Whittles,2015-07-19 Excerpt from Frank Higgins Trail Blazer For many years Frank Higgins and I were close companions To my home he came often to rest from the demanding labors of the camps Together we traveled the trails to the lumber districts and in the evenings preached in the crowded bunk houses In the green circled lakes of the northland we fished forgetful of care in the mountain camps we lent each other the warmth of our bodies when the nights were bitter and the covering all too inadequate under summer skies we slept side by side with the gossamer air for a sheltering tent and in many cities we unitedly presented the needs of the camp mission In work and play in camp and city in palace and shack Higgins was always the same natural interesting zealous for his boys a man among men were they hoboos or millionaires Many of the incidents narrated in the following pages came under my personal observation With all parts of his field of labor I am intimately acquainted through personal visits and investigation About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
