Globalization And Democratization In Asia The Construction Of Identity:

Globalization and Democratization in Asia Catarina Kinnvall, Kristina Jönsson, 2002 An interdisciplinary text this volume shows how simplified views of globalization that define it as either good or bad are unhelpful when analysing the impact globalizing forces are having on Asian societies Globalization and Democratization in Asia Kristina Jönsson, Catarina Kinnvall, 2003-09-02 Globalization is a defining feature of our times covering everything from economic and political issues to the spread of American culture Its status is controversial however with some viewing it as leading to greater development for all while others see it as a threat to national cultures and democratic political life This book shows how simplified such binary views are and examines how various globalizing forces have affected Asian societies It discusses the relationship between globalization identity and democratic developments in Asia both theoretically and empirically and aims to understand how economic political and social forces interact and are mutually reinforced in Asian societies State Institutions, Civic Associations, and Identity Demands Amy H. Liu, Joel Selway, 2024-03-12 While the media tends to pay the most attention to violent secessionist movements or peaceful independence movements it is just as important to understand why there are regions where political movements for autonomy fail to develop In neglecting regions without political movements or full blown independence demands theories may be partial at best and incorrect at worst State Institutions Civic Associations and Identity Demands examines over a dozen regions comparing and contrasting successful cases to abandoned unsuccessful or dormant cases The cases range from successful secession East Timor Singapore and ongoing secessionist movements Southern Philippines to internally divided regional movements Kachin State low level regionalist stirrings Lanna Taiwan and local but not regional mobilization of identity Bali Minahasan all the way to failed movements Bataks South Maluku and regions that remain politically inert East and North Malaysia Northeast Thailand While each chapter is written by a country expert the contributions rely on a range of methods from comparative historical analysis to ethnography field interviews and data from public opinion surveys Together they contribute important new knowledge on little known cases that nevertheless illuminate the history of regions and ethnic groups in Southeast Asia Although focused on Southeast Asia the book identifies the factors that can explain why movements emerge and successfully develop and concludes with a chapter by Henry Hale that illustrates how this can be applied globally Contesting Malaysia's Integration into the World Economy Rajah Rasiah, Azirah Hashim, Jatswan S. Sidhu, 2021-05-15 This book brings together a set of incisive essays that interrogate Malaysian history and social relations which began during pre colonial times and extended to colonial and post colonial Malaysia It addresses economic misinterpretations of the role of markets in the way colonial industrialisation evolved the nature of exploitation of workers and the participation of local actors in shaping a wide range of socioeconomic and political processes In doing so it takes the lead from the innovative historian Shaharil Talib Robert who argued that the recrafting of history should go beyond the use of conventional methodologies and analytic techniques It is in that tradition that the chapters offer a semblance of causality contingency contradictions and connections With that the analysis in each chapter utilises approaches appropriate for the topics chosen which include history anthropology sociology economics politics and international relations The collection of chapters also offer novel interpretations to contest and fill gaps that have not been addressed in past works The book is essential reading for history students and those interested in Malaysian history in particular

Asian Perspectives on Education: Inclusivity and Diversity Jie Zhang,Natalie Sarrazin,2025-01-07 The idea of Asia is contested in the literature as a concept in terms of unification in any sense e g regionally economically and politically see Duara 1995 2019 Acharya 2010 which makes a book of this nature challenging The use of inclusion and diversity as a lens of discovery is not only synchronically topical but provides an important outlet for unheard voices and marginalized perspectives otherwise silenced or ignored in education and Asian literature The lens by which the book is written combines multiple streams of diversity and inclusion with that of K 12 and higher education in an Asian context and it allows room for individual Asian voices and perspectives both in and outside the classroom Inspired by a panel presented at the 2021 New York Conference on Asian Studies NYCAS on the very topic of inclusivity and diversity in Asian education the book broadened the original focus from the COVID centered to one that allowed the exploration of a wider geographic area and cultural area as well as new subjects Moreover our text includes a focus on individuals with disabilities multicultural education and cross disciplinary efforts across cultures This book covers broader topics regarding inclusivity and diversity in education from multiple Asian perspectives and ranges from various educational levels that is elementary secondary and post secondary institutions different school settings that is public and private schools and a variety of Asian countries and areas that is Bangladesh China India Indonesia Japan Jordan and Taiwan This book gives a well rounded representation of the issues through theoretical focus practical applications and research studies contributed by authors from various international institutions and countries or countries of origin including Bangladesh China Germany India Indonesia Japan Jordan and the United States

Poverty and Governance in South Asia Syeda Naushin Parnini,2014-11-20 Across South Asia in the last two decades there has been widespread emphasis on governance reforms aiming to reduce poverty through Millennium Development Goals MDGs The recent development agenda has had great impact over the region and this book finds that it largely widens the gap between the rich and poor which combined with rising inflation contributes to political instability. The book analyses the discourses of development agenda and governance crisis and provides a survey of the region by not only focusing on India, Pakistan and Bangladesh but also on the smaller countries in the region such as Bhutan. Explaining three components of the development agenda as criteria for economic development, poverty reduction, governance reforms and civil society participation through liberal democracy, this book explores the consequences of the neo liberal democracy and recent development agenda coupled with governance reforms. This work argues that the political economy of South Asia is largely derived from experiences of historical colonialism and recent changes driven by contemporary rise of India as a global power after the triumph of new liberal democracy and market capitalism in the post cold war era. It proposes a strengthening of the instruments of endogenous governance and people's participation in South Asian countries to reduce poverty through MDGs and other development goals in combination with top down and bottom up approaches. Offering an understanding of governance and development in the context of the South Asia, this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of Political Economics, International Development Studies, Political Science and Governance Studies as well as policy makers.

Routledge Handbook of New Media in Asia Larissa Hjorth, Olivia Khoo, 2015-11-06. While a decade ago much of the discussion of new media in Asia was couched in Occidental notions of Asia as a default setting for technology in the future, today we are seeing a much more complex picture of contesting new media practices and production. As new media becomes increasingly an everyday reality for young and old across Asia through smartphones and associated devices, boundaries between art, new media and the everyday are transformed. This Handbook addresses the historical, social, cultural, political, philosophical, artistic and economic dimensions of the region's new media. Through an interdisciplinary revision of both new media and Asia, the contributors provide new insights into the complex and contesting terrains of both notions. The Routledge Handbook of New Media in Asia will be the definitive publication for readers interested in comprehending all the various aspects of new media in Asia. It provides an authoritative up to date, intellectually broad, conceptually cutting edge guide to the important aspects of new media in the region as the first point of consultation for researchers, advanced level undergraduate and postgraduate students in fields of new media and Asian studies.

Social Activism in Southeast Asia Michele Ford, 2013. Social Activism in Southeast Asia examines the ways in which social movements operate in a region characterized by a history of authoritarian regimes and relatively weak civil society. It situates cutting edge accounts of activism around civil and political rights, globalization, peace, the environment, migrant and factory labour, the rights of middle and working class women and sexual identity in an overarching framework of analysis that forefronts the importance of human rights and the state as a focus for social activism. Drawing on contemporary evidence from Cambodia, Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Timor Leste, the book explores the ways in which social movement actors engage with their international allies the community and the state in order to promote social change As well as providing detailed and nuanced analyses of particular movements in specific areas of Southeast Asia the book addresses difficult questions about the politics strategies and authenticity of social movements Cosmopolitanism, Religion and the Public Sphere Maria

Rovisco, Sebastian Kim, 2014-02-05 Although emerging scholarship in the social sciences suggests that religion can be a potential catalyst of cosmopolitanism and global citizenship few attempts have been made to bring to the fore new theoretical positions and empirical analyses of how cosmopolitanism as a philosophical notion a practice and identity outlook can also shape and inform concrete religious affiliations Key questions concerning the significance of cosmopolitan ideas and practices in relation to particular religious experiences and discourses remain to be explored both theoretically and empirically This book takes as its starting point the emergence of cosmopolitanism as a major interdisciplinary field as a springboard for generating a productive dialogue among scholars working within a variety of intellectual disciplines and methodological traditions The chapter contributions offer a serious attempt to critically engage both the limitations and possibilities of cosmopolitanism as an analytical and critical tool to understand a changing religious landscape in a globalizing world namely the so called new religious diversity religious conflict and issues of migration multiculturalism and transnationalism vis vis the public exercise of religion The contributors work is situated in a range of world sites in Africa India North America Latin America and Europe This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of globalization religion and politics and the sociology of religion Hard Choices Donald K Emmerson, 2003-08-01 The region s most powerful organization ASEAN is being challenged to ensure security and encourage democracy while simultaneously reinventing itself as a model of Asian regionalism Should ASEAN s leaders defend a member country s citizens against state predation for the sake of justice and risk splitting ASEAN itself Or should regional leaders privilege state security over human security for the sake of order and risk being known as a dictators club Should ASEAN isolate or tolerate the junta in Myanmar Is democracy a requisite to security or is it the other way around How can democratization become a regional project without first transforming the Association into a peoplecentered organization But how can ASEAN reinvent itself along such lines if its member states are not already democratic How will its new Charter affect ASEAN s ability to make these hard choices How is regionalism being challenged by transnational crime infectious disease and other border jumping threats to human security in Southeast Asia Why have regional leaders failed to stop the perennial regional haze from brush fires in democratic Indonesia Does democracy help or hinder nuclear energy security in the region In this timely book the second of a three book series focused on Asian regionalism ten analysts from six countries address these and other pressing questions that Southeast Asia faces in the twenty first century Human Rights in Asia D. Kingsbury, 2008-09-29

This book offers a critical reassessment of the Asian values debate which dominated the human rights discourse in the late 1990s and a reappraisal of the human rights situation in Asia since then The chapters in this book contextualize the debate and examine in what ways the issues raised then continue to trouble Asian societies The SAGE Handbook of Modern Japanese Studies James D Babb, 2014-12-15 A welcome addition to any reading list for those interested in contemporary Japanese society Roger Goodman Nissan Professor of Modern Japanese Society University of Oxford I know no better book for an accessible and up to date introduction to this complex subject than The SAGE Handbook of Modern Japan Studies Hiroko Takeda Associate Professor Organization for Global Japanese Studies University of Tokyo Pioneering and nuanced in analysis yet highly accessible and engaging in style Yoshio Sugimoto Emeritus Professor La Trobe University The SAGE Handbook of Modern Japanese Studies includes outstanding contributions from a diverse group of leading academics from across the globe This volume is designed to serve as a major interdisciplinary reference work and a seminal text both rigorous and accessible to assist students and scholars in understanding one of the major nations of the world James D Babb is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Geography Politics and Sociology at Newcastle University Violent Neoliberalism S.
