Savage Junctures Anne Nesbet, 2003-07-25 Eisenstein delighted in unlikely juxtapositions being apt to cite from Stalin and Disney in one breath The heterogeneity underlying his work is breathtaking and his lack of decorum and refusal to be categorised tend to make critics uneasy but not Anne Nesbet Based on extensive research in the Eisenstein archives her book is an original beautifully written exploration of Eisenstein s omnivorous consumption of high and low culture and his wide ranging experiments in thinking in pictures Savage Junctures provides fresh insights into Eisenstein s films and writings It examines the multiple contexts within which his films evolved and Eisenstein s appropriation of all of world culture as his source Like Eisenstein himself Anne Nesbet is particularly interested in the possibilities of visual image making and each chapter addresses the problem of his image based thinking from a different perspective Each chapter also offers a fundamentally new interpretation of the films and writings that make up his oeuvre This is a major new contribution to studies in Soviet cinema and culture and to the field of film studies

An

Imaginary Cinema Dustin Condren, 2024-12-15 An Imaginary Cinema is the first systematic study of Sergei Eisenstein's unrealized films as well as a deeply informed historical and theoretical inquiry into the role and meaning of the unrealized in his oeuvre. Eisenstein directed some of the twentieth century's most important films from the early classic of montage Battleship Potemkin to his late masterpiece Ivan the Terrible. Alongside these, however, the Soviet filmmaker also toiled over a compelling array of unrealized projects from ideas that never grew beyond complex passionate notebook scrawls and sketches to productions that were mounted and shot to some degree of completion without ever being finished. Working from the archival remnants of several of the director's most fascinating unrealized projects from his bold vision to film Marx's Das Kapital to his time in Hollywood struggling to adapt Dreiser's An American Tragedy, Dustin Condren's book reveals new aspects of Eisenstein's genius, showing the filmmaker in a constant state of process, open to working toward impossible and sometimes utopian ends, and committed to the pursuit of creative and theoretical discovery. Condren's analysis of these unrealized projects in An Imaginary Cinema reveals Eisenstein at crucial moments of his personal and artistic biography, and it also tells the wider story of a canonical artist negotiating the political labyrinths of Stalinist Russia, the economic pitfalls of Hollywood, and the technological shifts of early cinema.

Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition. Volume three draws on the history of film

Politics Goes to the Movies Robert Kolker, 2018-03-14 Politics Goes to the Movies introduces the topic of political representation and ideology by analyzing some of the most important politically themed films across the history of cinema in a refreshing and concise volume. Offering a survey of political cinema from 1915 to present day, topics include propaganda, Communism, Fascism, revolutionary cinema, and contemporary documentary. Using individual case studies that begin with The Birth of a Nation and end with O.J. Made in America, the book introduces how various strands of international politics have been woven through the fabric of cinema by contextualizing each film in its particular historical moment. In addition, Robert Kolker offers formal analyses that explore not only overtly political themes but also how the structural properties of a film can themselves be political, how political films are made politically. Including films produced across Europe, North Africa, the US, and Latin America, this accessible and engaging book is an ideal introductory text for students of political cinema.

Film

William H. Phillips, 2009-01-02 This clear, well-illustrated text takes the reader through the basics of film analysis, drawing on a wide range of film for discussion. Questions of genre and the contexts and meanings of film are considered.

Dreamworld and Catastrophe Susan Buck-Morss, 2002 This study develops the notion of dreamworld as both a poetic description of a collective mental state and an analytical concept. Stressing the similarities between East and West, the book examines extremes of mass utopia, dreamworld, and catastrophe.
