Heloise, Hints for a Healthy Planet Heloise,1990 Informative tips for more efficient and economical living at home and at work Heloise from A to Z Updated Heloise,1992-05-01 Readers demanded it so here it is a book of priceless hints in dictionary form for people who are so busy they don't even have time to look something up in an index Included are some new hints some old favorites and some new old hints old favorites with a new twist The wide array of topics includes removing stains from clothing unstopping drains fixing squeaky floors and saving supermarket dollars In addition there are scores of hints on using and caring for the modern home's high tech equipment such as microwaves home computers VCR's and more There are also time and money saving checklists for avoiding allergens saving energy winterizing cars running a garage sale avoiding income tax mistakes and selling a house Not forgotten are shopping checklists useful to any consumer but especially helpful to inexperienced buyers who too often pay more for less This is the first household self help book of Heloise's timeless wisdom to be presented in a convenient easy to use dictionary format Ecocritique Timothy W. Luke,1997 The Symbolic Earth James G. Cantrill,Christine L. Oravec,2021-10-21 The core dilemma in environmental advocacy may be illustrated by the question When we communicate about the world should we stress what we know or what we feel The contributors to The Symbolic Earth argue that it is more important to decide how we should talk about what we know and feel In their view the environment is largely a product of how we talk about the world Because the environment is a social construction the only hope we have of preserving it is to understand and alter the fundamental ways we discuss it This collection first examines the ways in which discourse creates environment perceptions Subjects discussed range from the description of natural scenery to the advocacy of political interest groups from the everyday interactions of citizens facing environmental crises to the greenwashing of corporate imagemakers and from the psychology of the mass public to the social constructions of the mass media The authors include nationally known scholars of environmental history rhetorical theory ethnography communication and journalism studies public policy and media criticism Consumer Economics: A Practical Overview Steven Dale Soderlind,2016-09-16 This work focuses on the service economy it introduces the fundamentals of markets consumer choice financial assessment risk avoidance and other topics □□□□□□□□□□,2005 1400 Heloise from A to Z in Large Print Heloise,1993 Slug Bread and Beheaded Thistles Ellen Sandbeck,2000 An advocate for organic household cleaners and pesticides shares her favorite methods for maintaining a clean home and a glowing garden naturally Global Change--what You Can Do United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation,1991 In the Nature of Things Jane Bennett,William Chaloupka,1993 Annotation Informed by recent developments in literary criticism and social theory this book addresses the presumption that nature exists independent of culture and in particular of language Military Kids Speak Julie Rahm,2011-02-04 Celebrating the role military families play in the success of America as well as their individual accomplishments Military Kids Speak by former naval physicist and author Julie Rahm is a fascinating and inspired account of what it takes to be a military kid It s a team effort with a common goal the mission is to describe what it means to be a part of a military family what it takes to persevere when it comes to deployments and living abroad It s also a candid account of the military lifestyle and how special it is to be a child of a hero In two parts and seventeen chapters with titles like Military Kids Speak about Deployments Military Kids Speak about Living Abroad and Military Kids Speak about Making Friends this engaging conversational book begins with over two dozen essays written by today s military kids These young authors aged ten to sixteen discuss the rollercoaster ride of military life it s perks and privileges as well as its hardships and heartaches while the second half comprises twelve in depth interviews with famous former military kids like Justice Leah Ward Sears Newt Gingrich Shaquille O Neal and Mark Hamill Being a military kid is special a childhood spent with the military is an adventure This first volume of Military Kids Speak is a narrative of what American kids of servicemen and servicewomen sacrifice for their country day in and day out all over the world and what they have to say about it

Six Weeks to a Simpler Lifestyle Barbara DeGrote-Sorensen, The authors of Tis a Gift to Be Simple share practical insights and discoveries they ve encountered on their road to a simpler lifestyle Includes a lifestyle survey directions on creating and maintaining a spiritual journal and a daily plan for the six week process

The Teacher's Book of Lists Sheila Madsen, Bette Gould, 2006-02 This classic reference is updated and expanded with more than 100 lists for basic skills instruction enrichment and just plain fun Lists cover language arts literature math science the environment social studies art and music Reproducible worksheets included

What on Earth, 1997-10

American Domesticity Kathleen Anne McHugh, 1999 This work considers American representations of domesticity and domestic labour over the last two centuries in historical popular and feminist texts The author asserts that the political power and effectivity of the idea of normative domestic femininity cannot be overestimated

Greening the Red, White, and Blue Thomas Jundt, 2014-03-12 In popular imagination environmentalism is often linked to Rachel Carson s Silent Spring and the political activism of the 1960s and 70s that moved increasing numbers of Americans to insist on a better quality of life open spaces clean air and water beautification campaigns But these interpretations have obscured the significant origins of environmentalism as a moral and intellectual broadside against the growing power of corporate capitalism both domestically and in the postwar liberal international order the United States was enacting abroad In Greening the Red White and Blue Thomas Jundt shows how many Americans came to view powerful corporations and a federal government bent on economic growth as threats to human health and the environment Fallout from atomic testing air and water pollution the proliferation of pesticides and herbicides all connected to the growing dominance of technology and corporate capitalism in American life led a variety of constituencies to seek solutions in what came to be known as environmentalism In addition to political and legal campaigns to effect change an alternative form of civic participation emerged beginning in the late 1940s as growing numbers of citizens turned to what they deemed environmentally friendly consumption practices The goal of this politically charged consumption was not only to protect themselves and their families from harm but also to achieve social change at a time when many believed the government was placing the desires of business before the needs of its citizens. Politicians responded to the growing environmental concerns of middle class Americans but in the end continual political compromises with corporate power meant weak laws and lax enforcement. Many citizens sought refuge in an alternative green marketplace including organic foods, natural fiber clothing, alternative energy, and everyday products designed to have minimal environmental impact. In doing so they attempted to create a community for those who shared their concerns and frustrations as well as their vision for a different American Way. Thomas Jundt's work highlights the intertwining of consumerism and environmentalism amidst the growing power of corporate capitalism and government in postwar America.
