O'Brien, 1996. College Rules!, 3rd Edition Sherrie Nist-Olejnuk, Jodi Patrick Holschuh, 2011-04-26. And You Thought Getting into College Was Hard. Students who assume they can figure out college on the fly often learn things the hard way. They look back and think, "If only I'd known this from the start." College Rules will save you the time and trouble setting you up for academic success from the get-go. Lesson 1: College is different from high school, and even those who were at the top of their class will need practical advice on how to successfully transition to college life. This updated and expanded third edition of College Rules reveals strategies that aren't taught in lectures, including how to study smarter, not harder; plan a manageable course schedule; master e-learning technologies; interact effectively with professors; become a research pro at the library and online; organize killer study groups; feel engaged even in yawn courses; survive the stresses of exam week; succeed even as an alternative or adult student; set yourself up for stellar recommendations. Saving time, energy, and aggravation by doing everything right the first time will free you up for that pizza break, ultimate frisbee game, or ski trip, even quicker. Why? Because College Rules. How to Succeed in College Marcia K. Johnson, Sally P. Springer, Sarah Hall Sternglanz, 1982. This book can help students get off to a good start, get back on the right track, or simply make a good thing even better. College Rules! Sherrie Nist-Olejnuk, Jodi Patrick Holschuh, 2007. The leading guide for students making the transition to college, covering the practical, emotional, and academic aspects of the challenges that wait. Completely revised and expanded. How to Succeed in University and College: L. Karen Soiferman, 2017-08-02. In this first edition of How to Succeed in University and College: A Handbook for Students, I cannot promise you that you will become an A student if you are used to getting D's or worse. What I can do is help you learn how to learn at university and college. Many students come to university or college without any idea of how to learn. You might be one of them. You have gone through twelve or more years of schooling, and you probably still have no idea how you learn. Just taking in information is not learning. There is a difference between obtaining a wide variety of knowledge and actually learning how to use that knowledge, and until you understand that difference, it will be difficult for you to learn. Let's start with obtaining information. You go to class, you take in information, and then you go away and forget it as soon as you leave the classroom. That is not learning. I am not sure what I would call that, but it is definitely not learning. So how do you learn? This book will provide insights into discovering what kind of a learner you are, how to read critically, how to think critically, some of the ways to improve your memory, how to take more effective notes in class, and how to think about the notes you take so that you can become more successful when writing an exam. This book is written in a very informal tone on purpose It was written to simulate a conversation that we might have if you came to see me during my office hours It was also written with the intention that you the student would interact with the book It has questions along the way that you should answer before continuing to read the next section to ensure that you are understanding the main concepts This book is designed to be of assistance to first year university and college students like you as you navigate your new learning environment It was written with you in mind I tried to anticipate the questions that you might ask about the concepts based on the questions that my students have asked me over the years This book was written in an effort to get you to understand that it is important to interact with what you are learning in your classes It was written with you in mind In order to get the most benefit from using the strategies discussed in this book you have to make the decision that you want to learn how to learn It is up to you how much you learn at university and in college It is not up to your instructors your friends or your parents I hope you take the time to read with the goal of learning
