Globalization The Internal Dynamic:

Globalization Paul Kirkbride, Karen Ward, 2001-10-08 With a cast of international contributors the two Wiley titles on globalisation provide a practical guide to the impact of globalisation for people working in global companies The titles cover the internal and external aspects of globalisation

The SAGE Handbook of Organizational Discourse David Grant, 2004-08-24 Providing an overview of domains such as study methodologies and perspectives used in research this text shows how discourse analysis has moved beyond its roots in literary theory to become an important approach in the study of organizations

Globalization and the Human Factor Joseph Mensah, 2018-01-18 Since the 1980s the world has experienced an unprecedented push towards economic political social cultural financial and technological integration This integration is a key element of the process of globalization Much of this revolves around the tensions and conflicts inherent in globalization with emphasis on political economy but at the expense of the human factor HF which places people at the centre of all discussions about globalization This volume brings the HF into the debate and examines to what extent this hitherto marginalized concept holds the key to providing a holistic understanding and contestation of globalization The volume develops a distinct concept or framework of the human factor examines the role and significance in global change from an interdisciplinary perspective analyzes the extent and significance in contemporary globalization discourse and provokes further debate about the unresolved disputes surrounding globalization The account will help readers navigate the minefields of the globalization debate

Globalization, 3rd Edition Eleonore Kofman, Gillian Youngs, 2008-01-01 This fully revised textbook focuses on the major topics of globalization

Strategic Learning and Leading Change Stephen John, 2009 Structured in 3 parts this title discusses the globalization of businesses and its impact on their strategy structure operating processes and culture It also shows how global companies are reinventing Human Resources and examines the role of the HR function in today's global organizations

Understanding the Dynamics of Global Inequality Alexander Lenger, Florian Schumacher, 2014-12-03 Despite the fact that the globalization process tends to reinforce existing inequality structures and generate new areas of inequality on multiple levels systematic analyses on this very important field remain scarce Hence this book approaches the complex question of inequality not only from different regional perspectives covering Africa Asia Europe Latin and Northern America but also from different disciplinary perspectives namely cultural anthropology economics ethnology geography international relations sociology and political sciences The contributions are subdivided into three essential fields of research Part I analyzes the socio economic dimension of global exclusion highlighting in particular the impacts of internationalization and globalization processes on national social structures against the background of theoretical concepts of social inequality Part II addresses the political dimension of global inequalities Since the decline of the Soviet Union new regional powers like Brazil China India and South Africa have emerged creating power shifts in international relations that are the primary focus of the second part Lastly Part III examines the structural and transnational dimension of inequality patterns which can be concretized in the rise of globalized national elites and the emergence of multinational networks that transcend the geographical and imaginative borders of nation states Globalization and the Race for Resources Stephen G. Bunker, Paul S. Ciccantell, 2005-11-11 Drawing from extensive historical research into how economic and environmental dynamics interacted in the extraction of different materials in the Amazon especially in the development of the iron mine of Carajas the authors illustrate the profound connection between global dominance and control of natural resources Globalization and the Circumpolar North Lassi Heininen, Chris Southcott, 2010-05-15 The circumpolar north has long been the subject of conflicting national aspirations and border disputes and with the end of the cold war and the coming era of potential resource scarcity its importance will only grow over the next several decades Anticipating that renewed prominence Globalization and the Circumpolar North brings together an array of scholars to explore the effects of this increased attention from the new opportunities offered by globalization to the potential damage to long isolated northern communities and peoples Globalization: The nation-state and international relations Roland Robertson, Kathleen E. White, 2003 Containing articles on approaches to and theories of globalization this collection addresses the making of the modern world from different disciplinary perspectives This set investigates the major components of globalization in its most comprehensive sense the nation state and the system of international relations the question of self identity and the individual in the globalization process human rights citizenship and the environment institutional questions including matters of media communication education tourism multinational corporations migration and intercultural communication New introductions and a thorough index make this work an indispensable research tool

Understanding and Regulating the Market at a Time of Globalization H. Dumez, A. Jeunemaître, 1999-12-08 How does a market globalize How do antitrust and trade policies speed up or slow down the process How do firms take part in it The book offers a comprehensive appraisal of the phenomenon from a thorough study of the cement industry Considered as a model of spatial competition in economic textbooks and inherently local the industry globalized in the 1980s Hence the originality of the book to deal with an extreme case that highlights the fundamental characteristics of globalization

Globalization's Contradictions Dennis Conway, Nik Heynen, 2006-11-22 Introduces a critical perspective on debates surrounding globalization for advanced undergraduate and masters students Broad in scope scrutinizing political economic geopolitical political cultural and alternative visions of globalization Points the way towards future global geographies that are more inclusive and equitable Strong line of contributors including John Agnew Dennis Conway and Don Mitchell

Globalization and Social Change Diane Perrons, 2004 Taking a refreshing new perspective on globalization and widening social and spatial inequalities this significant text is illustrated through a series of case studies linking people in rich and poor countries Globalization and Autocentricity in Africa's Development in the 21st Century Kidane Mengisteab, 1996 African economies are the most dependent and the most marginalised in the global system Prevailing policies to integrate these economies more closely with the global economy are in the view of many misplaced and this work presents a series of alternative strategies that will tap the energies of the African people to develop their own potential and reduce their dependence on World Bank IMF led approaches

National Policy in a Global Economy I. Budge, S. Birch, 2014-11-21 This study offers an analysis of the UK's current economic policy options and a plan for improving life for ordinary citizens via a sensible and realistic understanding of governments limited ability to manage economic performance It provides a manifesto which political parties could immediately adopt to make life better for all

Globalization, the IMF, and International Banks in Argentina Christian Hernandez, 2019-08-27 This book examines how the ideas interests and biases of international financial institutions private banks and the press affect economic and political change during periods of crisis It suggests that the monetary and financial trials of Argentina then and now serve as a microcosm for the Western world's current backlash against globalization

Intelligent Cities and Globalisation of Innovation Networks Nicos Komninos, 2008-07-17 Intelligent Cities and Globalisation of Innovation Networks combines concepts and theories from the fields of urban development and planning innovation management and virtual intelligent environments It explains the rise of intelligent cities with respect to the globalisation of systems of innovation opens up a new way for making intelligent

The Globalization and Environment Reader Pete Newell, J. Timmons Roberts, 2016-03-31 The Globalization and Environment Reader features a collection of classic and cutting edge readings that explore whether and how globalization can be made compatible with sustainable development Offers a comprehensive collection of nearly 30 classic and cutting edge readings spanning a broad range of perspectives within this increasingly important field Addresses the question of whether economic globalization is the prime cause of the destruction of the global environment or if some forms of globalization could help to address global environmental problems Features carefully edited extracts selected both for their importance and their accessibility Covers a variety of topics such as the marketization of nature debates about managing and governing the relationship between globalization and the environment and discussions about whether or not globalization should be greened Systematically captures the breadth and diversity of the field without assuming prior knowledge Offers a timely and necessary insight into the future of our fragile planet in the 21st century

Globalisation And Information Technology M.L. Narasaiah, 2005 Many view of globalisation as a technology driven global order that has led to an intensification of interconnectedness among nations This however is merely one fact of globalisation and does not presuppose the ideological homogenization or the rapid retrenchment of the welfare state that is currently underway The dispute over globalisation is not about the intensification of global interconnectedness Rather it is over the vision of the global system that globalisation projects This vision entails a global economic system with identifiable rules of behaviour in trade finance taxation investment policy intellectual property rights and currency convertibility all of which are crafted along neo liberal principles with minimal governmental regulation This global system represents a new phase of capitalism which is more universal more unchallenged more pure and more unadulterated than even before For many critics globalisation is essentially an anti democratic process that excludes the interests of a wide range of groups But the process is not shaped by market forces alone It is only made possible by the acquiescence if not active support of governments especially those in advanced countries Governments in developing countries meanwhile are often said to be unable to stand up to globalisation without incurring severe costs the government of South Africa for example could be punished by capital flight if it insists on implementing its agenda of social reform The masses of South Africa however are likely to sustain heavier costs if the government abandons its reforming mandate Faced with such a dilemma governments have generally selected the side of capital for a simple reason

Globalisation and Economic Development M.L. Narasaiah,2008      Politics and

Globalisation Martin Shaw,2003-09-02 Globalisation is widely understood as a set of processes driven by technological economic and cultural change Few have successfully defined the changing character and role of politics in global change Political institutions such as the nation state have been seen as undermined by globalisation or needing to respond to it This book clarifies the tensions which global change has provoked in our understanding of politics Politics and Globalisation suggests that globalisation is a process which is politically contested and even politically constituted The volume presents five key intellectual and political contests in globalisation the extent and political significance of globalising changes in economy and society how and how far the relations and forms of nation state organisation are transformed whether the given concepts and methods of political science as a discipline can be applied to global and regional politics and whether they require radical reformulation the role and significance of ethical questions in global change whether global change is constituted by or denies radical political agency
