

Globalization And Cultural Translation

Michael Cronin

Globalization And Cultural Translation:

Globalization and Cultural Translation Ning Wang, 2004 This is a study of translation which is put in a broader context of globalisation and culture The author includes case studies such as the critical and creative reception of such Western writers as Henrik Ibsen and Walt Whitman who have both made significant contributions to China's cultural modernity and literary modernism

Translation and Globalization Michael Cronin, 2003 Michael Cronin's critical exploration of the ways in which radical changes to the world economy have affected contemporary translation is invaluable reading for anyone who is concerned about the future of our world's languages and cultures

Translation, Globalisation and Localisation Wang Ning, Sun Yifeng, 2008-03-28 The global local distinction has changed significantly and the topic has been heatedly debated in literary and cultural as well as translation scholarship In this age of globalisation the traditional definition of translation has been altered In the present anthology translation is viewed as a cultural and political practice and accordingly translation studies is based on a heightened awareness of global local tensions in translation and of its moderating and transforming impact on local cultural paradigms All the essays in this anthology deal with issues of translation from a cultural and theoretic perspective with regard to tensions and conflicts between global and local interests and values No matter how different their approaches may seem the essays are thematically integrated to discuss translation in a dialectical framework either globalising Chinese issues internationally or localising general and international issues domestically

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Globalization Esperança Bielsa, Dionysios Kapsaskis, 2020-12-30 This is the first handbook to provide a comprehensive coverage of the main approaches that theorize translation and globalization offering a wide ranging selection of chapters dealing with substantive areas of research The handbook investigates the many ways in which translation both enables globalization and is inevitably transformed by it Taking a genuinely interdisciplinary approach the authors are leading researchers drawn from the social sciences as well as from translation studies The chapters cover major areas of current interdisciplinary interest including climate change migration borders democracy and human rights as well as key topics in the discipline of translation studies This handbook also highlights the increasing significance of translation in the most pressing social economic and political issues of our time while accounting for the new technologies and practices that are currently deployed to cope with growing translation demands With five sections covering key concepts people culture economics and politics and a substantial introduction and conclusion this handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation and globalization within translation and interpreting studies comparative literature sociology global studies cultural studies and related areas

Translation, Globalisation and Localisation Ning Wang, Yifeng Sun, 2008 The essays in this anthology deal with translation studies in a global local context and from a Chinese perspective Topics such as globalisation postcolonial theory diaspora writing polysystem theory and East West comparative literary and cultural studies are all discussed

of Modern Globalization Rene Fassbender, 2018-08-17 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 10 University of Bristol language English abstract In the last few decades the world has experienced unprecedented globalization which for translators offers a host of opportunities It is one of the key elements of our profession to make foreign material accessible to a culture that could otherwise not enjoy it And the demand has been soaring Modern technology has revolutionized people's self conception by making them more aware of their international neighbors Accordingly businesses want to sell their products beyond national borders medical studies are conducted on global scales best selling novels like the Harry Potter Series are translated into dozens of languages and turned into movies within just a few years of their publication Translation is a driving force in this new cultural landscape

Globalization and Aspects of Translation Juliane House, Marilyn Gaddis Rose, Said M. Shiyab, 2010-02-19 This book is for students of translation interpretation linguistics and languages who would like to enhance their understanding of the relationship between these areas of study More specifically the book attempts to capture the quintessence or the epitome embodied in the concepts of translation and globalization It also attempts to bridge the gap between the globalizing and globalized worlds It brings to light the diversity of areas in globalization and aspects of translation that have impacted the notions of cultural communication translator's code of ethics metaphorical meaning code switching media etc Scholars from different parts of the world contributed to this book representing countries such as the US Canada Germany Portugal Switzerland Belgium Austria Tunisia Bahrain Jordan and United Arab Emirates Those scholars have done their research in their home countries on other parts of the world Because of this diversity the editors believe this book genuinely offers an international experience Thirteen chapters cover different aspects of globalization in relation to translation Areas covered include but are not limited to faces of globalization English as the world's most prestigious language in its role as a global lingua franca ELF as a threat to multilingualism on line resources designed for trainee and practicing interpreters translation as a paradigm and aspects of literary translation Each chapter provides a blend of theory and practice and a demonstration on how globalization impacted the profession and the notion of cultural communication Examples are drawn from English Arabic French and other languages This book can be used as a reference book and it can also be used at both graduate and undergraduate levels

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics Jonathan Evans, Fruela Fernandez, 2018-04-19 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics presents the first comprehensive state of the art overview of the multiple ways in which politics and translation interact Divided into four sections with thirty three chapters written by a roster of international scholars this handbook covers the translation of political ideas the effects of political structures on translation and interpreting the politics of translation and an array of case studies that range from the Classical Mediterranean to contemporary China Considering established topics such as censorship gender translation under fascism translators and interpreters at war as well as emerging topics such as translation and development the politics of localization translation and interpreting in democratic movements and the politics of translating popular music the handbook offers a global and interdisciplinary introduction to the intersections between translation and interpreting studies and politics With a substantial introduction and extensive bibliographies this handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation theory politics and related areas

PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Zhiqing Zhang, Youbin Zhao, Xinjie Wang, 2020-05-26

With the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative and the development of Guangdong Hong Kong Macau Greater Bay Area the demand for translators and interpreters continues to grow in China The breakthrough in artificial intelligence which has contributed to an enormous improvement in the quality of machine translation means challenges and opportunities for translators and interpreters as well as studies of translation and interpreting Studies of translation and interpreting have been further expanded and diversified in the era of globalized communications The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures By focusing on the connection between the two various researches have been conducted in all forms of communication between languages including translation interpreting cross cultural communication language teaching and the various specializations involved in such activities This has resulted in The Third International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters co organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University on its Zhuhai campus and South China Business College Guangdong University of Foreign Studies November 16 17 2019 The response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging

whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts This involves a process of recontextualization When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness enhance their overall communicative competence observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons business discourse and business English culture so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined the findings reached as well as the recent development She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation Special interests are paid to the working memory problem solving the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty Over the past thirty years the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches the black box the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies

Cultures and / of Globalization Barrie Axford, Richard Huggins, 2011-07-12 This book explores the ways in which study of culture as the realm of meaning and identity can inform current debates about globalization and thus afford greater understanding of emergent globalities By drawing on a range of disciplinary and sub disciplinary expertise from across the social sciences and also promoting areas of cross disciplinary research the book contributes to the development of theory on globalization and also provides some significant illustrations of cultural globalization in practice through attention to novel empirical sites and issues These include eminently cultural realms such as music film and architecture and those that are invested with a strong cultural component such as migration and education Contributions emphasise the soft features of globalization and globality and most look to marry theoretical abstraction with everyday aspects of global processes focusing on those routine and sometimes conscious connections and accommodations that make up daily life in a globalized world In doing so the book itself can be seen as a contribution to critical and multidimensional studies of globalization and as engaging in a form of global practice

The Cultural Turn in Translation Studies Wang Ning, 2023-12-06 Applying the latest Western translation theories to the situation in China this book redefines translation from an interdisciplinary and intercultural perspective bringing intercultural semiotic translation into the sight of translation researchers This book systematically expounds on the cultural turn in translation studies and contributes to the escape of translation studies from the cage of language It focuses on discussing the deconstructive postmodernist and cultural translation theories that have motivated and promoted the cultural turn especially Benjamin s translation theory Derrida s deconstructive view of translation and postcolonial translation theory It also discusses in detail the theories of major international translation theorists including Hillis Miller Wolfgang Iser Edward Said Gayatri Spivak Homi Bhabha Andr Lefevere Susan Bassnett and Lawrence Venuti These theories are mostly based on examples from Western or English language texts leaving a wide gap in the discourse of the field This book seeks to fill that gap For example intercultural semiotic translation is defined and explained through the successful experiences of the Chinese translator Fu Lei The role of translation during the Chinese revolution and the relocation of Chinese culture in the global cultural landscape through translation are also discussed This book will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies and Chinese studies It will also be a useful resource for translators and researchers of comparative literature and cultural studies

Walter Benjamin and Cultural Translation Birgit Haberpeuntner, 2024-04-18

Dissecting the radical impact of Walter Benjamin on contemporary cultural postcolonial and translation theory this book investigates the translation and reception of Benjamin's most famous text about translation The Task of the Translator in English language debates around cultural translation For years now there has been a pronounced interest in translation throughout the Humanities which has come with an increasing detachment of translation from linguistic textual parameters It has generated a broad spectrum of discussions subsumed under the heading of cultural translation a concept that is constantly re-invented and manifests in often heavily diverging expressions However there seems to be a distinct constant In their own re-formulations of this concept a remarkable number of scholars Bhabha Chow Niranjana to name but a few explicitly refer to Walter Benjamin's The Task of the Translator In its first part this book considers Benjamin and the way in which he thought about theorized and practiced translation throughout his writings In a second part Walter Benjamin meets cultural translation tracing various paths of translation and reception this part also tackles the issues and debates that result from the omnipresence of Walter Benjamin in contemporary theories and discussions of cultural translation The result is a clearer picture of the translation and reception processes that have generated the immense impact of Benjamin on contemporary cultural theory as well as new perspectives for a way of reading that re-shapes the canonized texts themselves and holds the potential of disturbing shifting and enriching their more traditional readings

Globalization: Specialized applications and resistance to globalization Roland Robertson, Kathleen E. White, 2003 The Humanities between Global Integration and Cultural Diversity Hans G. Kippenberg, Birgit Mersmann, 2016-03-21 Modernization and digital globalization have proven to mark major thresholds where paradigmatic shifts and realignments take place This volume aims to capture the reconfiguration of humanistic study between the forces of global integration and cultural diversification from a full range of disciplines within the humanities and social sciences The key issue is discussed in three major parts The first chapter examines transnational interpolations of the humanities as potential indicator for a globalizing humanistic research The second chapter deals with humanistic revisions of modernity with and against globality The third chapter discusses the ambiguous constitution of cultural diversity as a complement and counter movement to global integration ideologically moving between social cohesion and exclusion The final chapter outlines what the threshold crossing from modern to global humanities will mean for the future of humanistic research The multidisciplinary study of culture within the history of the humanities documents and reflects the mobility and migration of its concepts and methods moving and translating between disciplines research traditions historical periods academic institutions and the public sphere

Globalization and International Social Work Malcolm Payne,Gurid Aga Askeland,2016-04-22 Globalization challenges social work with constant social change making a social worker s job and the task of social work education more complex and uncertain Post modern thinking suggests that social workers must learn to cope with complexity in ways that are in tension with the increasingly managerialist organization of the social services The authors explore and question the concepts of postmodern international and global in light of growing interest in international social work in the early 21st century Emphasizing the importance of critical reflection they argue that educational colonization can be challenged and effective anti discriminatory and pro equality practice and education promoted Each chapter provides direct examples of how students and academics can apply these ideas in practice and in their learning and how they can respond to and influence the challenges and changes that are taking place The authors also examine educational and practice issues arising from attempts to incorporate international understanding into national practice and education systems The book is designed to be stimulating to academics interested in international social work while remaining accessible to practitioners and students without international experience

Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2010 As a meaningful manifestation of how institutionalized the discipline has become the new Handbook of Translation Studies is most welcome It joins the other signs of maturation such as Summer Schools the development of academic curricula historical surveys journals book series textbooks terminologies bibliographies and encyclopedias The HTS aims at disseminating knowledge about translation and interpreting and providing easy access to a large range of topics traditions and methods to a relatively broad audience not only students who often adamantly prefer such user friendliness researchers and lecturers in Translation Studies Translation but also scholars and experts from other disciplines among which linguistics sociology history psychology In addition the HTS addresses any of those with a professional or personal interest in the problems of translation interpreting localization editing etc such as communication specialists journalists literary critics editors public servants business managers intercultural organization specialists media specialists marketing professionals Moreover The HTS offers added value First of all it is the first Handbook with this scope in Translation Studies that has both a print edition and an online version The advantages of an online version are obvious it is more flexible and accessible and in addition the entries can be regularly revised and updated The Handbook is variously searchable by article by author by subject A second benefit is the interconnection with the selection and organization principles of the online Translation Studies Bibliography TSB The taxonomy of the TSB has been partly applied to the selection of entries for the HTS Moreover many items in the reference lists are hyperlinked to the TSB where the user can find an abstract of a publication All articles between 500 and 6 000 words are written by specialists in the different subfields and are peer reviewed Last but not least the usability accessibility and flexibility of the HTS depend on the commitment of people who agree that Translation Studies does matter All users are therefore invited to share their feedback Any questions remarks and suggestions for improvement can be sent to the editorial team at hts@lessius.eu Indigenous Cultural Translation Darryl Sterk, 2020-05-01 Indigenous Cultural Translation is about the process that made it possible to film the 2011 Taiwanese blockbuster Seediq Bale in Seediq an endangered indigenous language Seediq Bale celebrates the headhunters who rebelled against or collaborated with the Japanese colonizers at or around a hill station called Musha starting on October 27 1930 while this book celebrates the grandchildren of headhunters rebels and collaborators who translated the Mandarin language screenplay into Seediq in central Taiwan nearly eighty years later As a thick description of Seediq Bale this book describes the translation process in detail showing how the screenwriter included Mandarin translations of Seediq texts recorded during the Japanese era in his screenplay and then how the Seediq translators backtranslated these texts into Seediq changing them significantly It argues that the translators made significant changes to these texts according to the consensus about traditional Seediq culture they have been building in modern Taiwan and that this same consensus informs the interpretation of the Musha Incident and of Seediq culture that they articulated in their

Mandarin Seediq translation of the screenplay as a whole The argument more generally is that in building cultural consensus indigenous peoples like the Seediq are translating their traditions into alternative modernities in settler states around the world
