

5 Tips

To Succeed in an Online Class

Tackle time management

Putting off watching online lectures and doing assignments will only cause you stress.

Reduce your Netflix time by a few hours a week, put that time toward your online education, and you'll be golden!

Form a study group

Make studying fun(ish) and reach out to other students in your class. Maybe you'll even make some new friends out of it!

Reach out to your professor

Don't be afraid to send them an email or go to office hours. They're there to help!

Find a good study space

WiFi? ✓

Comfortable? ✓

Organized? ✓

No distractions? ✓

Now, go forth and study!

Take breaks

Know your limits. If you've been staring a screen for hours, your brain is tired. Go for a walk, grab a snack, and take a breather.

Rocket Science Made Simple Viriversity.com, Team-Based Learning Larry K. Michaelsen, Arletta Bauman Knight, L. Dee Fink, 2002-12-30 Team learning is an especially powerful way of using small groups Different authors have used different terms when writing about small groups learning groups collaborative learning cooperative learning and team learning Despite the varying terminology all refer to the same idea putting individual students in a class into small groups for the purpose of promoting more active and more effective learning By creating a course structure that involves small groups in the initial acquisition of course content in learning how to apply that content and in the assessment of student learning the procedures of team learning offer teachers an extremely powerful tool for creating several kinds of higher level learning The key to using this tool successfully lies in understanding a few key principles of team dynamics and then learning how to apply those principles to specific subject matter and in a variety of teaching situations This book explains those principles and shows how team learning transforms the structure of the course transforms small groups into teams and transforms the quality of student learning Dollars and Sense in the Poultry Business ... American Poultry School,1921
