Landscapes of the New West Krista Comer, 1999 In the early 1970s empowered by the civil rights and women's movements a new group of women writers began speaking to the American public Their topic broadly defined was the postmodern American West By the mid 1980s their combined works made for a bona fide literary groundswell in both critical and commercial terms However as Krista Comer notes despite the attentions of publishers the media and millions of readers literary scholars have rarely addressed this movement or its writers Too many critics Comer argues still enamored of western images that are both masculine and antimodern have been slow to reckon with the emergence of a new far more feminine postmodern multiracial and urban west Here she calls for a redesign of the field of western cultural studies one that engages issues of gender and race and is more self-conscious about space itself_ especially that cherished symbol of western authenticity open landscape Surveying works by Joan Didion Wanda Coleman Maxine Hong Kingston Leslie Marmon Silko Barbara Kingsolver Pam Houston Louise Erdrich Sandra Cisneros and Mary Clearman Blew Comer shows how these and other contemporary women writers have mapped new geographical imaginations upon the cultural and social spaces of today's American West

Seriously Funny Barbara Hamby, David Kirby, 2010 Can serious poetry be funny Chaucer and Shakespeare would say yes and so do the authors of these 187 poems that address timeless concerns but that also include comic elements Beginning with the Beats and the New York School and continuing with both marquee name poets and newcomers Seriously Funny ranges from poems that are capsized by their own tomfoolery to those that glow with quiet wit to ones in which a laugh erupts in the midst of terrible darkness Most of the selections were made in the editors' battered compact car otherwise known as the Seriously Funny Mobile Unit During the two years in which Barbara Hamby and David

Kirby made their choices they'd set out with a couple of boxes of books in the back seat and whoever wasn't driving read to the other. When they found that a poem made both of them think but laugh as well they earmarked it. Readers will find a true generosity in these poems an eagerness to share ideas and emotions and also to entertain. The singer Ali Farka Touré said that honey is never good when it's only in one mouth and the editors of Seriously Funny hope its readers find much to share with others.
