God Aboveground Eriberto P. Lozada, 2001 This ethnographic study of a Chinese Catholic village reveals how the rapid penetration of transnational processes into the People's Republic of China during the post Mao period has redefined and created new social and cultural structures in rural communities In examining the resurfacing of a Catholic community in a Hakka village in Jiaoling county Guangdong the book shows what it means to be part of a global and modern rural village The Hakka are members of a Chinese diasporic group that in the past few decades have mobilized international campaigns to strengthen ethnic solidarity After surviving campaigns of persecution in the Maoist era Catholic villagers incorporated their village church into the state religious administrative structure while remaining faithful to Catholic traditions They managed this transformation despite a multiplicity of national and transnational processes that might have deterred them the privatization of local sectors of the socialist economy the global movement of people as workers students and tourists and the swift modernization of Chinese production and consumption Through a close examination of life cycle rituals such as weddings baptisms and funerals and community wide events such as the building of a new church and a celebration of Christmas the author shows how Catholic villagers pursued strategies to make their imagined futures a reality For these villagers Chinese Catholicism has defined a deterritorialized community s boundaries while simultaneously connecting them to the rest of the world through an international religious tradition Managing God's Higher Learning Dong Wang, 2007-01-01 As the first co educational institution of higher learning in China Lingnan University made monumental strides in the education of Christian women and it created a viable alternative to traditional Chinese models Wang contends that Lingnan University found ways to adapt and layer a Christian presence at a time when the nationalization and secularization of higher education was making rapid headway At the Frontier of God's Empire Ji Li,2023 To a lively cast of international players that shaped Manchuria during the early twentieth century At the Frontier of God's Empire adds the remarkable story of Alfred Marie Caubri re 1876 1948 A French Catholic missionary Caubri re arrived in Manchuria on the eve of the Boxer Uprising in 1899 and was murdered on the eve of the birth of the People's Republic of China in 1948 Living with ordinary Chinese people for half a century Caubri re witnessed the collapse of the Qing empire the warlord s chaos that followed the rise and fall of Japanese Manchukuo and the emergence of communist China Caubri re s incredible personal archive on which Ji Li draws extensively opens a unique window into everyday interaction between Manchuria's grassroots society and international players His gripping accounts personalize the Catholic Church's expansion in East Asia and the interplay of missions and empire in local society Through Caubri re s experience At the Frontier of God s Empire examines Chinese people at social and cultural margins during this period A wealth of primary sources family letters and visual depictions of village scenes illuminate vital issues in modern Chinese history such as the transformation of local society mass migration and religion tensions between church and state and the importance of cross cultural exchanges in everyday life in Chinese Catholic communities This intense transformation of Manchurian society embodies the clash of both domestic and international tensions in the making of modern China Sinicizing Christianity, 2017-04-18 Chinese people have been instrumental in indigenizing Christianity Sinizing Christianity examines Christianity's transplantation to and transformation in China by focusing on three key elements Chinese agents of introduction Chinese redefinition of Christianity for the local context and Chinese institutions and practices that emerged and enabled indigenisation As a matter of fact Christianity is not an exception but just one of many foreign ideas and religions which China has absorbed since the formation of the Middle Kingdom Buddhism and Islam are great examples Few scholars of China have analysed and synthesised the process to determine whether there is a pattern to the ways in which Chinese people have redefined foreign imports for local use and what insight Christianity has to offer Contributors are Robert Entenmann Christopher Sneller Yugin Huang Wai Luen Kwok Thomas Harvey Monica Romano Thomas Coomans Chris White Dennis Ng Ruiwen Chen and Richard Madsen before the Dawn Richard R. Cook, 2021-11-02 The Christian church was always destined to find its way to China Long before the birth of the church China existed coalescing around profound philosophical concepts and powerful cultural symbols It developed into a dynamic and enduring civilization In time Christian missionaries arrived on its shores driven to bring the gospel to this people This book starts with the story of that journey the arrival of the missionaries who planted the seeds of the gospel in Chinese soil As the seeds sprouted and grew a new story of a unique and distinct Chinese church began The epic narrative opens from uncertain beginnings in darkness passes through intense hardship and years of struggle and culminates with the triumphal emergence of the Chinese church from the shadows into the light of the global stage Concordance to the Poems of Robert Browning, A Concordance to the Poems of Robert Browning Leslie Nathan Broughton, Benjamin Franklin Stelter, 1924 Negotiating the Christian Past in China Jifeng Liu, 2023-08-01 At the turn of the twenty first century Xiamen s pursuit of World Heritage Site designation from UNESCO stimulated considerable interest in the city's Christian past History enthusiasts both Christian and non Christian devoted themselves to reinterpreting the legacy of missionaries and challenged official narratives of Christianity's troubled associations with Western imperialism In this book Jifeng Liu documents the tension that has inevitably emerged between the established official history and these popular efforts This volume elucidates the ways in which Christianity has become an integral part of Xiamen a Chinese city profoundly influenced by Western missionaries Drawing on extensive interviews locally produced histories and observations of historical celebrations Liu provides an intimate portrait of the people who navigate ideological issues to reconstruct a Christian past reproduce religious histories and redefine local power structures in the shadow of the state Liu makes a compelling argument that a Christian past is being constructed that combines official frameworks unofficial practices and nostalgia into social memory a realm of dynamic negotiation that is neither dominated by the authoritarian state nor characterized by popular resistance In this way Negotiating the Christian Past in China illustrates the complexities of memory and missions in shaping the city's cultural landscape church state dynamics and global aspirations This groundbreaking study assumes a perspective of globalization and localization in both the past and the present to better understand Chinese Christianity in a local national and global context It will be welcomed by scholars of religious studies and world Christianity and by those interested in the church state relationship in China God's Glorious Grace Carlston Jackson, 2020-10-27 Ray Jackson did all the things boys in his low income neighborhood did growing up Sometimes that led him into trouble After turning sixteen he realized he did not have a plan for his life and he joined the Army Shortly thereafter he was sent to Vietnam and found himself in the center of hell When he was hospitalized and physically dead he heard a voice say to him Go back and help people It turns out that Vietnam was the place God wanted him to be to get his attention and set him on a new path Once back home he was not the person he was before as he suffered from post traumatic stress disorder and had difficulty communicating with others including his family But through God's grace he was able to confront his problems Join the author as he looks back at the horrors of war and celebrates God's incredible power in this heartfelt XCVI.
