Writing the Global City Anthony D King,2016-04-14 Over the last three decades our understanding of the city worldwide has been revolutionized by three innovative theoretical concepts globalisation postcolonialism and a radically contested notion of modernity The idea and even the reality of the city has been extended out of the state and nation and re positioned in the larger global world In this book Anthony King brings together key essays written over this period much of it dominated by debates about the world or global city Challenging assumptions and silences behind these debates King provides largely ignored historical and cultural dimensions to the understanding of world city formation as well as decline Interdisciplinary and comparative the essays address new ways of framing contemporary themes the imperial and colonial origin of contemporary world and global cities actually existing postcolonialisms claims about urban and cultural homogenisation and the role of architecture and built environment in that process Also addressed are arguments about indigenous and exogenous perspectives Eurocentricism ways of framing vernacular architecture and the global historical sociology of building types Wide ranging and accessible Writing the Global City provides essential historical contexts and theoretical frameworks for understanding contemporary urban and architectural debates Extensive bibliographies will make it essential for teaching reference and research the term imaginary to refer to any ethnic enclave in a nation state that defines itself consciously or unconsciously as a group in displacement He examines the works of key writers many now based across the globe in Canada Australia America and the UK V S Naipaul Salman Rushdie M G Vassanji Shani Mootoo Bharati Mukherjee David Dabydeen Rohinton Mistry and Hanif Kureishi among them to show how they exemplify both the diasporic imaginary and the respective traumas of the old and new Indian diasporas English Writing and India, 1600–1920 Pramod K. Nayar, 2008-03-25 This book explores the formations and configurations of British colonial discourse on India through a reading of prose narratives of the 1600 1920 period Arguing that colonial discourse often relied on aesthetic devices in order to describe and assert a degree of narrative control over Indian landscape Pramod Nayar demonstrates how aesthetics furnished a vocabulary and representational modes for the British to construct particular images of India Looking specifically at the aesthetic modes of the marvellous the monstrous the sublime the picturesque and the luxuriant Nayar marks the shift in the rhetoric from the exploration narratives from the age of mercantile exploration to that of the shikar memoirs of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century s extreme exotic English Writing and India provides an important new study of colonial aesthetics even as it extends current scholarship on the modes of early British representations of new lands and cultures Resisting Occupation Miguel A. De La Torre, Mitri Raheb, 2022-03-14 In Resisting Occupation international scholars discuss the radical denial of human flourishing caused by the occupation of mind body spirit and land They explore how religious perspectives can be and often are constructed by occupiers to justify their actions perpetuate exploitation and domesticate indigenous landholders In the name of Christianization and civilization which has proven to be a global phenomenon beyond time and space a consistent domestication process is established The colonized are taught to want to yearn for and to embrace their occupation seeing themselves through the eyes of their colonizers Writing from different spots around the globe the scholars of this book demonstrate how occupation a synonym for empire is manifested within their social context and reveal unity in their struggle for liberation Recognizing that where there is oppression there is resistance the contributors turn to religion While questioning the logic rationale theology and epistemology of the empire s religion they nonetheless seek the liberative response of resistance at times using the very religion of the occupiers Anticolonial Afterlives in Egypt Sara Salem, 2020-04-30 This study presents an alternative story of the 2011 Egyptian revolution by revisiting Egypt s moment of decolonisation in the mid twentieth century Anticolonial Afterlives in Egypt explores the country s first postcolonial project arguing that the enduring afterlives of anticolonial politics connected to questions of nationalism military rule capitalist development and violence are central to understanding political events in Egypt today Through an imagined conversation between Antonio Gramsci and Frantz Fanon two foundational theorists of anti capitalism and anticolonialism Anticolonial Afterlives in Egypt focuses on issues of resistance revolution mastery and liberation to show how the Nasserist project created by Gamal Abdel Nasser and the Free Officers in 1952 remains the only instance of hegemony in modern Egyptian history In suggesting that Nasserism was made possible through local regional and global anticolonial politics even as it reproduced colonial ways of governing that continue to reverberate into Egypt's present this interdisciplinary study thinks through questions of traveling theory global politics and resistance and revolution in the postcolonial world Seeking the Common Dreams between the Worlds Yan Wang, Yali Zhao, 2013-06-01 This is the first book that probes the lived experiences of Chinese immigrant faculty in North American higher education institutions their struggles challenges successes etc It explores how their past experiences in China have shaped who they are now what they do and how they pursue their teaching research and service as well as the reality of their everyday life that inevitably intertwines with their present and past diverse cultural backgrounds and unique experiences Different from previous books that explore immigrant minority faculty defined ambiguously and broadly and from the theoretical framework of ethnic relations this book has a particular focus on mainland Chinese immigrant faculty which offers a richer and deeper understanding of their cross culture experiences through autoethnographic research and by multiple lenses Through authors vivid portrayal of the ebbs and flows of their life in the academe readers will gain an enjoyable and holistic knowledge of the cultural political linguistic scholarly and personal issues contemporary Chinese immigrant faculty encounter as they cross the border of multiple worlds All contributors to this book had the experience of being the first generation Chinese immigrants and they either are currently teaching or used to teach in North American higher education institutions who were born brought up educated in Mainland China and came to North America for graduate degrees from early 1980s to 2000

Migration and Integration in Singapore Yap Mui Teng, Gillian Koh, Debbie Soon, 2014-10-30 Between 2000 and 2010 Singapore witnessed a huge influx of foreign migrants The proportion of permanent residents in the total population increased from 7% to 11% while the share of non resident foreigners has risen from 19% to 25% This was as much the result of the spontaneous movement of labour to economic opportunities as it was of active policy direction by the Singapore government The social impact both beneficial and disruptive of this movement was felt at all levels of society and brought other attending public policy issues to the fore Taking a multi disciplinary approach with a focus on policy and practice this book examines the social economic and political issues that have arisen with the influx of foreigners in Singapore since the turn of the 21st century Drawing on empirical research it documents the impact of increasing levels of immigration and provides an analysis of the longer term implications of these trends with each chapter covering a different aspect of socio cultural political or economic outcome arising from intercultural contact and adaptation The contributors also provide policy suggestions to ensure Singapore continues to be a harmonious nation and a cosmopolitan and vibrant global city Migration and Integration in Singapore Policies and Practice will appeal to students and scholars of Southeast Asian studies migration and social policy as well as to practitioners and policy makers with an interest in migration in the region

Human Rights in the Twentieth Century Stefan-Ludwig Hoffmann, 2010-12-13 Has there always been an inalienable right to have rights as part of the human condition as Hannah Arendt famously argued The contributions to this volume examine how human rights came to define the bounds of universal morality in the course of the political crises and conflicts of the twentieth century Although human rights are often viewed as a self evident outcome of this history the essays collected here make clear that human rights are a relatively recent invention that emerged in contingent and contradictory ways Focusing on specific instances of their assertion or violation during the past century this volume analyzes the place of human rights in various arenas of global politics providing an alternative framework for understanding the political and legal dilemmas that these conflicts presented In doing so this volume captures the state of the art in a field that historians have only recently begun to explore

Contesting Grand Narratives of the Intercultural Adrian Holliday, 2021-12-24 Contesting Grand Narratives of the Intercultural uses an autoethnographic account of the author's experience of living in Iran in the 1970s to demonstrate the constant struggle to prevent the intercultural from being dominated by essentialist grand narratives that falsely define us within separate bounded national or civilisational cultures This book provides critical insight that DeCentres how we encounter and research the intercultural by means of a third space methodology Recovers the figurative creative flowing and boundary dissolving power of culture Recognises hybrid integration which enables us the choice and agency to be ourselves with others in intercultural settings Demonstrates how early native speakerism pulls us back to essentialist large culture blocks Aimed at students and researchers in applied linguistics intercultural studies sociology and education this volume shows how cultural difference in stories personal space language practices and values generates unexpected and transcendent threads of experience to which we can all relate within small culture formation on the go
