enabled them to lead an exotic lifestyle in Ireland Although much has been written regarding the social and political history of the Anglo Irish in Ireland little research has been conducted into the practical problems of living there At a time when there were few roads no railways and sailing ships were the unreliable connection with England existence might have been very basic indeed Charles Carson uncovers and explains in simple terms the technologies employed to not only make life bearable but in some case to become a triumph over seemingly impossible odds An appreciation of this background helps to explain the sense of status and independence that emanates from the big house in Ireland until their demise in the late twentieth century Interdisciplinary investigative methods were used in this work These included extensive archival research of estate papers throughout Ireland fieldwork involving examination and photography of still extant big house technology and the use of published fictional and biographical big house material Much additional insight and suggestions for further research resulted from visits to various big house locations Owners often descendants of the original families or managers and ground staff provided important local knowledge Climbing amongst stored artefacts in cellars barns and subterranean tunnels helped to bring the past alive Something of the ambiance of these explorations informs this book thus helping towards an understanding of the fundamental importance of technology in underpinning the status and independence of the big house in Ireland By examining the range costs and changing nature of the technologies employed this book makes an important contribution to a deeper understanding of life in the big house in Ireland circa 1800 to circa 1930 Brief descriptions accompanied by drawings or photographs are employed to explain the operation limitations and improvements of many of the installations and techniques These include water closets pumps cisterns boilers and firefighting equipment open fires hot air stoves and central heating walled gardens hot walls and beds warm air steam and hot water heating of glasshouses the construction location stocking and use of ice houses and ice daylight enhancement candle oil gas and electric lighting an optical telegraph a church spire engine driven equipment on the estate farm as well as mapping of bogs and their reclamation by wooden railways Technology and the Big House in Ireland c 1800 c 1930 is an important reference source for Irish study groups worldwide Time Out Ireland ,2011 A guide to traveling in Ireland covering both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland with descriptions of places to visit things to do annual festivals and sporting events as well as listings of places to eat drink and stay for every budget Includes maps Georgina Campbell's Ireland for Garden Lovers Georgina Campbell,Marianne Heron,2006 This magical book is both a guide to the most delightful places for garden lovers to stay and eat and a guide to the top gardens of Ireland providing a wonderful framework for the garden lover s Irish vacation Simple and user friendly the book includes around one hundred tip top gardens arranged by area with up to the minute practical information photographs and maps Insight Guides Ireland \(Travel Guide eBook\) Insight Guides,2019-08-01 Let us guide you on every step of your travels From deciding when to go to choosing what to see when you arrive Insight Guide Ireland is all you need to plan your trip and experience the best of Ireland with in depth insider
