problems in the family and places these results within the broader context of the international literature on the subject By investigating the similarities and differences in the experiences of family members in three parts of the world the authors reveal results which have far reaching implications for professional intervention and prevention Subjects covered include models of understanding how families continue to be pathologised and misunderstood how family members cope an integrated view of alcohol and drug problems in the family ways of empowering family members This book aims to demonstrate the possibility of a constructive alliance between professionals substance misusing relatives and the affected family members by thoroughly investigating the dilemmas that face family members and the lack of support they experience This fascinating insight into the impact of alcohol and drug problems on family members will be a valuable resource for all those who are interested in substance misuse in family and cultural contexts and particularly those who are interested in the treatment of alcohol and other drug problems

Governing Australia Mitchell Dean, Barry Hindess, 1998-06-22 Inspired by Foucault's discussion of governmentality this book makes a major contribution to our understanding of government The book is interdisciplinary in approach and combines theoretical discussion with empirical focus It includes a substantial introduction by the editors and contains work critiquing the central notion of governmentality A range of topics are discussed including regulation of the unemployed and people with HIV AIDS sexual harassment in the military the corporatisation of education new contractualism and governing personality While their topics are varied the contributors explore a range of shared concerns including notions of problematisation expert knowledge rationality freedom and autonomy giving the volume focus and rigour This book will be essential reading in political science sociology law philosophy education and economics

Social Change and Psychosocial Adaptation in the Pacific Islands Anthony J. Marsella, Ayda Aukahi Austin, Bruce Grant, 2006-05-31 The Pacific Island oceanic and rim nations include many traditional societies and emerging nations that have experienced abusive histories of colonization exploitation and social change and upheaval Their peoples are struggling to restore traditional cultural heritages and identities in a world community dominated by Western values and lifestyles The conflicts uncertainties and instability of this transitional time are reflected in these populations current social and psychological difficulties This volume is one of the few devoted to these issues and covering a range of problems including substance abuse hopelessness violence crime abuse juvenile delinquency suicide and AIDS

Circulating Cultures Amanda Harris, 2014-12-18 Circulating Cultures is an edited book about the transformation of cultural materials through the Australian landscape The book explores cultural circulation exchange and transit through events such as the geographical movement of song series across the Kimberley and Arnhem Land the transformation of Australian Aboriginal dance in the hands of an American choreographer and the indigenisation of symbolic meanings in heavy metal music Circulating Cultures crosses disciplinary boundaries with contributions from historians musicologists linguists and dance historians to depict shifts of cultural materials through time place and interventions from people It looks at the way Indigenous and non

Indigenous performing arts have changed through intercultural influence and collaboration      The SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology Richard Fardon,Oliva Harris,Trevor H J Marchand,Cris Shore,Veronica Strang,Richard Wilson,Mark Nuttall,2012-07-25 In two volumes the SAGE Handbook of Social Anthropology provides the definitive overview of contemporary research in the discipline It explains the what where and how of current and anticipated work in Social Anthropology With 80 authors contributing more than 60 chapters this is the most comprehensive and up to date statement of research in Social Anthropology available and the essential point of departure for future projects The Handbook is divided into four sections Part I Interfaces examines Social Anthropology s disciplinary connections from Art and Literature to Politics and Economics from Linguistics to Biomedicine from History to Media Studies Part II Places examines place region culture and history from regional area studies to a globalized world Part III Methods examines issues of method from archives to war zones from development projects to art objects and from ethics to comparison Part IV Futures anticipates anthropologies to come in the Brain Sciences in post Development in the Body and Health and in new Technologies and Materialities Edited by the leading figures in social anthropology the Handbook includes a substantive introduction by Richard Fardon a think piece by Jean and John Comaroff and a concluding last word on futures by Marilyn Strathern The authors each at the leading edge of the discipline contribute in depth chapters on both the foundational ideas and the latest research Comprehensive and detailed this magisterial Handbook overviews the last 25 years of the social anthropological imagination It will speak to scholars in Social Anthropology and its many related disciplines      Growing up Indigenous:

Developing Effective Pedagogy for Education and Development R.M. Nichol,2011-07-23 This is a fascinating account of traditional socialisation and Indigenous forms of learning in Australia and Melanesia It draws from rich ethnographic historical and educational material There has never been a greater need for a socially and historically informed yet critical account of the mismatch between traditional ways realities of life in Indigenous communities villages and enclaves and the forms of education provided in schools Raymond Nichol a specialist in Indigenous education and pedagogy surveys the links too often disparities between ethnographic detail of life on the ground and the schooling provided by nation states in this vast region Most importantly he explores and suggests ways community developers and educators Indigenous and non Indigenous may work to bridge the gaps in social rights educational and economic development This is relevant for all Indigenous communities their survival and development Many vexed issues are discussed such as race ethnicity identity discrimination self determination development and relevant effective pedagogical learning and schooling strategies      Sex, Drugs and Young People Peter Aggleton,Andrew Ball,Purnima Mane,2013-09-13 Sexual practices and drug use among the young are examined in this book calling into question mainstream assumptions about adolescence Bringing together a range of cross cultural and cross national contributions the book reveals both similarities and important differences that mark sexuality and drug use among young in different social and cultural settings In doing so it allows the reader to build up a clearer understanding of the challenges that must be faced in public health and education if we are to develop programs and interventions that really serve the needs of young people The book will be of interest to professionals working with young people and is suitable for a wide range of multidisciplinary courses covering areas such as human sexuality sex education public health and social work      Crime in Rural Australia Elaine Barclay, 2007 Crime in Rural Australia brings together leading academics who examine the major dimensions of crime and justice in rural and regional Australia      Dog Ear Cafe Andrew Stojanovski, 2018-11-01 Dog Ear Cafe is a true life adventure story about how one Aboriginal community beat the odds and defeated petrol sniffing It tells of the Mt Theo Petrol Sniffing Program a story of culture clash of two lines of fire that meet in the desert night of partnerships that cross Australia's racial divide Woven throughout are humour taboos bush mechanics hope and tragedy In a colloquial and narrative manner this book invites the reader to a deeper analysis of the assumptions behind white and black economics indigenous alcoholism welfare dependency and the failure of well intended policy and programs Hidden in the subtext is a mud map for reproducing successful partnerships with indigenous Australians The Mt Theo Program was founded in 1994 when half the teenage population of Yuendumu were sniffing Eight years later no one sniffed and ex sniffers had become youth leaders and community workers The elders of Mt Theo used their traditional bush knowledge to turn lives around      Indigenous Australian Youth Futures Kate Senior, Richard Chenhall, Victoria Burbank, 2021-07-08 Adolescents are at a critical life stage where they will soon be able to contribute to the wellbeing of humankind or do it great harm Consequently it is vital that the challenges and possibilities of adolescence be well understood and addressed In Australia such understanding is urgently needed with respect to Aboriginal adolescents Not only must they adjust to their changing bodies and minds but they must negotiate these changes within a context usually characterised by racism and poverty They must also do this within intercultural environments that include the disparate and sometimes incompatible beliefs and practices of their multicultural populations The chapters in this collection address these challenges to Aboriginal adolescents in the Northern Territory and the intercultural contexts in which they take place Their discussions include the adolescents experiences with health and health care education and the criminal justice system They also address their hopes dreams plans and politics engagement with social media food preferences and nutrition engagement with language family and changing mores affecting sexual behaviour and marriage The book aims to provide readers with a greater understanding of the day to day lives of Aboriginal adolescents and some of the adults who care for or neglect them It seeks to provide readers with a better understanding of the circumstances processes and factors that affect adolescent health wellbeing and future prospects in their intercultural environments and glimpse the multiplicity of these circumstances processes and factors and the complexity of their interaction      Experiments in self-determination Nicolas Peterson, Fred Myers, 2016-01-21 Outstations which dramatically increased in numbers in the 1970s are small decentralised and relatively permanent communities of kin established by Aboriginal people on land that has social cultural or economic significance to them In 2015 they yet again came under attack this time as an expensive lifestyle choice that can no longer be supported by state governments Yet outstations are the original and most striking manifestation of remote area Aboriginal people's aspirations for self determination and of the life projects by which they seek and have sought autonomy in deciding the meaning of their life independently of projects promoted by the state and market They are not simply projects of isolation from outside influences as they have sometimes been characterised but attempts by people to take control of the course of their lives In the sometimes acrimonious debates about outstations the lived experiences motivations and histories of existing communities are missing For this reason we invited a number of anthropological witnesses to the early period in which outstations gained a purchase in remote Australia to provide accounts of what these communities were like and what their residents aspirations and experiences were Our hope is that these closer to the ground accounts provide insight into and understanding of what Indigenous aspirations were in the establishment and organisation of these communities This volume will be a great addition not only to the origins and history of outstations but in light of the closing of over 100 Aboriginal communities in Western Australia it should be a required bedtime reading for all politicians across Australia The contributors do not simply concentrate on the so called outstations movement of the 1970s but rather help the reader understand why in the 1930s 40 50s and 60s Aboriginal people moved away from cattle stations missions and settlements to reconstruct their moral compass in settings which made more contemporaneous sense not only to them but often to the whites who were there as well Professor Francoise Dussart University of Connecticut

The Resisting Muse: Popular Music and Social Protest Ian Peddie, 2017-09-29 Popular music has traditionally served as a rallying point for voices of opposition across a huge variety of genres This volume examines the various ways popular music has been deployed as anti establishment and how such opposition both influences and responds to the music produced Implicit in the notion of resistance is a broad adversarial hegemony against which opposition is measured But it would be wrong to regard the music of popular protest as a kind of dialogue in league against the establishment Convenient though they are such as and their arguments bespeak a rather shop worn stance redolent of youthful rebellion It is much more fruitful to perceive the relationship as a complex dialectic where musical protest is as fluid as the audiences to which it appeals and the hegemonic structures it opposes The book's contemporary focus largely post 1975 allows for comprehensive coverage of extremely diverse forms of popular music in relation to the creation of communities of protest Because such communities are fragmented and diverse the shared experience and identity popular music purports is dependent upon an audience collectivity that is now difficult to presume In this respect The Resisting Muse examines how the forms and aims of social protest music are contingent upon the audience's ability to invest the music with the appropriate political meaning Amongst a plethora of artists genres and themes highlights include discussions of Aboriginal rights and music Bauhaus Black Sabbath Billy Bragg Bono Cassette culture The Capitol Steps Class The Cure DJ Spooky Drum and Bass Eminem Farm Aid Foxy Brown Folk Goldie Gothicism Woody Guthrie Heavy

People and Change in Indigenous Australia Diane Austin-Broos, Francesca Merlan, 2017-11-30 People and Change in Indigenous Australia arose from a conviction that more needs to be done in anthropology to give a fuller sense of the changing lives and circumstances of Australian indigenous communities and people Much anthropological and public discussion remains embedded in traditionalizing views of indigenous people and in accounts that seem to underline essential and apparently timeless difference In this volume the editors and contributors assume that the person is socially defined and reconfigured as contexts change both immediate and historical Essays in this collection are grounded in Australian locales commonly termed remote These indigenous communities were largely established as residential concentrations by Australian governments some first as missions most in areas that many of the indigenous people involved consider their homelands A number of these settlements were located in proximity to settler industries pastoralism market gardening and mining locales that many non indigenous Australians think of as the homes of the most traditional indigenous communities and people The contributors discuss the changing circumstances of indigenous people who originate from such places revealing a diversity of experiences and histories that involve major dynamics of disembedding from country and home locales re embedding in new contexts and reconfigurations of relatedness The essays explore dimensions of change and continuity in childhood experience and socialization in a desert community the influence of Christianity in fostering both individuation and relatedness in northeast Arnhem Land the diaspora of Central Australian Warlpiri people to cities and the forms of life and livelihood they make there adolescent experiences of schooling away from home communities youth in kin based heavy metal gangs configuring new identities and indigenous people of southeast Australia reflecting on whether an Aboriginal way can be sustained By taking a step toward understanding the relation between changing circumstances and changing lives of indigenous Australians the volume provides a sense of the quality and feel of those lives
