Maurer, Bernard P. Elser,1998 Spurred in part by a quest for something authentic in a mostly synthetic world more and more anglers are abandoning high tech graphite fly rods in favor of those handcrafted from bamboo In fact so many anglers have been switching to split cane that the small but growing number of bamboo rodbuilders are selling their custom rods at prices well into four figures So it should come as no surprise that fly anglers most of whom tie their own flies are now looking to make their own split cane fly rods Bamboo is cheap and the tools needed to build finished rods are simple and few What is needed is patience a steady hand and a book that explains the process with clarity and detail This is that book Co author George Maurer is something of a phenomenon having built some of the finest and most innovative bamboo rods seen in a generation Bernard Elser who has studied with Maurer for several years has a rare gift for explaining this exacting craft in simple precise steps Each chapter begins with a list of tools and the time needed to complete the step described Photographs and illustrations throughout illuminate key points of the process Complete Book of Rod Building and Tackle Making C.
