Stroud,2016-06-01 Although the rate of gun ownership in U S households has declined from an estimated 50 percent in 1970 to approximately 32 percent today Americans propensity for carrying concealed firearms has risen sharply in recent years Today more than 11 million Americans hold concealed handgun licenses an increase from 4.5 million in 2007 Yet despite increasing numbers of firearms and expanding opportunities for gun owners to carry concealed firearms in public places we know little about the reasons for obtaining a concealed carry permit or what a publicly armed citizenry means for society Angela Stroud draws on in depth interviews with permit holders and on field observations at licensing courses to understand how social and cultural factors shape the practice of obtaining a permit to carry a concealed firearm Stroud s subjects usually first insist that a gun is simply a tool for protection but she shows how much more the license represents possessing a concealed firearm is a practice shaped by race class gender and cultural definitions that separate good guys from those who represent threats Stroud s work goes beyond the existing literature on guns in American culture most of which concentrates on the effects of the gun lobby on public policy and perception Focusing on how respondents view the world around them this book demonstrates that the value gun owners place on their firearms is an expression of their sense of self and how they see their social environment Establish the Work of Our Hands Ron Polinder,2022-04-05 This did not start out to be a memoir rather a compilation of professional and opinion writing to one day be read by our children and grandchildren Early in the process it became clear that some chronology was needed to give background and context Thus a memoir plus Still intended for the extended family it is full of stories and perspectives from two different cultures and geographies different decades and histories This will also be of interest to a general audience who may not read the whole book but will enjoy reading in the book Polinder writes with voice to know him will be to hear him telling his stories Honest insightful warm and funny you will learn much about leadership relationship and partnership most often with a smile A River Bend Doug Knight,2013-08 Josh Crockett a thirty three year old psychologist and author travels back home to Melo Indiana at the request of his high school best friend Paul Palato Having read Josh s book Living Faith Paul invites Josh to come for an extended visit and teach the church's youth the concepts found in the book. Because it is the church his father founded and where Josh grew up and because Paul is still one of his closest friends, Josh decides to answer Paul's invitation. Josh involves himself in the lives of several people in Melo, such as Marcy James, who has inherited several businesses in Melo, including the Riverbend Apartments, where Josh and Marcy both reside. Their chance meeting and subsequent other meetings grow into a very strong bond of friendship. Desmond Niemeier, the head deacon at the church, believes Josh Crockett is too good to be true. He works to uncover dark secrets from Josh's past and exposes suspicious behavior, such as the hours Josh spends with Marcy since his return back to Melo, Indiana. Josh questions why God allows this to happen. He also struggles with whether his true feelings for Marcy James are love or physical attraction. Josh feels that God is pulling him in two directions by giving him good opportunities to stay in Melo and equally noble motives to return to his home and practice in Corona, Florida. How will he know which is God's will? What is to become of Marcy and Josh?

Raising Boys without Men Dr. Peggy Drexler, Linden Gross, 2005-08-20

Nominated for a Books for a Better Life Award in Parenting. Backed by peer-reviewed research, this hotly debated bestseller from the San Francisco Chronicle continues to open eyes with its finding that raising thriving, emotionally healthy sons does not require a man in the house. As the number of single mom and two mom households has grown, so have concerns about the possible damage caused by the lack of a stable male role model in the house. Determined to find the truth, research psychologist Peggy Drexler embarked on a long-term study comparing boys raised in nontraditional families with those whose fathers were present throughout their childhood. The results were startling: Female-headed households can provide even better parenting for boys than households with men. Sons from female-headed families can grow up emotionally stronger and more well-rounded than boys from traditional mother-father families, more in touch with their feelings yet masculine in all the ways defined by our culture.
