God And The World:

God's World and the Great Awakening Stephen R. L. Clark, 1991 In God's World and the Great Awakening Professor Clark's main concern is with the way we can turn aside to the Truth from the normal delusions of self concern He restates a traditional Neoplatonic metaphysics as the proper context for scientific and religious practice and defends a serious Platonic realism against both scientism and anti realism Neither scientism which identifies Truth with what can be revealed to the objectifying gaze nor fashionable anti realism which equates Truth simply with what we choose to take seriously offer an adequate ground for our scientific or religious faith The primary faith of humankind is that there is a real world which is more than an obsequious shadow of our desires and fancies and this real world can be discovered through right reason The defence of this faith requires a properly worked Platonic metaphysic of just the kind discernible in Christian orthodoxy The other two volumes are Civil Peace and Sacred Order 1989 and A Parliament of Souls 1990 God in the World Jacob Neusner, Bruce D. Chilton, 2004-04-08 The authors address the issue of God in this world which in the classical documents of formative Judaism encompasses the diverse ways in which we meet God in the here and now The counterpart in Christianity is meeting God in the incarnation of Jesus Christ As heirs to the common scripture of ancient Israel both Judaism and Christianity identify humanity as the worldly image of God The two traditions concur that since we are made in God's image we see God in the face of one another The conception of incarnation is therefore as Judaic as it is Christian The point of difference between the two becomes clear when we ask how incarnation is realized This book is the final volume in a trilogy Previously published volumes include Revelation The Torah and the Bible and The Body of Faith Israel and the Church

The Home of God (Theology for the Life of the World) Miroslav Volf, Ryan McAnnally-Linz, 2022-09-27 We live in the midst of a crisis of home It is evident in the massive uprooting and migration of millions across the globe in the anxious nationalism awaiting immigrants in their destinations in the unhoused populations in wealthy cities in the fractured households of families and in the worldwide destruction of habitats and international struggles for dominance It is evident perhaps more quietly but just as truly in the aching sense that there is nowhere we truly belong In this moment the Christian faith has been disappointingly inept in its response We need a better witness to the God who created loves and reconciles this world who comes to dwell among us This book tells the story of everything in which God creates the world as the home for humans and for God in communion with God's creatures The authors render the story of creation redemption and consummation through the lens of God's homemaking work and show the theological fruit of telling the story this way The result is a vision that can inspire creative Christian living in our various homes today in faithfulness to God's ongoing work God's World and Our Place in It Fulton John Sheen, 2003 Bishop Fulton Sheen explains it all Bishop Sheen shows that Christianity makes good sense even to nonbelievers Indeed Christianity alone can explain goodness and evil in the world it alone makes sense of our impulses to love and sacrifice and our failures to do so God's Action in the World Marek Slomka, 2021-04-22 The problem of God's action in the world is at the heart of debates today on the relationship between science and religion. By analysing the issue through the lens of analytic philosophy, Marek Slomka reveals how philosophy can successfully bridge science and theology to bring greater clarity to divine action. This book identifies essential aspects from various branches of theism, starting with traditional Thomistic approaches through to their modified forms such as Molinism and contemporary varieties such as free will theism and probabilistic theism. Analysing crucial elements of God's nature including omnipotence, omniscience, his relation to time and the tension between immanence and transcendence, Slomka reveals the difficulties in proposing a single conception of God through one theistic tradition. Instead of simplistically juxtaposing particular theistic trends, he highlights the value of pluralistic insights that also draw on important scientific theories including Darwin's evolution, quantum mechanics and cosmology. By taking a renewed stance on theism that takes into account modern scientific knowledge, Slomka argues for a new presentation of the problem of God's action in the world. Life in God's World Life

No String Puppets* Jane Lee-Barker, 2022-11-17 We live in a world facing many crises: pandemics, climate and environmental challenges, human rights abuses and threats of totalitarian regimes. Romano Guardini (1885-1968), a major influencer of Pope Benedict XVI and Pope Francis, worked through one of the most difficult periods of German history, the first half of the twentieth century. What does he have to say to these challenges and how is his notion of providence relevant today? Jane Lee Barker shows how Guardini's insight and deep thought on God's providence weave their way through his work, enabling the reader to fully appreciate God's world. In relationship with God, the human person is invited to participate in responsible care for the world while responding to their own vocational call from the God who sustains him or her. God's World of Good and Evil Timothy Wood, 2004-10 Mormonism will soon become one of the major religions of the world.
