Globalization Localization And Sustainable Livelihoods:

Globalisation, Localisation and Sustainable Livelihoods Geoffrey Lawrence, Reidar Almas, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 One of the greatest concerns facing the world is how to ensure that sustainable outcomes are generated as globalization proceeds apace Quite simply many people are finding their life chances deteriorating with resistance to globalization being a common response The question is is it possible to guarantee sustainable livelihoods for individuals families and communities as global processes increasingly shape local social relations This volume is a collection of 16 chapters from leading rural sociologists and human geographers based in Europe Australasia and the Americas The book in three parts deals with globalization and food the restructuring of local agriculture and communities and resistance in a globalizing world The introduction to the book compares and contrasts the various experiences of communities in countries such as Australia Brazil Finland Norway South Africa and the United States as they struggle to cope with globalization and its effects Each chapter discusses options to ameliorate the local consequences of global change Globalization, Localization and Sustainable Livelihood Leo J. de Haan, 2003 Globalization and Development Don Kalb, Wil Pansters, Hans Siebers, 2007-05-08 This book is a collective effort on the part of researchers affiliated with the CERES Research School in Development Studies in the Netherlands to discuss a series of themes and concepts crucial to the overlapping fields of globalization and development research While development in the course of the 1980s and 1990s was becoming hinged onto globalization prior approaches to development were increasingly being criticized An impasse was announced by various actors in the field and renewed reflection on some of the basic concepts and methods became inevitable Much of the initial rethinking went under the sign of postmodernism and tended to give priority to micro and actor centered research Later with the emerging discussion on globalization new macro dimensions were added and efforts were launched to articulate local global approaches This book discusses a set of key themes and concepts that reflect these intellectual and historical developments Used by politicians and researchers they reflect the continuing concern about inequality and poverty by students and practitioners of development and contain crucial perspectives for a critical engagement of current globalization processes and their consequences The chapters in this book examine the notions and issues of globalization livelihood identity governance transnationalism and knowledge Encyclopedia Of The Global Economy A Guide For Students And Researchers David E. O connor, 2006 The Companion to Development Studies Vandana Desai, Robert B. Potter, 2008 The Companion to Development Studies is an essential one stop reference for anyone with an interest in development studies Over 100 international experts have been brought together to present a comprehensive overview of the key theoretical and practical issues dominating contemporary development studies Building on the success of the first edition the second edition of the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated and includes new chapters on a range of topics including ageing culture and development corruption and development and global terrorism Each chapter summarises current debates and provides guidance for further reading and research The Companion to Development Studies is indispensable for students of development studies at all levels from undergraduate to postgraduate and beyond in departments of development studies geography politics international relations sociology social anthropology and economics

The State, Non-State Organizations and Livelihood Outcomes in Sub-Saharan Africa Roland Azibo Balgah, Emmanuel Yenshu Vubo, 2024-02-06 The discussion on the role of the state and non state actors in the improvement of livelihoods in Sub Saharan Africa SSA where economic and social development is slowest has been characterized by a disjoint between theory and empirical research This volume sets out to revisit this question by examining the place of the two types of actors in the development process and the increasing influence of public private partnerships in livelihood outcomes The book combines theoretical reflections and empirical studies on a wide variety of initiatives in several domains that seek to improve wellbeing and livelihoods with a focus on the Sub Saharan country of Cameroon The book will provide insights on an area which has been both neglected with the rise of neo liberalism and also revived by the recent introduction of the global development goals

The Caribbean City Rivke Jaffe, 2008 Caribbean cities are a unique yet underexposed phenomenon Their distinctiveness results from a combination of interrelated factors including a history of slavery development under the hemispheric hegemony of the United States and spatial limitations imposed by the settings of most Caribbean urban areas This innovative volume presents a detailed introduction to the spatial socio cultural and economic characteristics of the Caribbean city followed by case studies of selected cities in the Dutch Hispanophone Francophone and Anglophone Caribbean It discusses a broad range of disciplinary approaches in examining the urban Caribbean incorporating perspectives from anthropology sociology history political science geography and literary and cultural criticism

BOOK JACKET The Companion to Development Studies, 2nd Edition Vandana Desai, Robert B Potter, 2013-01-22 The Companion to Development Studies is an essential one stop reference for anyone with an interest in development studies Over 100 international experts have been brought together to present a comprehensive overview of the key theoretical and practical issues dominating contemporary development studies Building on the success of the first edition the second edition of the Companion has been thoroughly revised and updated and includes new chapters on a range of topics including ageing culture and development corruption and development and global terrorism Each chapter summarises current debates and provides guidance for further reading and research The Companion to Development Studies is indispensable for students of development studies at all levels from undergraduate to postgraduate and beyond in departments of development studies geography politics international relations sociology social anthropology and economics

Food Transgressions Michael K. Goodman, Colin Sage, 2016-04-22 Reconnecting so called alternative food geographies back to the mainstream food system especially in light of the discursive and material transgressions currently happening between alternative and conventional food networks this volume critically interrogates and evaluates what stands for food politics in these spaces of transgression now and in the near future and addresses questions such as What constitutes alternative food politics specifically and food politics more generally when organic and other quality foods have become mainstreamed What has been the contribution so far of an alternative food movement and its potential to leverage further progressive change and or make further inroads into conventional systems What are the empirical and theoretical bases for understanding the established and growing transgressions between conventional and alternative food networks Offering a better understanding of the evolving position of the corporate food system vis a vis alternative food networks this book considers the prospects for economic social cultural and material transformations led by an increasingly powerful and legitimated alternative food network

Re-aligning Actors in an Urbanized World I. Baud,J. Post,2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2003 In the 1980s discussions on urban regional and international development were dominated by those advocating liberalism and free markets In the 1990s the experiences of many countries from the previous Soviet Union and those following socialist development models in the South have led to a renewed interest in the democratic institutions that underpin economic development processes Thus the state has come back into focus as an enabler a co ordinating agency working with a variety of other organizations in different forms of partnership aimed at urban and regional development At the same time increasing disparities between rich and poor have led poor urban households to organize collectively against poverty and to promote community and neighbourhood development This title examines how both these processes take place looking at patterns of fundamental re aligning between state civil society and the market in an integrated manner It focuses on urban and regional development because at the local and regional levels the direct interface between local government the local and global market and civil society organizations occurs The question of re alignment is considered from three main perspectives governance and community organization issues at local level urban areas as motors of economic development and their interface with globalization processes and urban areas as the nodes of regional development In each part of the book one of these perspectives is taken The contributions of the different authors are grouped around these complementary perspectives Changing alignment patterns also have far reaching implications In the last section the relation between research and policy around these issues is considered based on reflections by policy makers and academics who have been influential both nationally and internationally

Agricultural Governance Vaughan Higgins,Geoffrey Lawrence,2007-05-07 Food security and sustainability are arguably the most important issues facing the agri food sector at the beginning of a new millennium In an era of globalization where nation states appear to have a diminishing role in governing these matters the existing and emerging power relations underpinning agri food regulation demand renewed scholarly attention Drawing upon the expertise of some of the most prominent writers in rural sociology geography and anthropology this book shows how globalization processes open up a new regulatory politics in which non political forms of governing play an increasingly influential role in shaping agricultural production and consumption The first of its kind to critically and comprehensively examine new forms of governing and regulation this important text explores the relationship between globalization and new sites spaces and agents of agricultural regulation using detailed case studies in developed nations to illustrate points made Demonstrating the political significance of regulatory mechanisms extending beyond the state the book also discusses the consequences for the governing of the agri food sector

School Music Education and Social Change in Mainland China, Hong Kong and Taiwan Wai-chung Ho, 2010-11-19 This book examines recent reforms and innovations in school music education within the changing societies of mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan These three regions share a common historical culture but have had diverse socio political experiences Whilst some musical knowledge is common to all three some is particular to one or two and depends on their responses to globalization localization and national identity This book aims to compare how music education in Shanghai Hong Kong and Taipei has adjusted to the forces of globalization localization and Sinofication It contributes significantly to thinking about education reforms in response to this tripartite paradigm with respect to not only Chinese communities but also to the Asia Pacific Region as a whole

serves as an exploration into the transformative journey undertaken by these creative industries redefining their roles in the global landscape of innovation aesthetics and responsibility Dr Neeru Jain Dr Pallavi Kohli 50 Years of Community Development Vol II Norman Walzer, Rhonda Phillips, Robert Blair, 2021-05-14 This 50th anniversary publication provides a comprehensive history of community development Beginning in 1970 with the advent of the Community Development Society and its journal shortly thereafter Community Development the editors have placed the chapters in major themed areas or issues pertinent to both research and practice of community development The evolution of community development as an area of scholarship and application and the subsequent founding of the discipline is vital to capture At the 50 year mark it is particularly relevant to revisit issues that reoccur throughout the last five decades and look at approaches to addressing them These include issues and themes around equity and inclusion collective impact leadership and policy development as well as resilience and sustainability Community change over time has much to teach us and this set will provide a foundation for fostering understanding of the history of community development and its focus on community change The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Community Development Farming Inside Invisible Worlds Hugh Campbell, 2020-09-03 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com It is funded by the University of Otago New Zealand Farming Inside Invisible Worlds argues that the farm is a key player in the creation and stabilisation of political economic and ecological power particularly in colonised landscapes like New Zealand America and Australia This open access book reviews and rejects the way that farms are characterised in orthodox economics and agricultural science and then shows how re centring the farm using the theoretical idea of political ontology can transform the way we understand the power of farming Starting with the colonial history of farms in New Zealand Hugh Campbell goes on to describe the rise of modernist farming and its often hidden political racial and ecological effects He concludes with an examination of alternative ways to farm in New Zealand showing how the prior histories of colonisation and modernisation reveal important ways to farm differently in post colonial worlds Hugh Campbell s book has wide ranging implications for understanding the role farms play in both our food systems and landscapes and is an exciting new addition to food studies Learning Civil Societies Penelope Cheryl Gurstein, 2007-01-01 This collection explores the theoretical underpinnings of democratic planning and governance in relation to civil society formation and social learning The Handbook of Food Research Anne Murcott, Warren Belasco, Peter Jackson, 2013-08-15 The last 20 years have seen a burgeoning of social scientific and historical research on food The field has drawn in experts to investigate topics such as the way globalisation affects the food supply what cookery books can and cannot tell us changing understandings of famine the social meanings of meals and many more Now sufficiently extensive to require a critical overview this is the first handbook of specially commissioned essays to provide a tour d horizon of this broad range of topics and disciplines The editors have enlisted eminent researchers across the social sciences to illustrate the debates concepts and analytic approaches of this widely diverse and dynamic field This volume will be essential reading a ready to hand reference book surveying the state of the art for anyone involved in and actively concerned about research on the social political economic psychological geographic and historical aspects of food It will cater for all who need to be informed of research that has been done and that is being done

The Neoliberal Regime in the Agri-Food Sector Steven Wolf,Alessandro Bonanno,2013-12-04 For the last three decades the Neoliberal regime emphasising economic growth through deregulation market integration expansion of the private sector and contraction of the welfare state has shaped production and consumption processes in agriculture and food These institutional arrangements emerged from and advanced academic and popular beliefs about the virtues of private market based coordination relative to public state based problem solving This book presents an informed constructive dialogue around the thesis that the Neoliberal mode of governance has reached some institutional and material limits Is Neoliberalism exhausted How should we understand crisis applied to Neoliberalism What are the opportunities and risks linked to the construction of alternatives The book advances a critical evaluation of the evidence supporting claims of rupture of or incursions into the Neoliberal model It also analyzes pragmatic responses to these critiques including policy initiatives social mobilization and experimentation at various scales and points of entry The book surveys and synthesizes a range of sociological frames designed to grapple with the concepts of regimes systemic crisis and transitions Contributions include historical analysis comparative analysis and case studies of food and agriculture from around the globe These highlight particular aspects of crisis and responses including the potential for continued resilience a neo productivist return as well as the emergence and scaling up of alternative models

Empires and Autonomy Stephen Streeter,John Weaver,William D. Coleman,2010-01-01 Globalization is one of the most significant developments of our time But which elements of contemporary globalization and forms of autonomy are novel and which are merely continuations of long standing trends This book brings together a distinguished group of scholars who focus on historical moments that involved the establishment or protection of autonomy moments that inevitably involved friction By examining the dialectic between globalization and autonomy at historical junctures ranging from the Chinese occupation of Tibet in 1720 to the meeting between Reagan and Gorbachev that led to the end of the Cold War this volume provides novel insights into the changes overtaking our contemporary world

Sameness in Diversity Laresh Jayasanker,2020-04-14 Americans of the 1960s would have trouble navigating the grocery aisles and restaurant menus of today Once exotic ingredients like mangoes hot sauces kale kimchi and coconut milk have become standard in the contemporary American diet Laresh Jayasanker explains how food choices have expanded since the 1960s immigrants have created demand for produce and other foods from their homelands grocers and food processors have sought to market new foods and transportation improvements have enabled food companies to bring those foods from afar Yet even as choices within stores have exploded supermarket chains have consolidated Throughout the food industry fewer companies manage production and distribution controlling what American consumers can access Mining a wealth of menus cookbooks trade publications interviews and company records Jayasanker explores Americans changing eating habits to shed light on the impact of immigration and globalization on American culture
