Finding the Trapdoor Adam Hochschild, 2017-01-30 For some 30 years Adam Hochschild's voice has been one of the most distinctive in American journalism. With grace and wit, he has brought to a startling variety of subjects a combination of adventurous reporting and personal honesty. Hochschild's readers can count on an unobtrusive erudition, a sense of justice, and an irrepressible curiosity about life. Admirers of Hochschild's Half the Way Home: A Memoir of Father and Son will find in these articles the same warm autobiographical voice that made that book so memorable. He revisits his time as a civil rights worker in Mississippi, as a New England prep school student, and as a teenager seeing apartheid firsthand in South Africa. But readers will find much more as well: profiles of an adoptive Gypsy and of a governor general's son turned revolutionary; essays about Ernest Hemingway and John F. Kennedy; a journey to one of the most remote corners of the Amazon rain forest; and a remarkable evocation of two of Hochschild's personal heroes who, in hillside trenches at the height of the Russian Civil War, faced each other across a battlefield. Fantasy Literature for Children and Young Adults Ruth Nadelman

Lynn, 1995-01-30 Drawing on distinguished review sources, this updated and expanded guide recommends more than 4,800 American and British fantasy novels and anthologies, including nearly 1,500 new to this edition. Ten topical chapters embrace the entire range of fantasy literature, from allegory to witchcraft. Detailed annotations note major awards won, review citations, suggested reading level, other related titles by the author, and more. Back cover The Publishers Weekly, 1912 Birding Without Borders Noah Strycker, 2017-10-10 The story of how the associate editor of Birding magazine set himself a lofty goal to become the first person to see half the world's birds in one year. In 2015, for 365 days, with a backpack, binoculars, and a series of one-way tickets, Noah Strycker traveled across forty-one countries and all seven continents, eventually spotting 6,042 species by far the biggest birding year on record. This is no travelogue or glorified checklist. By pursuing the freest creatures on the planet he gains a unique perspective on the world they share with us and offers a hopeful message that even as many birds face an uncertain future more people than ever are working to protect them Birding Without Borders is light hearted and filled with stories of exotic birds risky adventures and colorful birding companions New York Times Book Review Highly recommended for anyone interested in travel natural history and adventure Library Journal Even readers who wouldn t know a marvellous spatuletail from a southern ground hornbill will be awed by Strycker s achievement and appreciate the passion with which he pursues his interest Publishers Weekly
