Dealing with Differences John

Forester, 2009-08-06 Conflict and dispute pervade political and policy discussions. Moreover, unequal power relations tend to heighten levels of conflict. In this context of contention, figuring out ways to accommodate others and reach solutions that are agreeable to all is a perennial challenge for activists, politicians, planners, and policymakers. John Forester is one of America's eminent scholars of progressive planning and dispute resolution in the policy arena, and in Dealing with Differences he focuses on a series of hard cases, conflicts that appeared to be insoluble yet which were resolved in the end. Forester ranges across the country from Hawaii to Maryland to Washington State and across issues: the environment, ethnic conflict, and HIV. Throughout, he focuses on how innovative mediators settled seemingly intractable disputes. Between pessimism masquerading as realism and the unrealistic idealism that we can all get along, Forester identifies the middle terrain where disputes do actually get resolved in ways that offer something for all sides. Dealing with Differences serves as an authoritative and fundamentally pragmatic pathway for anyone who has to engage in the highly contentious worlds of planning and policymaking.

Designing for Play Barbara Hendrickson, 2018-12-13 This title was first published in 2001. Architects, landscape designers, builders, gardeners, and teachers have all at some time been called upon to design a play area. Unfortunately, this diversity has not resulted in a similar diversity of design solutions for this very problematic task. Despite a proliferation of how-to books on this subject, playgrounds have remained virtually the same throughout the world since their creation over a century ago. This is not a how-to design book. Instead, based on thirty years' experience as a specialist play area designer, Barbara Hendricks details a radically new approach, applying cutting-edge thinking from child development and child psychology to find innovative design solutions, challenging the established notions of play provision. Covering key sociological, public policy, environmental, and design issues, this book provides designers with an exploration of and guide to designing from a child's eye view of the world. Beautifully crafted and copiously illustrated with numerous examples of recently designed playgrounds, this book is not only stimulating and informative but fun to read and seriously playful in itself.

Cultivating Sacred Space Elizabeth Murray, 1997 Linda Greenlaw hadn't been blue water fishing for ten years since the great events chronicled in The Perfect Storm and The Hungry Ocean when an old friend offered her the captaincy on his boat, Seahawk, for a season of swordfishing. She took the bait, of course, and thus opened a new chapter in a life that had already seen enough adventure for three lifetimes. The Seahawk turns out to be the rustiest of buckets with sprung, busted, and ancient equipment guaranteed to fail at any critical moment. Life is never dull out on the Grand Banks, and no one is better at capturing the flavor and details of the wild ride that is swordfishing from the technical complexities of longline fishing and the nuances of reading the weather and waves to the sheer beauty of the open water. The trip is full of surprises, a bit harder and saltier than I had hoped for, but none more unexpected than when the boat's lines inadvertently drift across the Canadian border and she lands in jail. Seaworthy is about nature, human, and other about learning what you can control and what you do when fate takes matters out of your control. It's about how a middle-aged woman who sets a high bar for herself copes with challenge and change and frustration about the struggle to succeed or fail on your own terms and above all about learning how to find your true self when you're caught between land and sea Experiencing Jazz Michael Stephans, 2013-10-17 In Experiencing Jazz A Listener's Companion writer teacher and renowned jazz drummer Michael Stephans offers a much needed survey in the art of listening to and enjoying this dynamic ever changing art form More than mere entertainment jazz provides a pleasurable and sometimes dizzying listening experience with an extensive range in structure and form from the syncopated swing of big bands to the musical experimentalism of small combos As Stephans illustrates listeners and jazz artists often experience the essence of the music together an experience unique in the world of music Experiencing Jazz demonstrates how the act of listening to jazz takes place on a deeply personal level and takes readers on a whirlwind tour of the genre instrument by instrument offering not only brief portraits of key musicians like Joe Lovano and John Scofield but also their own commentaries on how best to experience the music they create Throughout jazz takes center stage as a personal transaction that enriches the lives of both musician and listener Written for anyone curious about the genre this book encourages further reading listening and viewing helping potential listeners cultivate an understanding and appreciation of the jazz art and how it can help in drummer Art Blakey's words wash away the dust of everyday life Wild Women, Wild Voices Judy Reeves, 2015-03-24 Write to Celebrate Heal and Free the Wild Woman Within In her years as a writing coach Judy Reeves has found twin urges in women they yearn to reclaim a true nature that resides below the surface of daily life and to give it voice The longing to express this wild authentic nature is what informs Reeves's most popular workshop and now this workshop in a book Here you will explore the stages that make up your life from wild child daughter sister mother and loves and lovers to creative work friendships and how the wise woman encounters death Both intuitive and practical Wild Women Wild Voices responds to women's deep need for expression with specific and inspiring activities exercises and writing prompts With true empathy Reeves invites instructs and celebrates the authentic expression even the howl of the wild in every woman
