How To Recognize Islamic Art:

How to Recognize Islamic Art Gabriele Mandel, 1980      Deconstructing the Myths of Islamic Art Onur Öztürk, Xenia Gazi, Sam Bowker, 2022-03-20 Deconstructing the Myths of Islamic Art addresses how researchers can challenge stereotypical notions of Islam and Islamic art while avoiding the creation of new myths and the encouragement of nationalistic and ethnic attitudes Despite its Orientalist origins the field of Islamic art has continued to evolve and shape our understanding of the various civilizations of Europe Africa Asia and the Middle East Situated in this field this book addresses how universities museums and other educational institutions can continue to challenge stereotypical or homogeneous notions of Islam and Islamic art It reviews subtle and overt mythologies through scholarly research museum collections and exhibitions classroom perspectives and artists initiatives This collaborative volume addresses a conspicuous and persistent gap in the literature which can only be filled by recognizing and resolving persistent myths regarding Islamic art from diverse academic and professional perspectives The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history museum studies visual culture and Middle Eastern studies      Islamic Art Janey Levy, 2006-08-01 Discusses the influence of mathematics on Islamic art      The Majesty of Islamic Art and Architecture Sharmin Khan, Kheir Al-Kodmany, Mohd Khalid Hassan, M. Farhan Fazli, 2024-08-22 The book systematically delves into the complex intersection of Islam with art and architecture unraveling the profound philosophical and aesthetic foundations that serve as the bedrock for Islamic artistic expressions Commencing with comparative analyses of geometric patterns in traditional and contemporary Indo Islamic architecture it unveils the enduring significance of these patterns in India s architectural legacy Moving through the pages the narrative unfolds the intricacies of the Mughal era thoroughly examining the role of geometric ornamentation in Mughal buildings and its transformative impact on the grandeur of Mughal architecture Additionally the discourse navigates the spiritual and metaphysical dimensions inherent in Islamic gardens dissecting their elements through Quranic references and elucidating their sacred connections      Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art & Architecture: Three-Volume Set Jonathan Bloom, Sheila Blair, 2009-05-14 The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture is the most comprehensive reference work in this complex and diverse area of art history Built on the acclaimed scholarship of the Grove Dictionary of Art this work offers over 1 600 up to date entries on Islamic art and architecture ranging from the Middle East to Central and South Asia Africa and Europe and spans over a thousand years of history Recent changes in Islamic art in areas such as Afghanistan Iran and Iraq are elucidated here by distinguished scholars Entries provide in depth art historical and cultural information about dynasties art forms artists architecture rulers monuments archaeological sites and stylistic developments In addition over 500 illustrations of sculpture mosaic painting ceramics architecture metalwork and calligraphy illuminate the rich artistic tradition of the Islamic world With the fundamental understanding that Islamic art is not limited to a particular region or to a defined period of time The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture offers pathways into Islamic culture through its art      Islamic Art and Beyond Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01 Islamic Art and Beyond is the third in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar. Between them they bring together more than eighty articles, studies, and essays, work spanning half a century by a master of the field. Each volume takes a particular section of the topic, the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650-1100, Islamic Visual Culture 1100-1800, and Jerusalem Reflecting the Many Incidents of a Long Academic Life. They illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth. They deal with architecture, painting, objects, iconography, theories of art, aesthetics, and ornament, and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history, as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art. In addition to the articles selected, each volume contains an introduction which describes, often in highly personal ways, the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts. The articles in the present volume illustrate how the author's study of Islamic art led him in two directions for a further understanding of the arts. One is how to define Islamic art and what impulses provided it with its own peculiar forms and dynamics of growth. Was it a faith or a combination of social, historical, and cultural events? And how has Islamic art impacted on the contemporary arts of the Islamic world? The other issue is that of the meanings to be given to forms like domes, so characteristic of Islamic art, or to terms like symbol, signs, or aesthetic values in the arts, especially when one considers the contemporary world. The Islamic examples allow for the development of new intellectual positions for the history and criticism of the arts everywhere.

The Meaning of Islamic Art Khursheed Kamal Aziz, 2004      The Formation of Islamic Art Oleg Grabar, 1987-01-01 This classic work on the nature of early Islamic art has now been brought up to date in order to take into consideration material that has recently come to light. In a new chapter, Oleg Grabar develops alternate models for the formation of Islamic art, tightens its chronology, and discusses its implications for the contemporary art of the Muslim world. Reviews of the first edition: Grabar examines the possible ramifications of sociological, economic, historical, psychological, ecological, and archaeological influences upon the art of Islam. He explains that Islamic art is woven from the threads of an Eastern Oriental tradition and the hardy surviving strands of Classical style, and he illustrates this web by means of a variety of convincing and well-chosen examples. Art Bulletin: A book of absorbing interest and immense erudition. All Islamic archaeologists and scholars will thank Professor Grabar for a profound and original study of an immense and complex field which may provoke controversy but must impress by its mastery and charm, by its modesty. Times Literary Supplement: Oleg Grabar, in this book of exceptional subtlety and taste, surveys and extends his own important contributions to the study of early Islamic art history and works out an original and imaginative approach to the elusive and complex problems of understanding Islamic art. American Historical Review.

Crossing the Kingdom Loring M. Danforth, 2016-03-29 For many people, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia evokes images of deserts, camels, and oil, along with rich sheikhs in white robes, oppressed women in black veils, and terrorists. But when Loring Danforth traveled through the country in 2012, he found a world much more complex and inspiring than he could have ever imagined With vivid descriptions and moving personal narratives Danforth takes us across the Kingdom from the headquarters of Saudi Aramco the country's national oil company on the Persian Gulf to the centuries old city of Jeddah on the Red Sea coast with its population of undocumented immigrants from all over the Muslim world He presents detailed portraits of a young woman jailed for protesting the ban on women driving a Sufi scholar encouraging Muslims and Christians to struggle together with love to know God and an artist citing the Quran and using metal gears and chains to celebrate the diversity of the pilgrims who come to Mecca Crossing the Kingdom paints a lucid portrait of contemporary Saudi culture and the lives of individuals who like us all grapple with modernity at the dawn of the twenty first century

Iranian Islam Fereshteh Ahmadi, Nader Ahmadi, 1998-10-07 The author examines from different perspectives theological and philosophical as well as socio political and historical the significance of the concept of the individual in the ways of thinking of Iranians This book establishes that the mystical dimension of Islamic thought the divine nature of Islamic law and the mode of relationship between ruler and the ruled in combination counteracted growth of concern for the individual self in Iranian thought

Tales Things Tell Finbarr Barry Flood, Beate Fricke, 2023-11-21 How can we understand the past in the absence of written records Pre modern histories of cross cultural exchange pose a particular problem for medieval historians They are marked by the long distance mobility of concepts individuals and materials and many of them cannot be reconstructed from the standard source texts on which historians usually depend They exist without named makers both outside and beyond official documents and court chronicles The same is true of artisans responsible for crafting objects whose circulation and reception defined aesthetic economic and technological networks that may not have conformed to political or sectarian boundaries Authored by two leading medieval historians of the Middle East Africa and Europe Object Lessons addresses the gaps in medieval sources and modern scholarship arguing for the archival value of objects images and monuments Flood and Fricke examine six case studies that focus on the twelfth and thirteenth centuries From the stone carvings at the churches of Lalibela Ethiopia which have no textual documentation to medicinal bowls from Iraq for which some data can be gathered from unassociated but contemporary sources these studies show how imagery and objects traveled across continents The authors connect the histories of medieval Europe Africa and west Asia and raise significant questions about out of place objects and how in the absence of substantial archival material we might write their histories While there have been many publications on the histories of global circulation most of them focus on the early modern period in Europe By moving away from histories with abundant written archival material Object Lessons ventures far beyond the narratives of Europe and into complex cross cultural and intercontinental histories of objects and images

Art and its global histories Diana Newall, 2017-07-07 The reader Art and its global histories represents an invaluable teaching tool offering content ranging from academic essays and excerpts new translations interviews with curators and artists to art criticism The introduction sets out the state of art history today as it undergoes the profound shift of a global turn Particular focus is given to British India which represents a shift from the usual attention paid to Orientalism and French art in this period. The sources and debates on this topic have never before been brought together in a satisfactory way and this book will represent a particularly significant and valuable contribution for postgraduate and undergraduate art history teaching.

On Understanding Islam Wilfred C. Smith, 2012-02-13. No detailed description available for On Understanding Islam.

Globalization of Knowledge Shafiq A. Alvi and Amer Al-Roubaie, 2011-08-31. Lately Islam has been enduring considerable pressure and criticism for its violent nature and its involvement with anti-social activities such as terrorism, assassinations, suicide bombings etc. Some evidence of the growing awareness of Islam and its efforts of peaceful co-existence has come to light in the form of increased interest in reading history and about the past events. This awareness is not sufficient. The authors in their book Globalization of Knowledge have endeavoured to dispel this undue criticism. In this treatise the authors have undertaken to illustrate Islam and its efforts for creating and maintaining a peaceful and harmonious global village. They have also brought to the attention of the readers contributions of the Islamic Civilization to human knowledge particularly the preservation and further advancements in philosophy, sciences, astronomy and other social disciplines. The book is an easy reading and full of information. Readers can learn vicariously from the Islamic contributions to human knowledge.

Modernism and the Art of Muslim South Asia Iftikhar Dadi, 2010-05-15. This pioneering work traces the emergence of the modern and contemporary art of Muslim South Asia in relation to transnational modernism and in light of the region's intellectual, cultural and political developments. Art historian Iftikhar Dadi here explores the art and writings of major artists, men and women ranging from the late colonial period to the era of independence and beyond. He looks at the stunningly diverse artistic production of key artists associated with Pakistan including Abdur Rahman Chughtai, Zainul Abedin, Shakir Ali, Zubeida Agha, Sadequain, Rasheed Araeen and Naiza Khan. Dadi shows how beginning in the 1920s these artists addressed the challenges of modernity by translating historical and contemporary intellectual conceptions into their work, reworking traditional approaches to the classical Islamic arts and engaging the modernist approach towards subjective individuality in artistic expression. In the process they dramatically reconfigured the visual arts of the region. By the 1930s these artists had embarked on a sustained engagement with international modernism in a context of dizzying social and political change that included decolonization, the rise of mass media and developments following the national independence of India and Pakistan in 1947. Bringing new insights to such concepts as nationalism, modernism, cosmopolitanism and tradition, Dadi underscores the powerful impact of transnationalism during this period and highlights the artists' growing embrace of modernist and contemporary artistic practice in order to address the challenges of the present era.

Arts of Allusion Margaret S. Graves, 2018-07-31. The art of the object reached unparalleled heights in the medieval Islamic world yet the intellectual dimensions of ceramics, metalwares and other plastic arts in this milieu have not always been acknowledged. Arts of Allusion reveals the object as a crucial site where pre-modern craftsmen of the eastern

Mediterranean and Persianate realms engaged in fertile dialogue with poetry literature painting and perhaps most strikingly architecture Lanterns fashioned after miniature shrines incense burners in the form of domed monuments earthenware jars articulated with arches and windows inkwells that allude to tents through close studies of objects from the ninth to the thirteenth centuries this book reveals that allusions to architecture abound across media in the portable arts of the medieval Islamic world Arts of Allusion draws upon a broad range of material evidence as well as medieval texts to locate its subjects in a cultural landscape where the material visual and verbal realms were intertwined Moving far beyond the initial identification of architectural types with their miniature counterparts in the plastic arts Margaret Graves develops a series of new frameworks for exploring the intelligent art of the allusive object These address materiality representation and perception and examine contemporary literary and poetic paradigms of metaphor description and indirect reference as tools for approaching the plastic arts Arguing for the role of the intellect in the applied arts and for the communicative potential of ornament Arts of Allusion asserts the reinstatement of craftsmanship into Islamic intellectual history Chitrolekha International Magazine on Art and Design, Volume 5, Number 2, 2015 Tarun Tapas Mukherjee, Sreecheta Mukherjee, 2015-08-01 This issue contains varied articles on art architecture and crafts Caliphate Expansion Linda Hill, AI, 2025-03-20 Caliphate Expansion explores the remarkable rise of Islamic caliphates between the 7th and 13th centuries examining their rapid military expansion and lasting cultural impact The book highlights the sophistication of their governance systems and innovative military strategies demonstrating how a relatively small group forged one of history's most expansive empires It reveals that the caliphates' success wasn't solely due to military might pragmatic governance and cultural flexibility played crucial roles allowing for assimilation of diverse populations The book challenges simplistic narratives of conquest by diving into the complexities of state building and cultural exchange It moves beyond purely military accounts to explore the broader socio-cultural and political factors that contributed to the caliphates' success Did you know the caliphates facilitated advancements in science mathematics and medicine that influenced both Islamic and European societies The study hinges on the effectiveness of military campaigns and administrative policies and the interplay between Islamic culture and conquered lands The book unfolds in three major sections starting with pre-Islamic Arabia and the caliphate's formation It then examines key military campaigns strategic decisions and the organization of caliphate armies Finally it explores governance systems and cultural exchanges assessing the caliphates' legacy and its relevance to contemporary geopolitical issues The Art and Architecture of Islam 1250-1800 Sheila S. Blair, Jonathan M. Bloom, 1996-09-25 They discuss for example how the universal caliphs of the first six centuries gave way to regional rulers and how in this new world order Iranian forms techniques and motifs played a dominant role in the artistic life of most of the Muslim world the one exception was the Maghrib an area protected from the full brunt of the Mongol invasions where traditional models continued to inspire artists and patrons By the sixteenth century say the authors the eastern

Mediterranean under the Ottomans and the area of northern India under the Mughals had become more powerful and the Iranian models of early Ottoman and Mughal art gradually gave way to distinct regional and imperial styles     The Routledge Companion to Decolonizing Art History Tatiana Flores, Florencia San Martín, Charlene Villaseñor Black, 2023-11-27

This companion is the first global comprehensive text to explicate theorize and propose decolonial methodologies for art historians museum professionals artists and other visual culture scholars teachers and practitioners Art history as a discipline and its corollary institutions the museum the art market are not only products of colonial legacies but active agents in the consolidation of empire and the construction of the West The Routledge Companion to Decolonizing Art History joins the growing critical discourse around the decolonial through an assessment of how art history may be rethought and mobilized in the service of justice racial gender social environmental restorative and more This book draws attention to the work of artists art historians and scholars in related fields who have been engaging with disrupting master narratives and forging new directions often within a hostile academy or an indifferent art world The volume unpacks the assumptions projected onto objects of art and visual culture and the discourse that contains them It equally addresses the manifold complexities around representation as visual and discursive praxis through a range of epistemologies and metaphors originated outside or against the logic of modernity This companion is organized into four thematic sections Being and Doing Learning and Listening Sensing and Seeing and Living and Loving The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual culture museum studies race and ethnic studies cultural studies disability studies and women s gender and sexuality studies
