The Architecture of Alexandria and Egypt, C. 300 B.C. to A.D. 700 Judith McKenzie,Rhys-Davids Junior Research Fellow in Archaeology Judith McKenzie,Peter Roger Stuart Moorey,2007-01-01 This masterful history of the monumental architecture of Alexandria as well as of the rest of Egypt encompasses an entire millennium from the city s founding by Alexander the Great in 331 B C to the years just after the Islamic conquest of A D 642 Long considered lost beyond recall the architecture of ancient Alexandria has until now remained mysterious But here Judith McKenzie shows that it is indeed possible to reconstruct the city and many of its buildings by means of meticulous exploration of archaeological remains written sources and an array of other fragmentary evidence The book approaches its subject at the macro and the micro level from city planning building types and designs to architectural style It addresses the interaction between the imported Greek and native Egyptian traditions the relations between the architecture of Alexandria and the other cities and towns of Egypt as well as the wider Mediterranean world and Alexandria s previously unrecognized role as a major source of architectural innovation and artistic influence Lavishly illustrated with new plans of the city in the Ptolemaic Roman and Byzantine periods reconstruction drawings and photographs the book brings to life the ancient city and uncovers the true extent of its architectural legacy in the Mediterranean world

Origins of the Colonnaded Streets in the Cities of the Roman East Ross Burns,2017-06-02 The colonnaded axes define the visitor s experience of many of the great cities of the Roman East How did this extraordinarily bold tool of urban planning evolve The street instead of remaining a mundane passage a convenient means of passing from one place to another was in the course of little more than a century transformed in the Eastern provinces into a monumental landscape which could in one sweeping vision encompass the entire city The colonnaded axes became the touchstone by which cities competed for status in the Eastern Empire Though adopted as a sign of cities prosperity under the Pax Romana they were not particularly Roman in their origin Rather they reflected the inventiveness fertility of ideas and the dynamic role of civic patronage in the Eastern provinces in the first two centuries under Rome This study will concentrate on the convergence of ideas behind these great avenues examining over fifty sites in an attempt to work out the sequence in which ideas developed across a variety of regions from North Africa around to Asia Minor It will look at the phenomenon in the context of the consolidation of Roman rule
