizing scale, the discourses and rhetorics of scale, and scales of activism. Will stimulate discussion about how conceptions and visions of scale inform all aspects of social life. The Blackwell Companion to Social Inequalities Mary Romero, Eric Margolis, 2008-04-15. The Blackwell Companion to Social Inequalities is a first-rate collection of social science scholarship on inequalities, emphasizing race, ethnicity, class, gender, sexuality, age, and nationality. Highlights themes that represent the scope and range of theoretical orientations, contemporary emphases, and emerging topics in the field of social inequalities. Gives special attention to debates in the field, developing trends, and directions, and interdisciplinary influences in the study of social inequalities. Includes an editorial introduction and suggestions for further reading. Education Research and Policy Jennifer Ozga, Terri Seddon, Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2006. The 2006 edition of one of the most respected annual publications in education, focusing on research and its effects on educational policy around the globe. Gender and the Politics of Possibilities Manisha Desai, 2009. Gender and the Politics of

Possibilities explores the lesser known side of globalization beyond the effects of national governments and multinational cooperations by taking a look at grassroots movements by women that have shaped and continue to shape globalization today Manisha Desai highlights the significant role that women play in cross border trade in Africa in transborder activism on issues that affect women and in cultural change and social justice BOOK JACKET Approaches to Human Geography Stuart C. Aitken, Gill Valentine, 2014-12-01 The book covers some of the traditionally most obtuse and difficult to grasp philosophical ideas that have influenced geographers geography The fact that these are presented in an inclusive and accessible manner is a key strength Many students have commented that the chapters they have read have encouraged them to read more in this field which is fantastic from a lecturer s perspective Richard White Sheffield Hallam University A new edition of the classic Approaches text for students organised in three sections which overviews and explains the history and philosophy of Human Geographies in all its applications by those who practise it Section One Philosophies Positivist Geography Humanism Feminist Geographies Marxisms Structuration Theory Human Animal Realism Postmodern Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Actor Network Theory Postcolonialism Geohumanities Technologies Section Two People Institutions and Cultures Places and Contexts Memories and Desires Understanding Place Personal and Political Becoming a Geographer Movement and Encounter Spaces and Flows Places as Thoughts Section Three Practices Mapping and Geovisualization Quantification Evidence and Positivism Geographic Information Systems Humanism Activism Feminist Geographies Poststructuralist Theories Psychoanalysis Environmental Inquiry Contested Geographies and Culture Wars Fully updated throughout and with eight brand new chapters this is the core text for modules on history theory and practice in Human Geography Corridors of Power Catherine A.
