

The book cover features a dramatic, painterly illustration. In the foreground, a gnarled, leafless tree stands on a rocky outcrop. In the middle ground, a two-story house with a red roof and several windows is situated on a hill. A small, dark, rectangular structure is attached to the side of the house. In the background, a body of water stretches to the horizon under a sky filled with dark, swirling clouds. A small, dark object, possibly a bird or a small boat, is visible on the water's surface. The overall color palette is dominated by dark, moody tones, with a strong contrast between the dark sky and the lighter, rocky foreground.

The End of the Pier Martha Grimes, 2013-08-13 The setting a small sleepy American town where secrets are almost impossible to keep The center of town life the Rainbow Cafe where Maud Chadwick works as a waitress hiding behind a quiet manner the intensity and confusion of emotions she feels as her twenty year old son takes his final steps out of her life and into his own Maud's only confidant Sam DeGheyn the town sheriff who trapped in a loveless childless marriage turns his attentions to Maud and to the murders of three local women which have occurred in the past five years Sam's suspicion that the wrong man may have been convicted of the crimes and the right man may soon kill again

The Altar Service, 1904 Execution John Mervyn Cullwick Pugh, 2005 William Watkins was executed in 1951 for the murder of his infant child John Pugh then a solicitor's clerk was in court when the death sentence was announced and Pugh has never forgotten that experience In Execution Pugh undertook prodigious research to create this account of legal political and public intrigue and of indifference to the fate of a deaf bus driver He goes on to argue that Watkins should not have been hanged and paints a picture of appalling injustice and policing He also explains how the authorities have consistently refused to release the papers on this case

Reflections on Hanging Arthur Koestler, 2019-03-15 Reflections on Hanging is a searing indictment of capital punishment inspired by its author's own time in the shadow of a firing squad During the Spanish Civil War Arthur Koestler was held by the Franco regime as a political prisoner and condemned to death He was freed but only after months of witnessing the fates of less fortunate inmates That experience informs every page of the book which was first published in England in 1956 and followed in 1957 by this American edition As Koestler ranges across the history of capital punishment in Britain with a focus on hanging he looks at notable cases and rulings and portrays politicians judges lawyers scholars clergymen doctors police jailers prisoners and others involved in the long debate over the justness and effectiveness of the death penalty In Britain Reflections on Hanging was part of a concerted ultimately successful effort to abolish the death penalty At that time in the forty eight United States capital punishment was sanctioned in forty two of them with hanging still practiced in five This edition includes a preface and afterword written especially for the 1957 American edition The preface makes the book relevant to readers in the U S the afterword overviews the modern day history of abolitionist legislation in the British Parliament Reflections on Hanging is relentless biting and unsparing in its details of botched and unjust executions It is a classic work of advocacy for some of society's most defenseless members a critique of capital punishment that is still widely cited and an enduring work that presaged such contemporary problems as the sensationalism of crime the wrongful condemnation of the innocent and mentally ill the callousness of penal systems and the use of fear to control a citizenry T.P.'s Weekly Thomas Power O'Connor, Holbrook Jackson, 1905 The Beating of His Wings Paul Hoffman, 2014-12-02 Following the bestselling novels The Left Hand of God and The Last Four Things comes the final installment of Paul Hoffman's stark epic trilogy Thomas Cale has been running from the truth Since discovering that his brutal military training has been for one purpose to destroy God's greatest mistake mankind itself Cale has been hunted by the very man who made him into the Angel of Death Pope Redeemer Bosco Cale is a paradox arrogant and innocent generous and pitiless Feared and revered by those who created him he has already used his breathtaking talent for violence and destruction to bring down the most powerful civilization in the world But Thomas Cale's soul is dying As his body is racked with convulsions he knows that the final judgment will not wait As the day of reckoning draws close Cale's sense of vengeance leads him back to the heart of darkness the Sanctuary and to confront the person he hates most in the world
