Phillips, R. Roy McMurtry, John T. Saywell, 2008-09-18 Written to honour the life and work of the late Peter N Oliver the distinguished historian and editor in chief of the Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History from 1979 2006 this collection assembles the finest legal scholars to reflect on the issues in and development of the field of legal history in Canada Covering a broad range of topics this volume examines developments over the last two hundred years in the legal profession and the judiciary nineteenth century prison history as well as the impact of the 1815 Treaty of Paris The introduction also provides insight into the history of the Osgoode Society and of Oliver's essential role in it along with an illuminating analysis of the Society's publications program which produced sixty six books during his tenure A fitting tribute to one of the foremost legal historians this tenth volume of Essays in the History of Canadian Law is a significant contribution to the discipline to which Oliver devoted so much Inside the Law Carol Wilton,1996-12-15 Law firms are important economic institutions in this country they collect hundreds of millions of dollars annually in fees they order the affairs of businesses and of many government agencies and their members include some of the most influential Canadians Some firms have a history stretching back nearly two hundred years and many are over a century old Yet the history of law firms in Canada has remained largely unknown This collection of essays Volume VII in the Osgoode Society's series of Essays in the History of Canadian Law is the first focused study of a variety of law firms and how they have evolved over a century and a half from the golden age of the sole practitioner in the pre industrial era to the recent rise of the mega firm The volume as a whole is an exploration of the impact of economic and social change on law firm culture and organization The introduction by Carol Wilton provides a chronological overview of Canadian law firm evolution and emphasizes the distinctiveness of Canadian law firm history For the Love of Flying Danielle Metcalfe-Chenail,2009 This is the first book to tell the story of one of Canada's most innovative aviation companies Laurentian Air Services and thus fills an important gap in Canadian aviation history Drawing on extensive research and interviews with Laurentian's presidents pilots and ground crew author Danielle Metcalfe Chenail explores the company's 60 year history from its founding in 1936 in Ottawa with small biplanes through to the 1990s when it was operating scheduled flights with twin engine Beech 99s and Beech King Air 200s During those 60 years Laurentian was at the forefront of air tourism in the Ottawa region and the Laurentian Mountains of Quebec as well as fly in hunting and fishing in Canada's north It also pioneered the use of the Grumman G 21 Goose and de Havilland Beaver commercially and provided vital air support to survey and development work for such massive undertakings as the Churchill Falls and James Bay hydroelectric projects This book brings Laurentian's history to life through first hand stories and an exciting collection of colour and black and white photographs the majority of which have not previously been published This is a long overdue book that appeals to armchair bush flyers and aviation historians alike J.L. Ilsley: A Political Biography Barry Cahill,2021-11-09 A farmer's son from rural Nova Scotia J L Ilsley 1894 1967 is an almost forgotten figure who played a key role in government during the Second World War even though he was despised by Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King Ilsley was spectacularly successful in cajoling and compelling Canadians to pay for the war He became a highly regarded national figure He gradually established his claim to succeed William Lyon Mackenzie King as Prime Minister when the time came Ultimately in his devious way King thwarted Ilsley's ambition Ilsley abandoned politics to take up the post of chief justice in Nova Scotia for 17 years His place in Canadian political history has been undermined by family members who destroyed his personal papers Historian and biographer Barry Cahill has pieced together the story of Ilisley's career for the first time. He used the personal papers of other Ottawa figures of the times previously secret cabinet records and glimpses of the man as seen by others in his circle including of course Mackenzie King in his voluminous diaries.

Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Closing Sysco Lachlan MacKinnon, 2020-02-27 Closing Sysco presents a history of deindustrialization and working class resistance in the Cape Breton steel industry between 1945 and 2001. The Sydney Steel Works is at the heart of this story having existed in tandem with Cape Breton's larger coal operations since the early twentieth century. The book explores the multifaceted nature of deindustrialization: the internal politics of the steelworkers union, the successful efforts to nationalize the mill in 1967, the years in transition under public ownership and the confrontations over health, safety and environmental degradation in the 1990s and 2000s. Closing Sysco moves beyond the moment of closure to trace the cultural, historical and political ramifications of deindustrialization that continue to play out in post-industrial Cape Breton Island. A significant intervention into the international literature on deindustrialization, this study pushes scholarship beyond the bounds of political economy and cultural change to begin tackling issues of bodily health, environment and historical memory in post-industrial places. The experiences of the men and women who were displaced by the decline and closure of Sydney Steel are central to this book. Featuring interviews with former steelworkers, office employees, managers, politicians and community activists, these one-on-one conversations reveal both the human cost of industrial closure and the lingering after-effects of deindustrialization.
